DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RECREATE THESE PROCEDURES AT HOME!

"Fleshlight Pet®" is a trademark owned by Your Perfect Pet and cannot be used by third parties without authorization.

As popularity and amount of pet angels increase, pet customization too becomes more and more common.

S4d
Squid

21521

Aside from the typical aesthetic changes, customizing a pet can make taking care of it a much easier ordeal.

Needing to train and spend hours taking care of is a thing of the past for many, and it can be for you too!

Thanks to advancement in both magical and scientific fields, we have countless options to make your pet angel fit your needs perfectly.

It might be all too overwhelming for an inexperienced demon. Because of this, we at Your Perfect Pet have developed the perfect beginner package, the "Fleshlight Pet"

We all know most of us either don't have the time or just don't want to go to the trouble of training their new, often unruly pets.

Some hire trainers or buy them pre-trained, but what if we told you there is a cheaper*, and way more convenient way?

*when compared to long term expenses

S4d
Squid

In this pamphlet, we'll tell you how we go about making our signature Fleshlight Pets!

The first step is to tourniquet the limbs so the pet won't bleed out and die once we cut them.

This type of customization can technically be done on any pet angel, however, for those with really low ranked regen magic, this next part is especially dangerous and death is a things that can happen.

S4d
Squid

To avoid this, we only accept pets ranked B+ or higher for these procedures. If your pet doesn't fit this criteria we'll be happy to provide different mods or even take it in in exchange for a discount on a new one.

We always make sure to buy new, strong angel pets every time a market season comes around, so we always have a good stock of pets in-house.

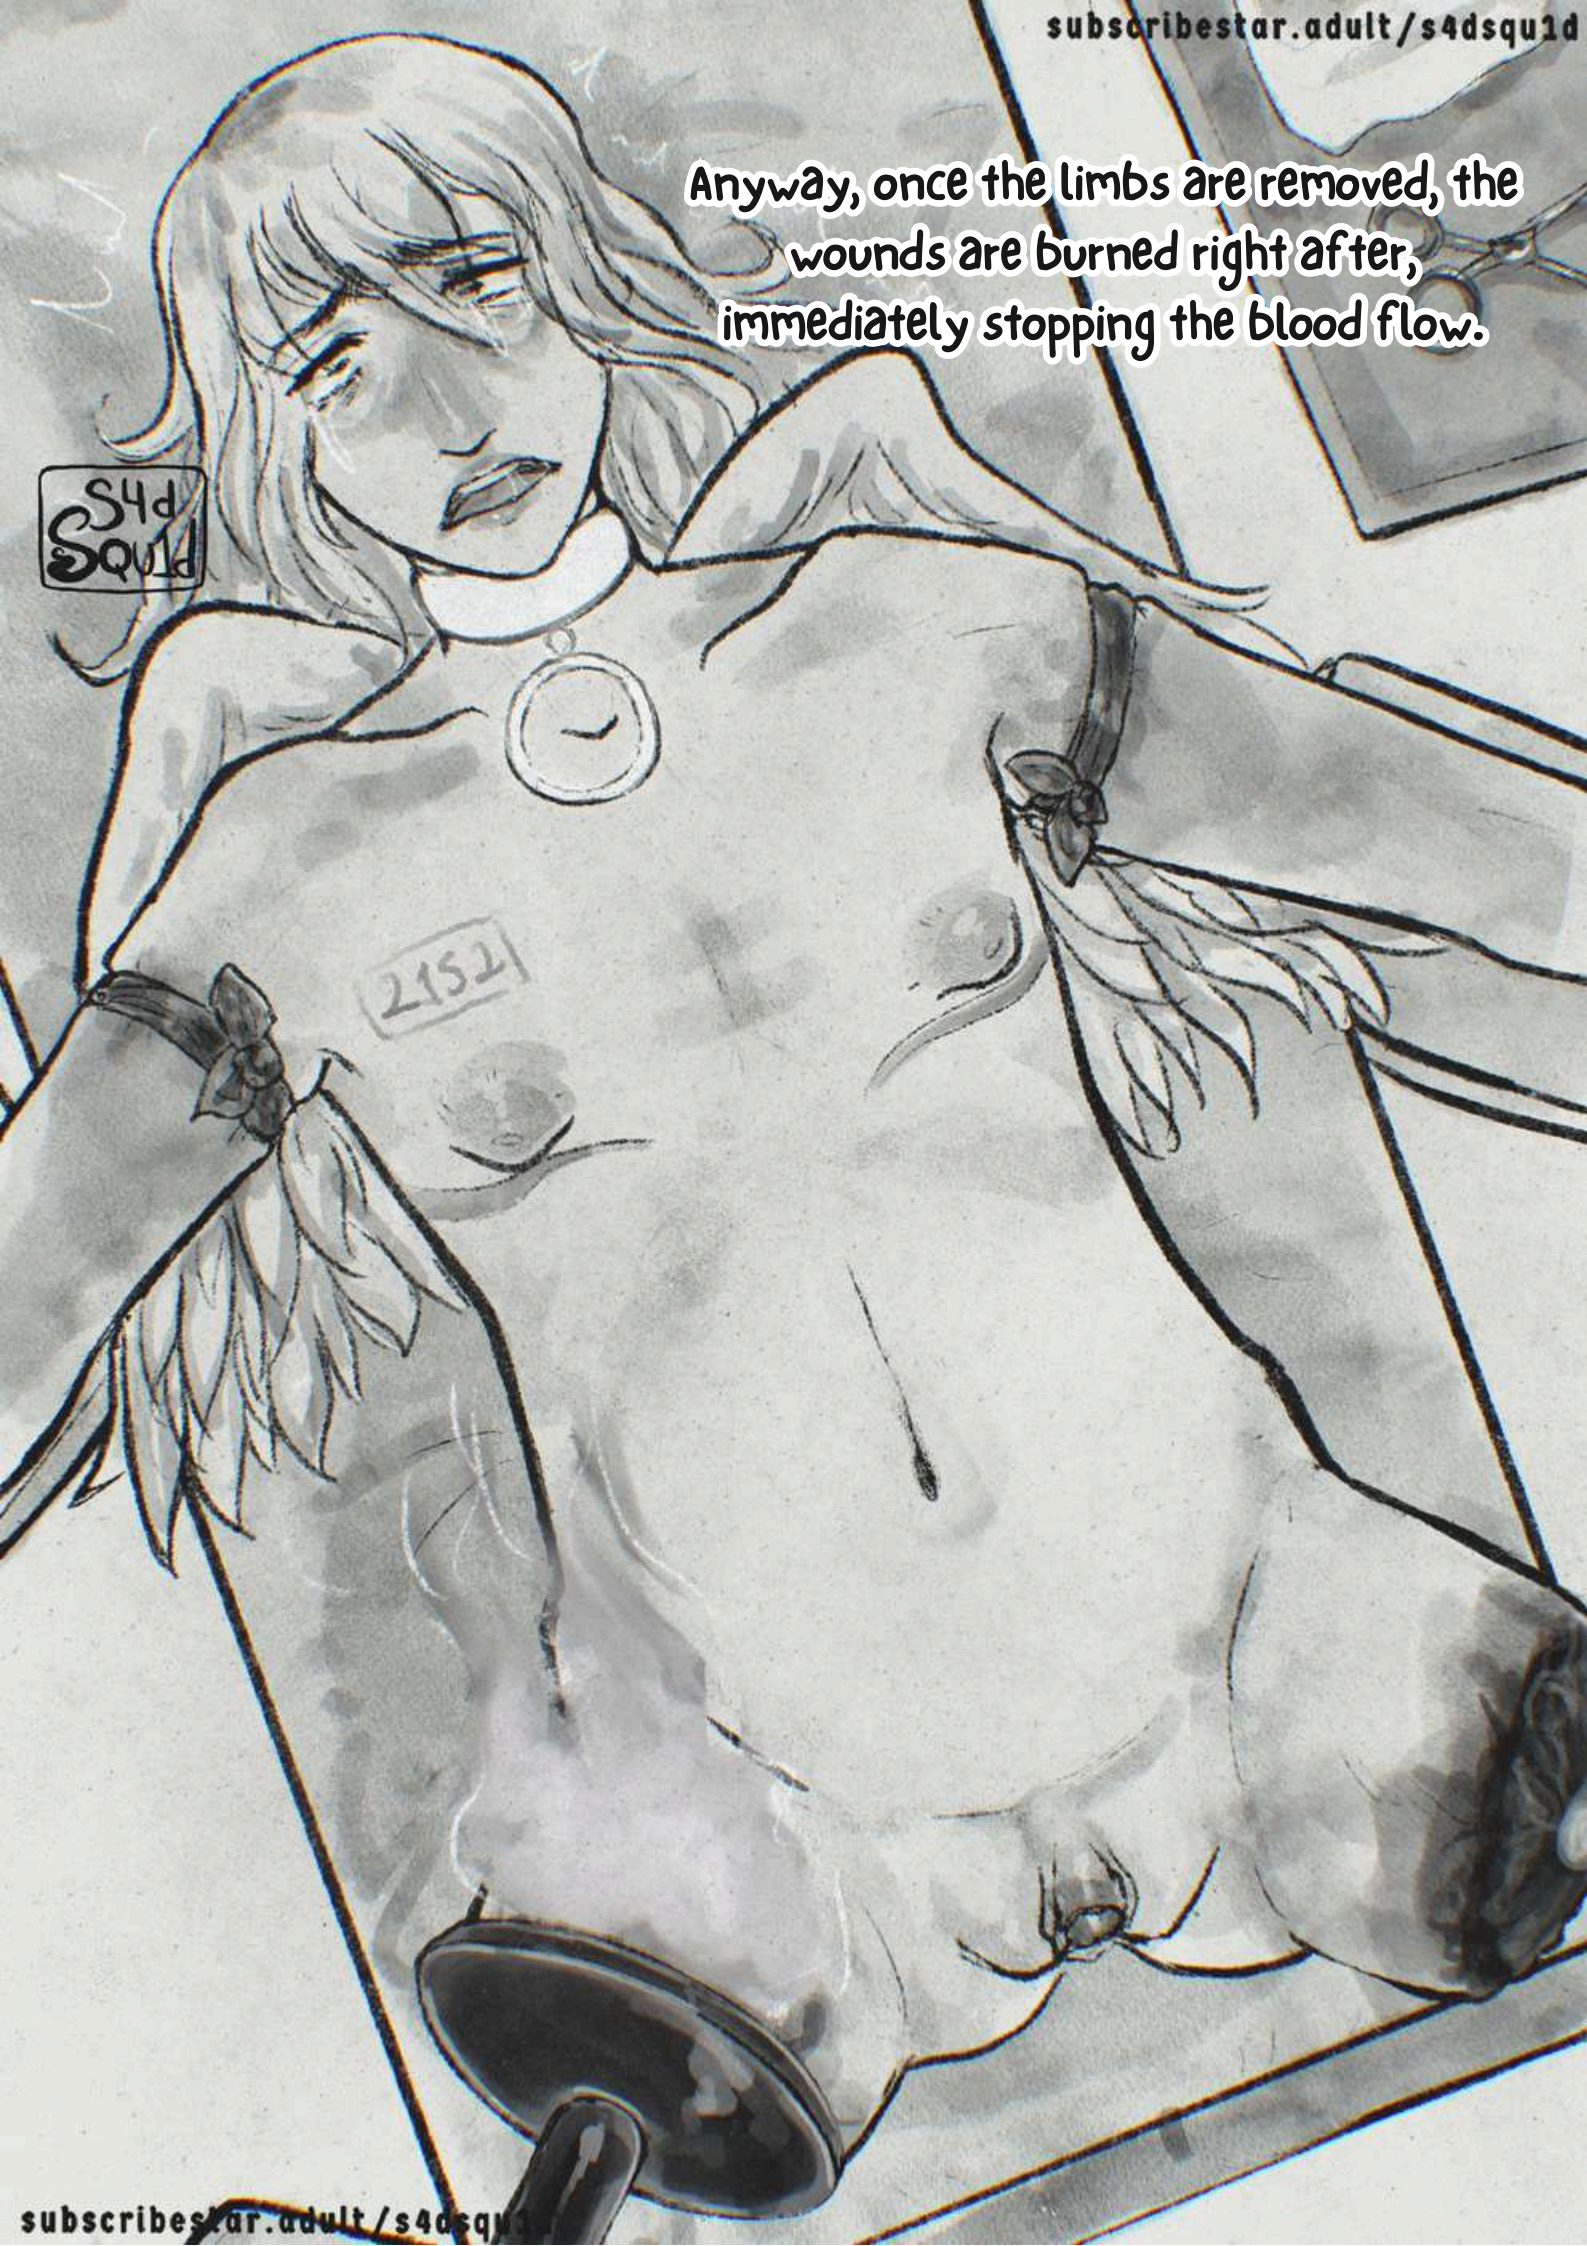

S4d
Squid

2152

They all come brand new and you won't even have to go through the trouble of traveling all the way to the market yourself!

Anyway, once the limbs are removed, the wounds are burned right after, immediately stopping the blood flow.

S4d
SQUID

This is common knowledge, but for those that don't know, the collar in a pet angel is for more than just aesthetics. It's actually a very useful tool!

S4d
Squid

You might have noticed most pets don't move around even when in distress and most can't even speak. One might assume they are sedated, but that's not the case.

The collar is attached directly to their spinal cords and, using a combination of magic and anatomical knowledge, can directly control most of their bodily functions.

well then, enough detours, back to the main subject...

S4d
SQU1d

An iron plaque is placed on top of the open wound right after it's cauterized.
This is to prevent a pet's regen abilities from regrowing it's limbs.

It's quite bulky and not very aesthetically pleasing, but it's important to keep the whole thing covered for at least 10 years.

After that, it will lose the ability to regrow that limb, so you can decorate the stumps to your liking.

S4d
Squid

2152

We are currently working on developing alternative ways of keeping a pet's powers contained, but we'll talk about this more in depth later.

Fleashlight Pets have all four of their limbs removed. This makes it easier to restrain and put them away as needed.

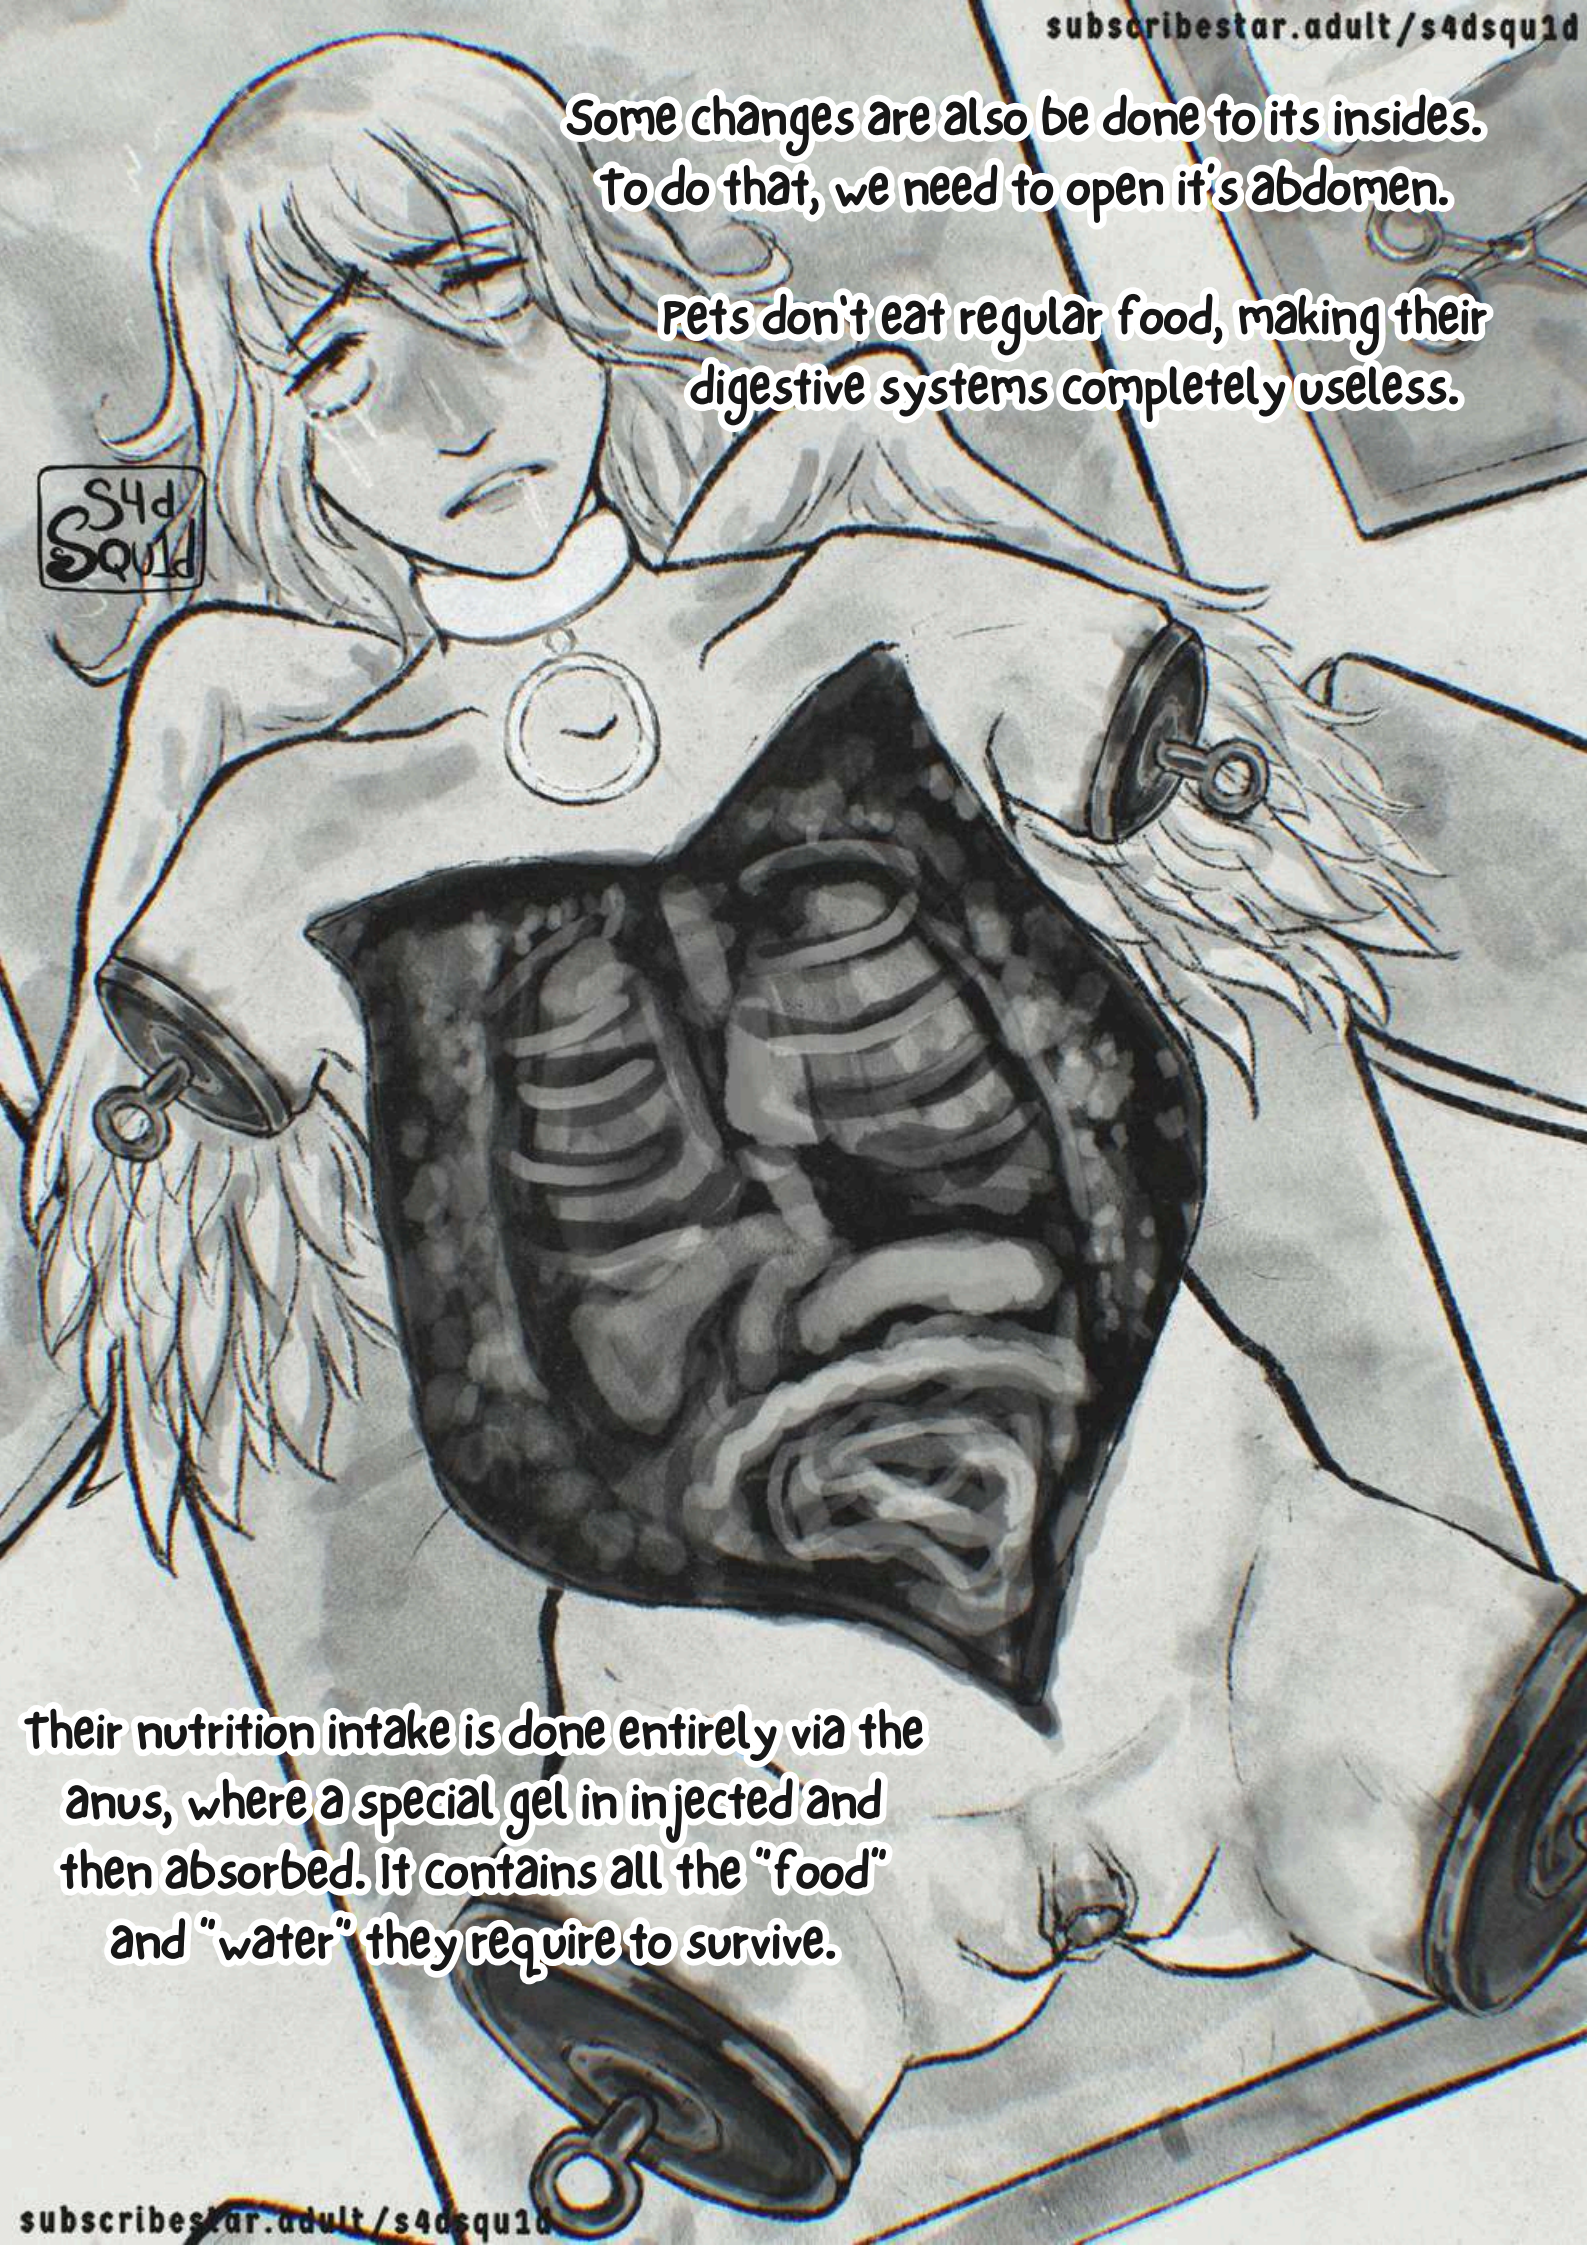

S4d
SQUID

Some request to also have their wings removed but, because they can't be used for flying anyway, most prospective owners decide to leave them intact. They can be quite cute, after all!

Some changes are also be done to its insides.
To do that, we need to open it's abdomen.

Pets don't eat regular food, making their digestive systems completely useless.

S4d
Squid

Their nutrition intake is done entirely via the anus, where a special gel is injected and then absorbed. It contains all the "food" and "water" they require to survive.

All the organs from the digestive tract are pulled out, leaving only the rectum and a small section of the large intestines and esophagus, which are then connected to each other.

S4d
Squid

Because they will heal attached to each other, it will "trick" the pet's regen into thinking it's whole, so there's no danger of regrowth.

With that, it'll no longer produce any solid waste. One less thing its owner will need to worry about.

This procedure done to most pets, not just Fleshlight ones. Poop training is way too troublesome, it's easier to just treat the problem at the root.

S4d
Squid

A word of caution: This makes it so your pet cannot digest food, anything it eats will pass straight through its "digestive tube" and it will need to pass whatever it swallows through its anus.

S4d
Squid

If that's impossible, your pet might need to get their insides flushed or be taken to a vet so the foreign object can be surgically removed.

It's safer to just never let them eat anything solid.

The next part involves tweaking its collar in order to make orgasms impossible.

S4d
Squid

After that is done, two potent vibrators are placed on either side of its clitoris. The pet will be left alone in this state until the wounds from the surgery are completely healed.

S4d
Squid

Owners can change this setting later but we highly advise against it. A pet's mind is too simple to understand the ups and downs of an orgasm, so it's safer to not let it experience them.

This is even more important for a Fleshlight Pet in order for it to function as intended.

S4d
SQUID

2152

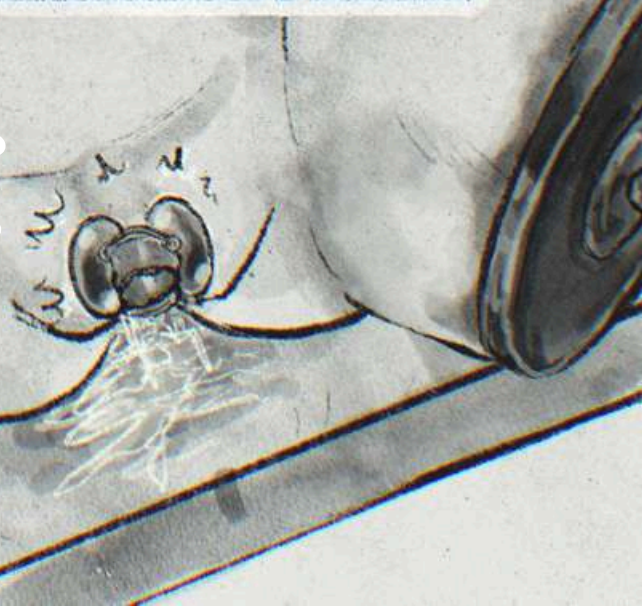

We know not all demons have the ability change collar settings so easily, so we also provide a Collar Setting Adjustment Service* if that's something you need!

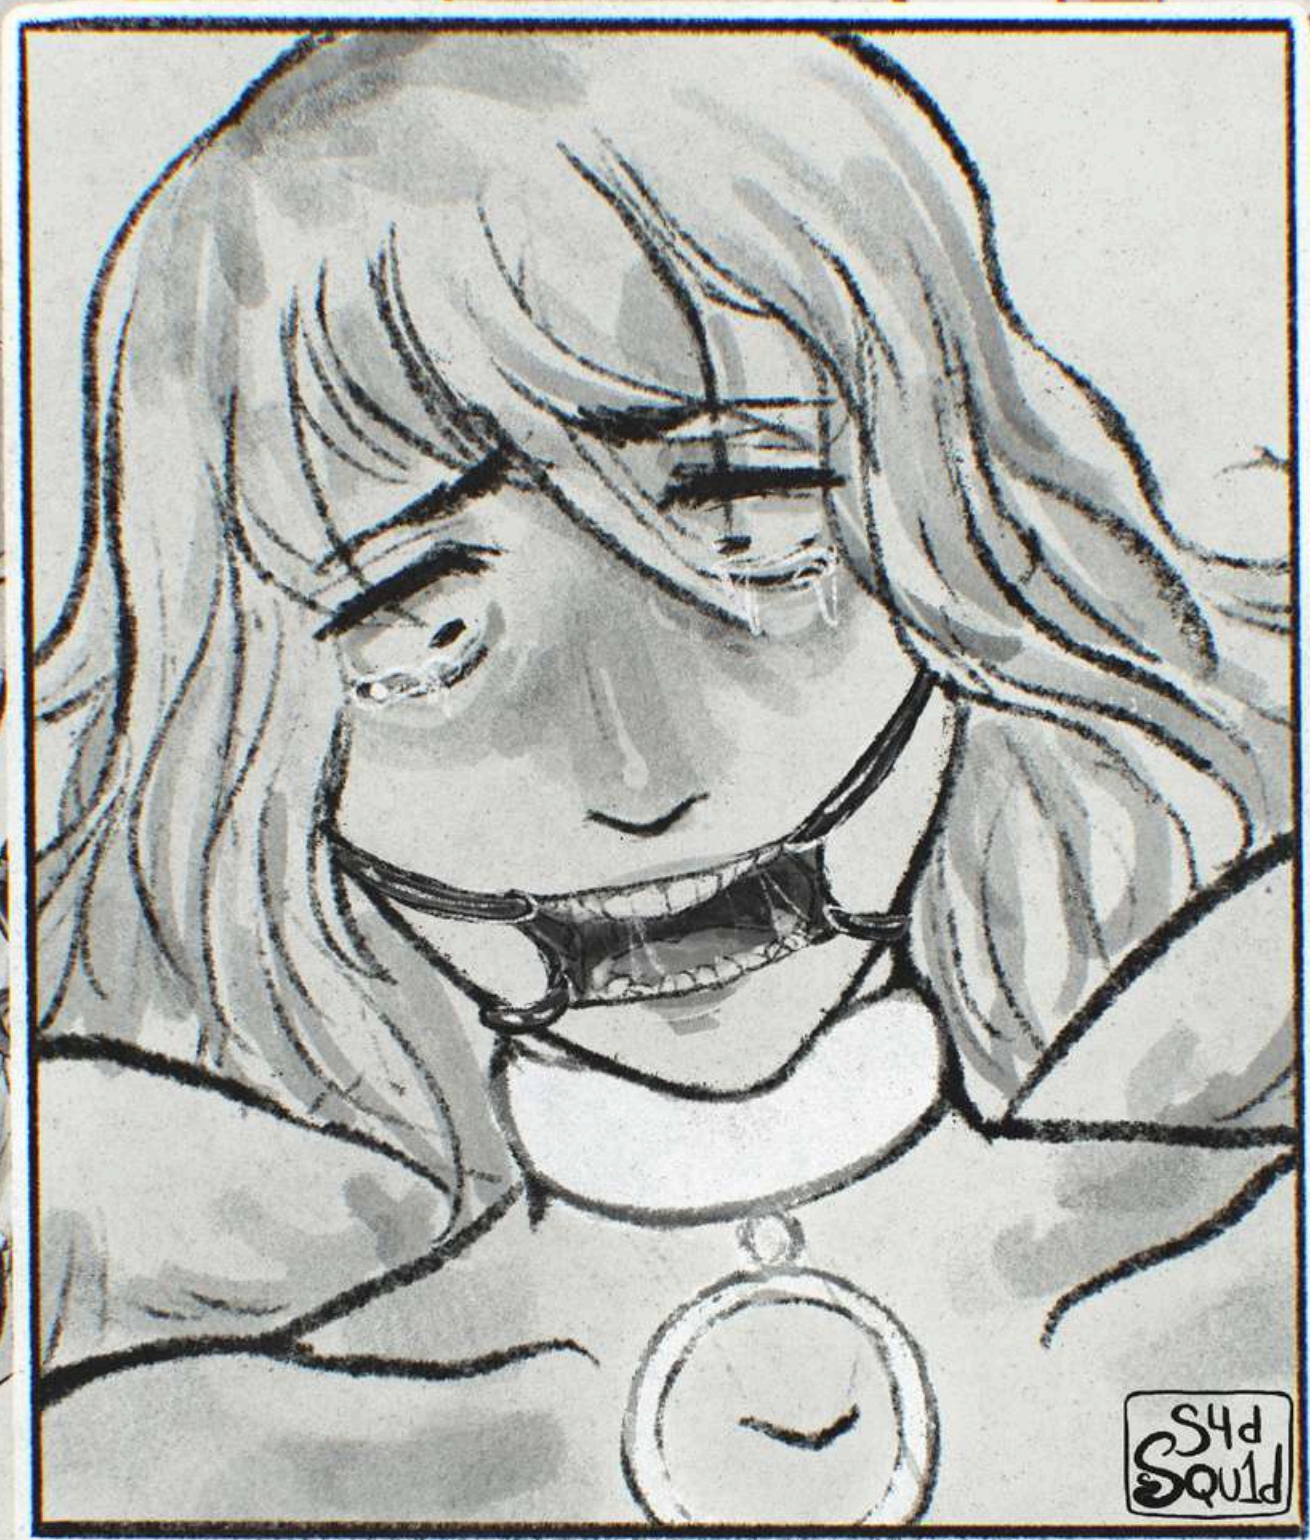

*first adjustment is included with the Fleshlight Pet package, additional ones will only be made upon payment

The exact time needed will change according to a pet's regen level. This one is very high, so it took only a couple of hours.

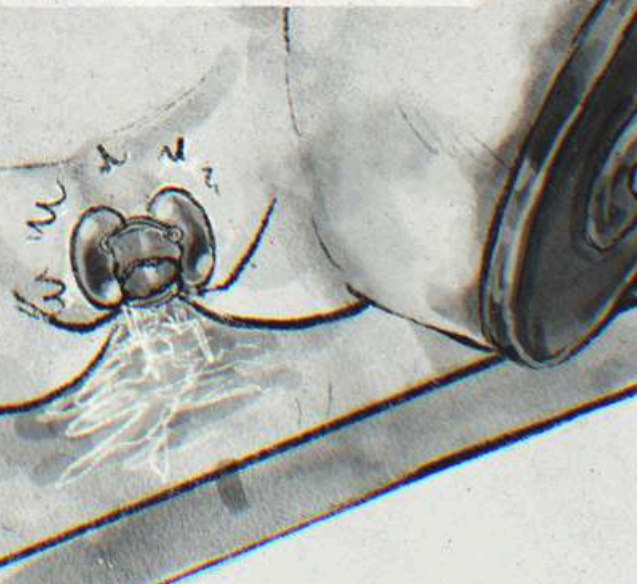

After a while of being on edge, you can clearly see it produced a healthy amount of slick. A mess is expected at this point, after all, we are trying to stimulate their secretion production.

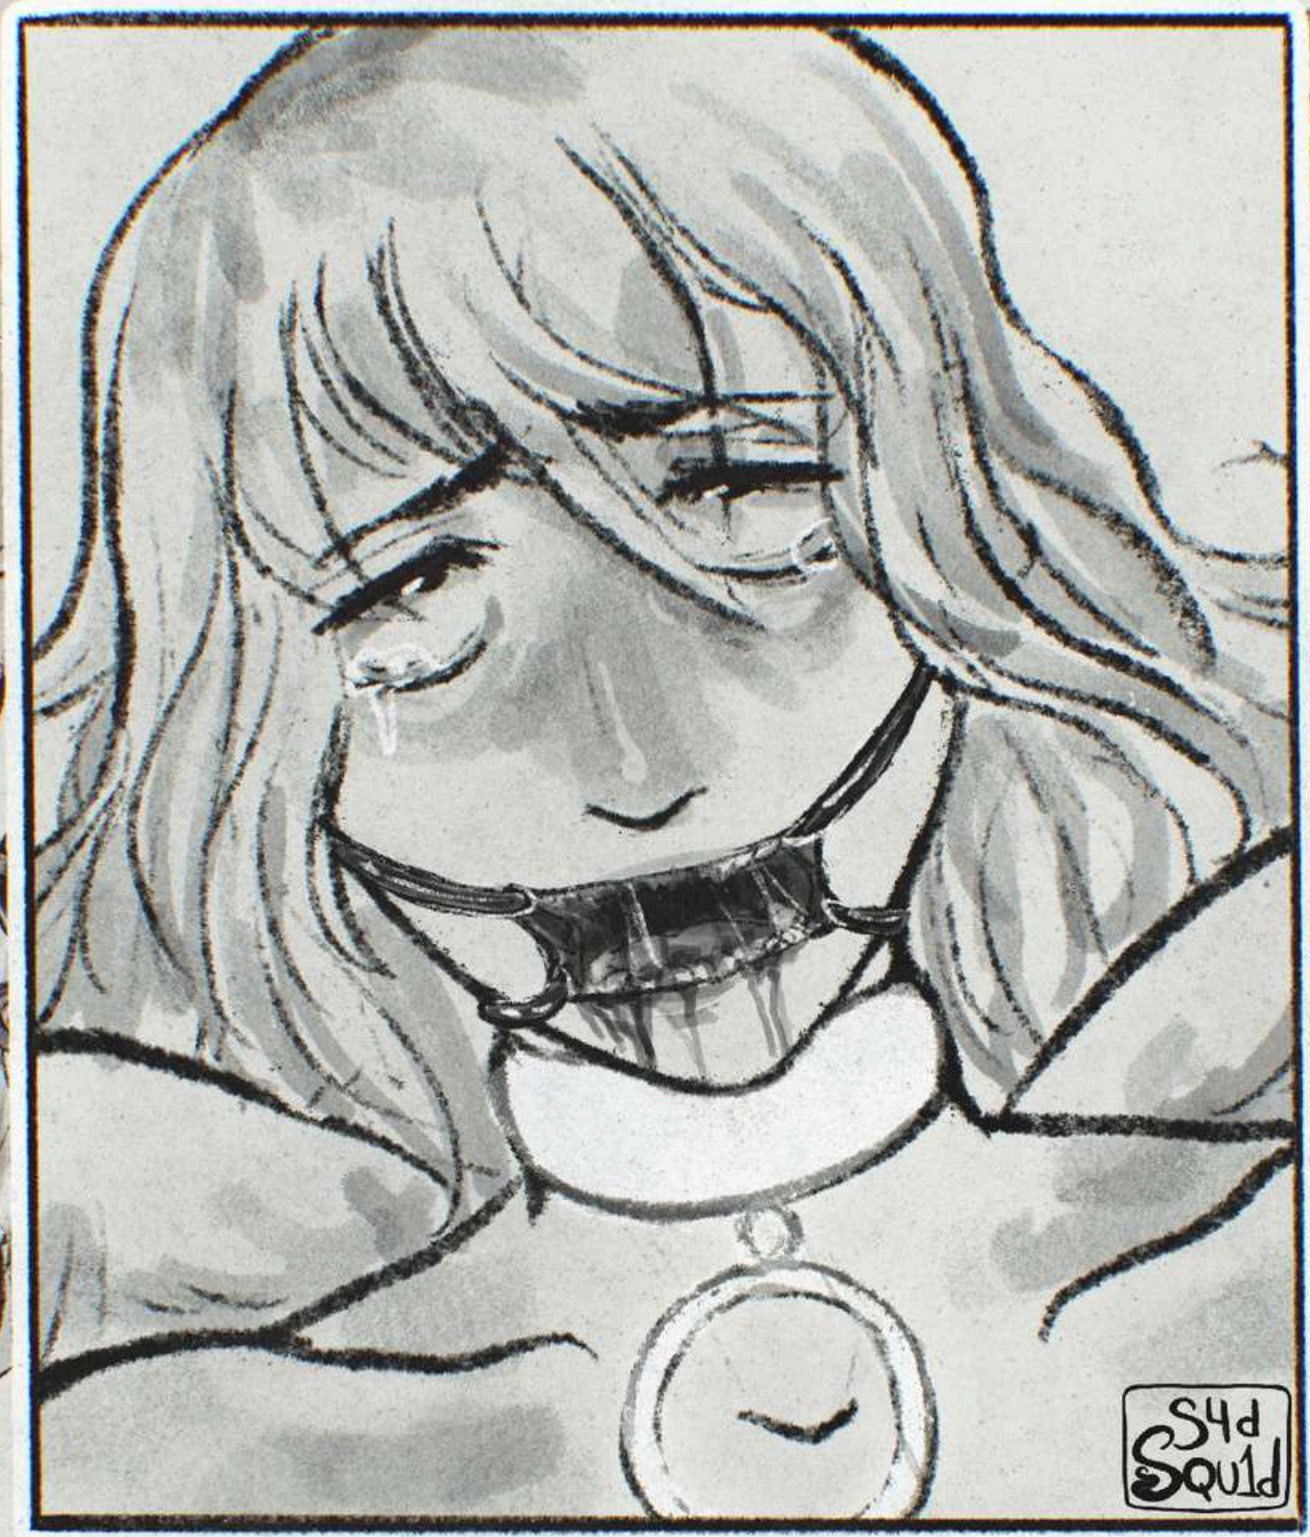

If it hasn't made enough slick during that time, the pet will be left like that for more time, until it reached a satisfactory amount.

With that out of the way, the next step is to make sure their owner can use a pet's mouth without being harmed.

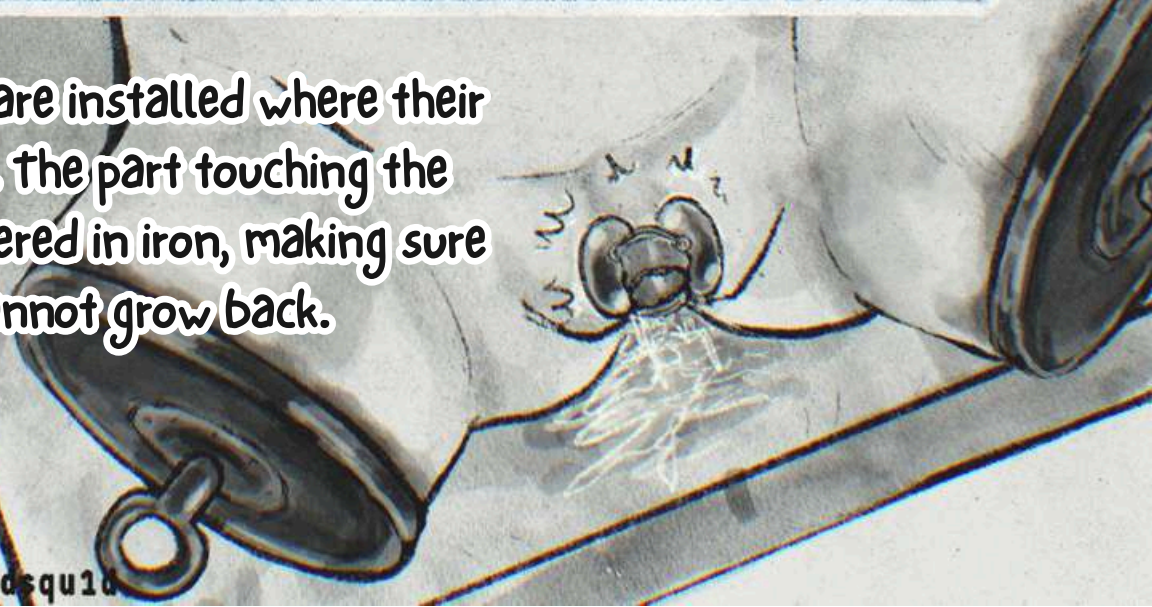

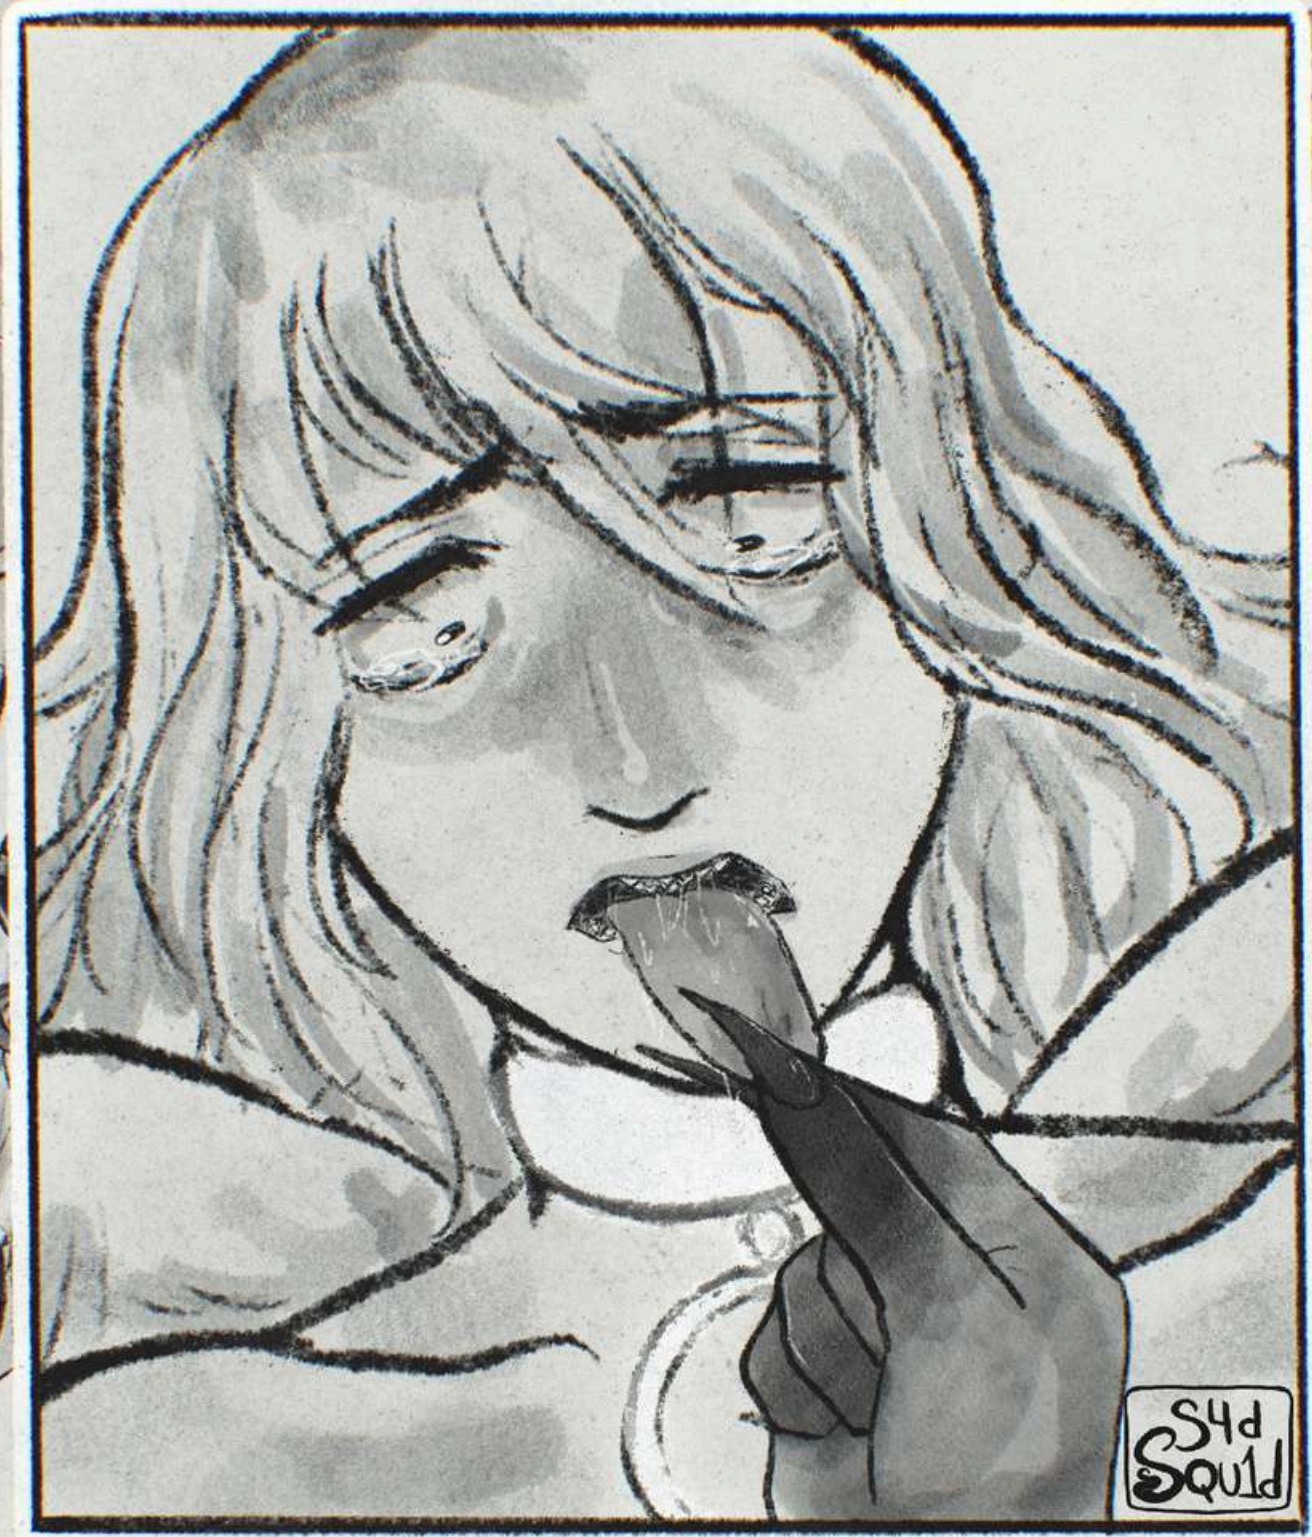

First, all its teeth are removed. A pet's collar will limit its strength to the point where a bite wouldn't cause any permanent damage anyway, but this makes sure it can't even cause any harm.

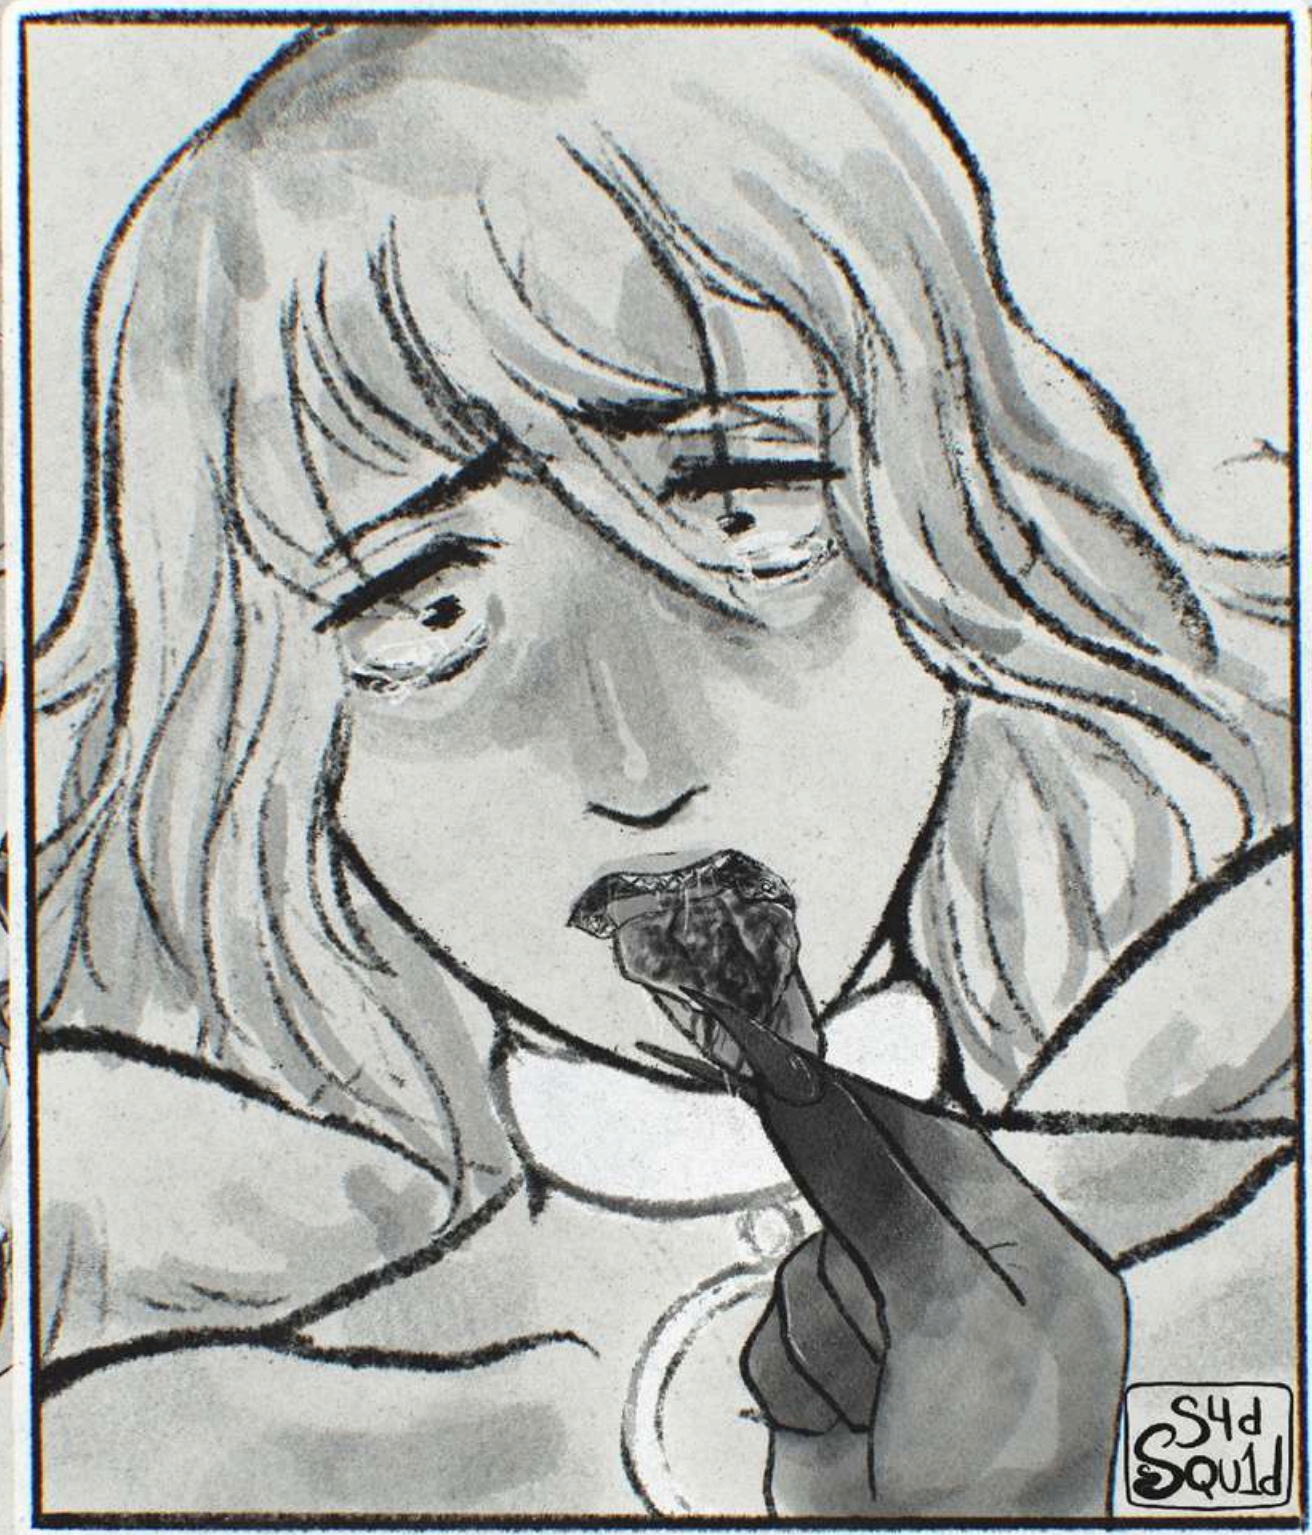

Soft rubber balls are installed where their teeth used to be. The part touching the pet's gums are covered in iron, making sure its teeth cannot grow back.

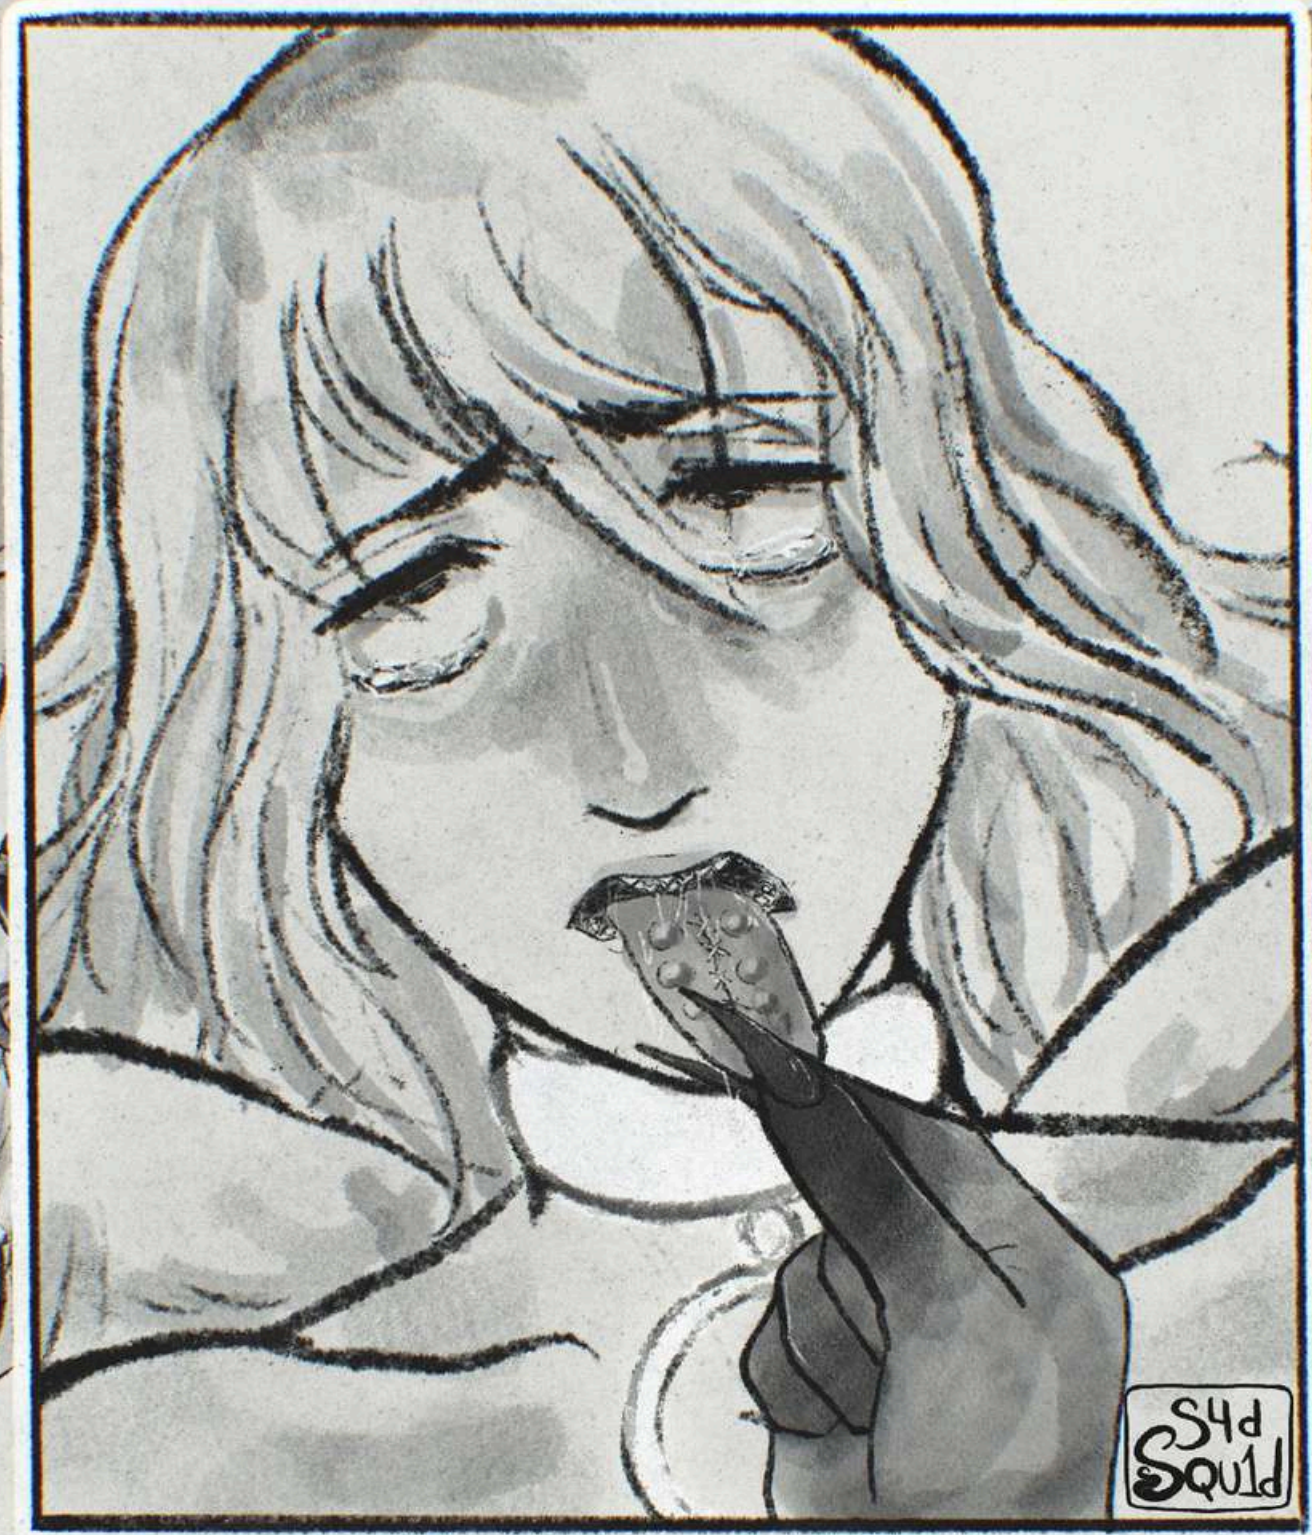

Another thing we always do is to modify their tongue a bit. The tongue is often ignored by many, if not outright removed, but we believe it makes a world of difference.

We cut it open and place an iron plaque inside. It's filled with rubber balls similar to the ones on the gums.

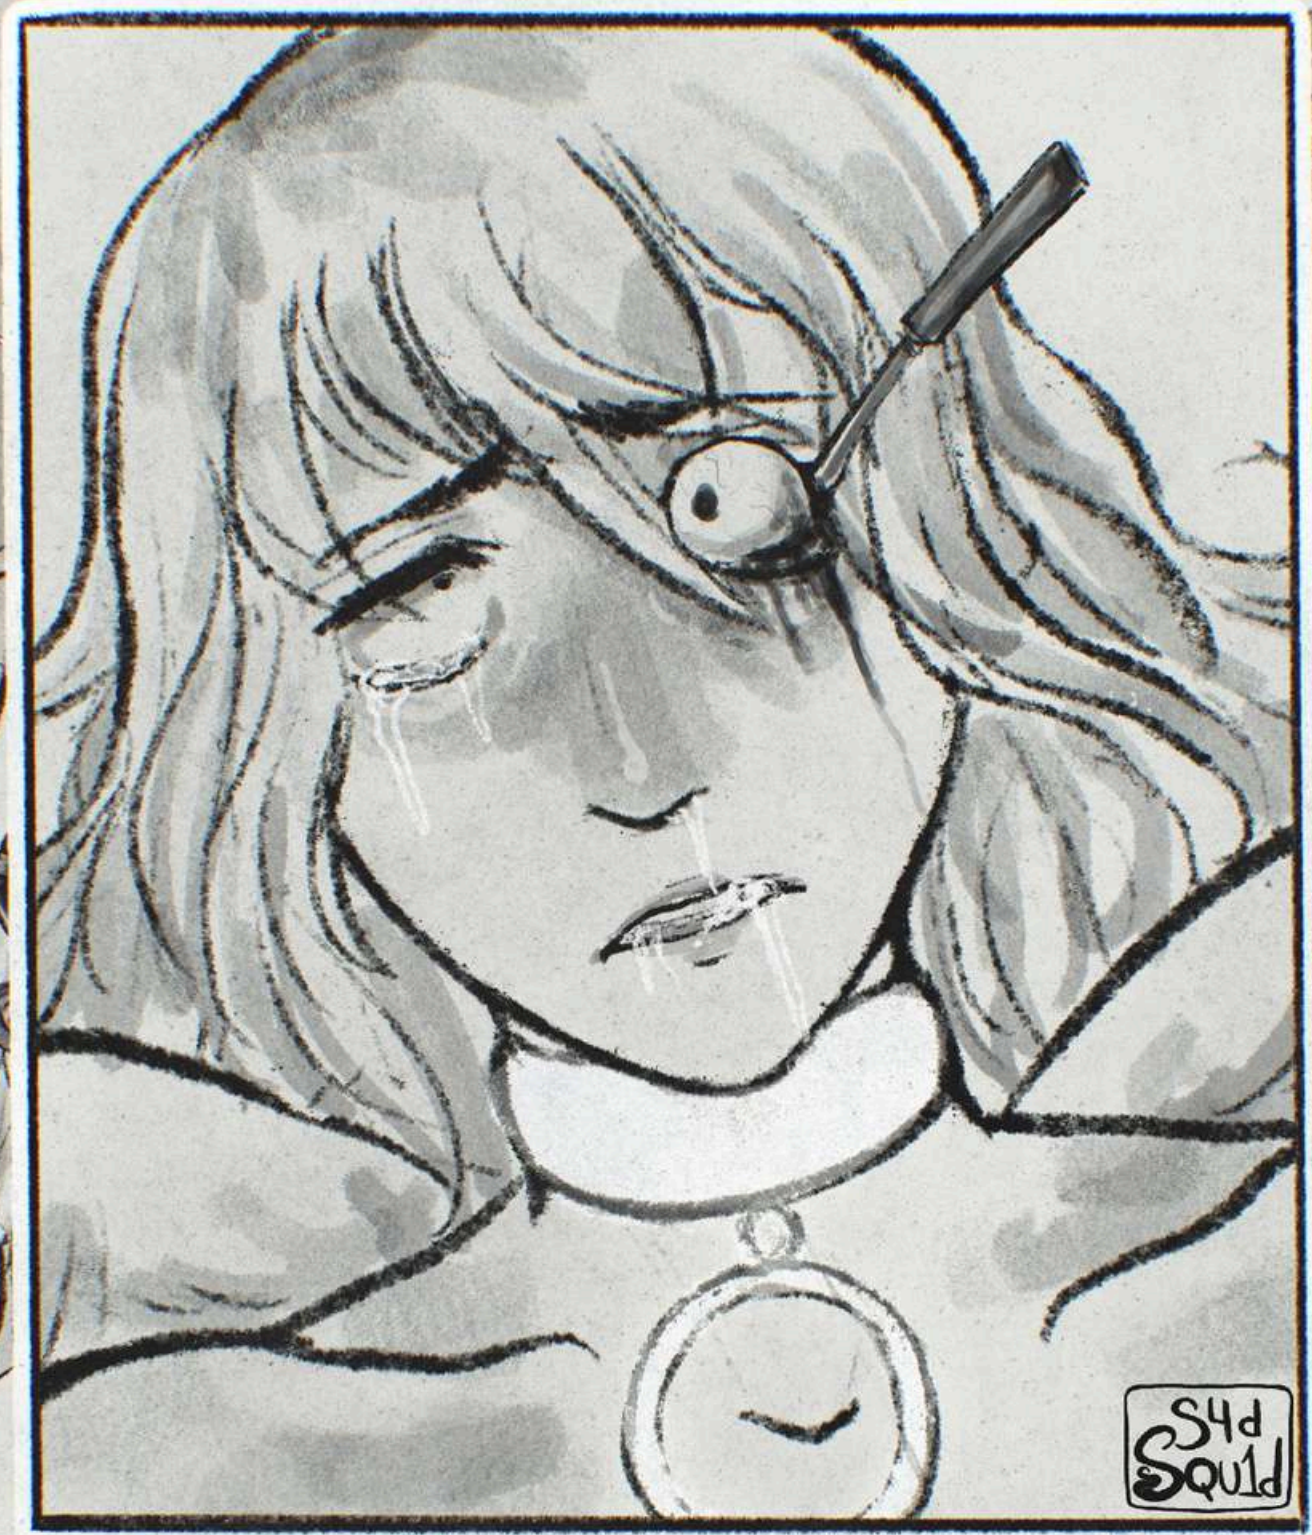

once it's sewn and healed, its tongue will add an extra layer of texture to anyone using its mouth!

Due to the constant stimuli, the pet will have produced even more slick. The fact that it was still aroused even during those painful procedures is a very good sign!

S4d
Squid

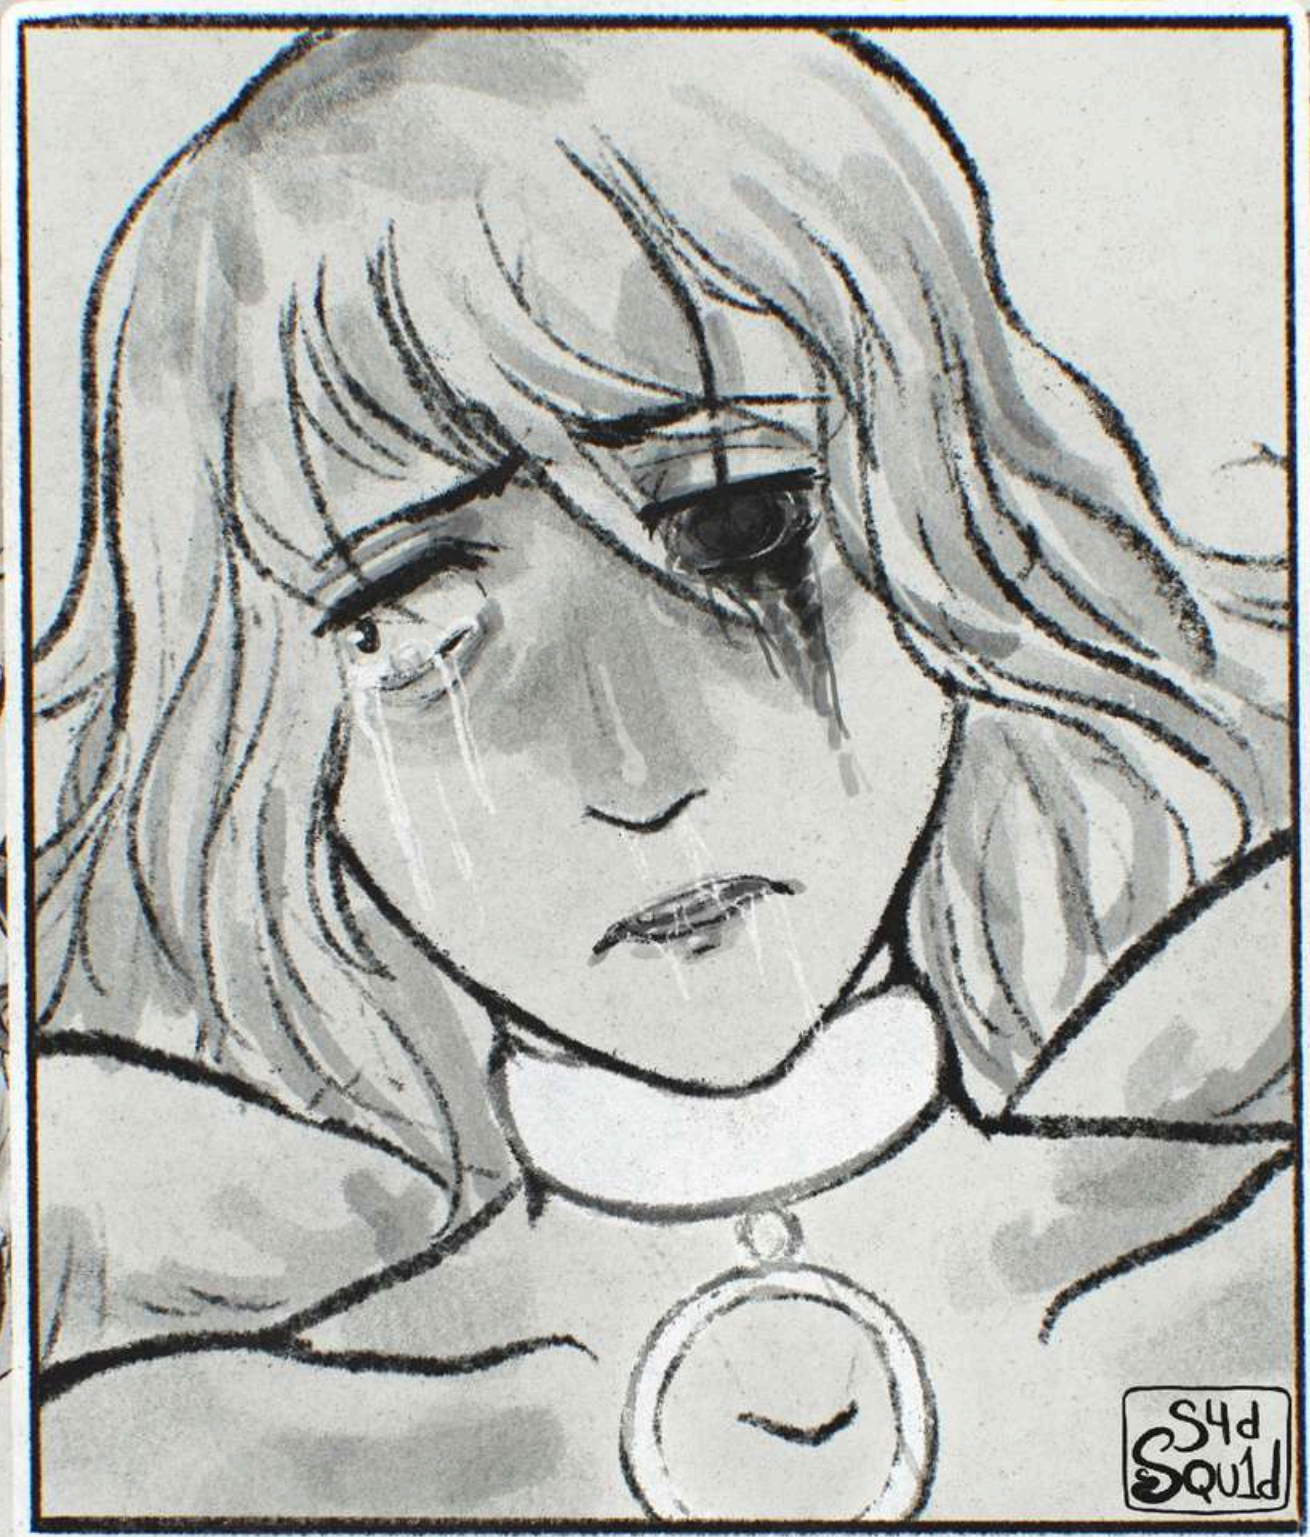

Regular people, demon and angel alike, would never behave like that under such circumstances. It just goes to show that pets truly are not people, even if they look like regular angels on the surface.

It's important to remember this and not feel bad for them, this is what they were born to do!

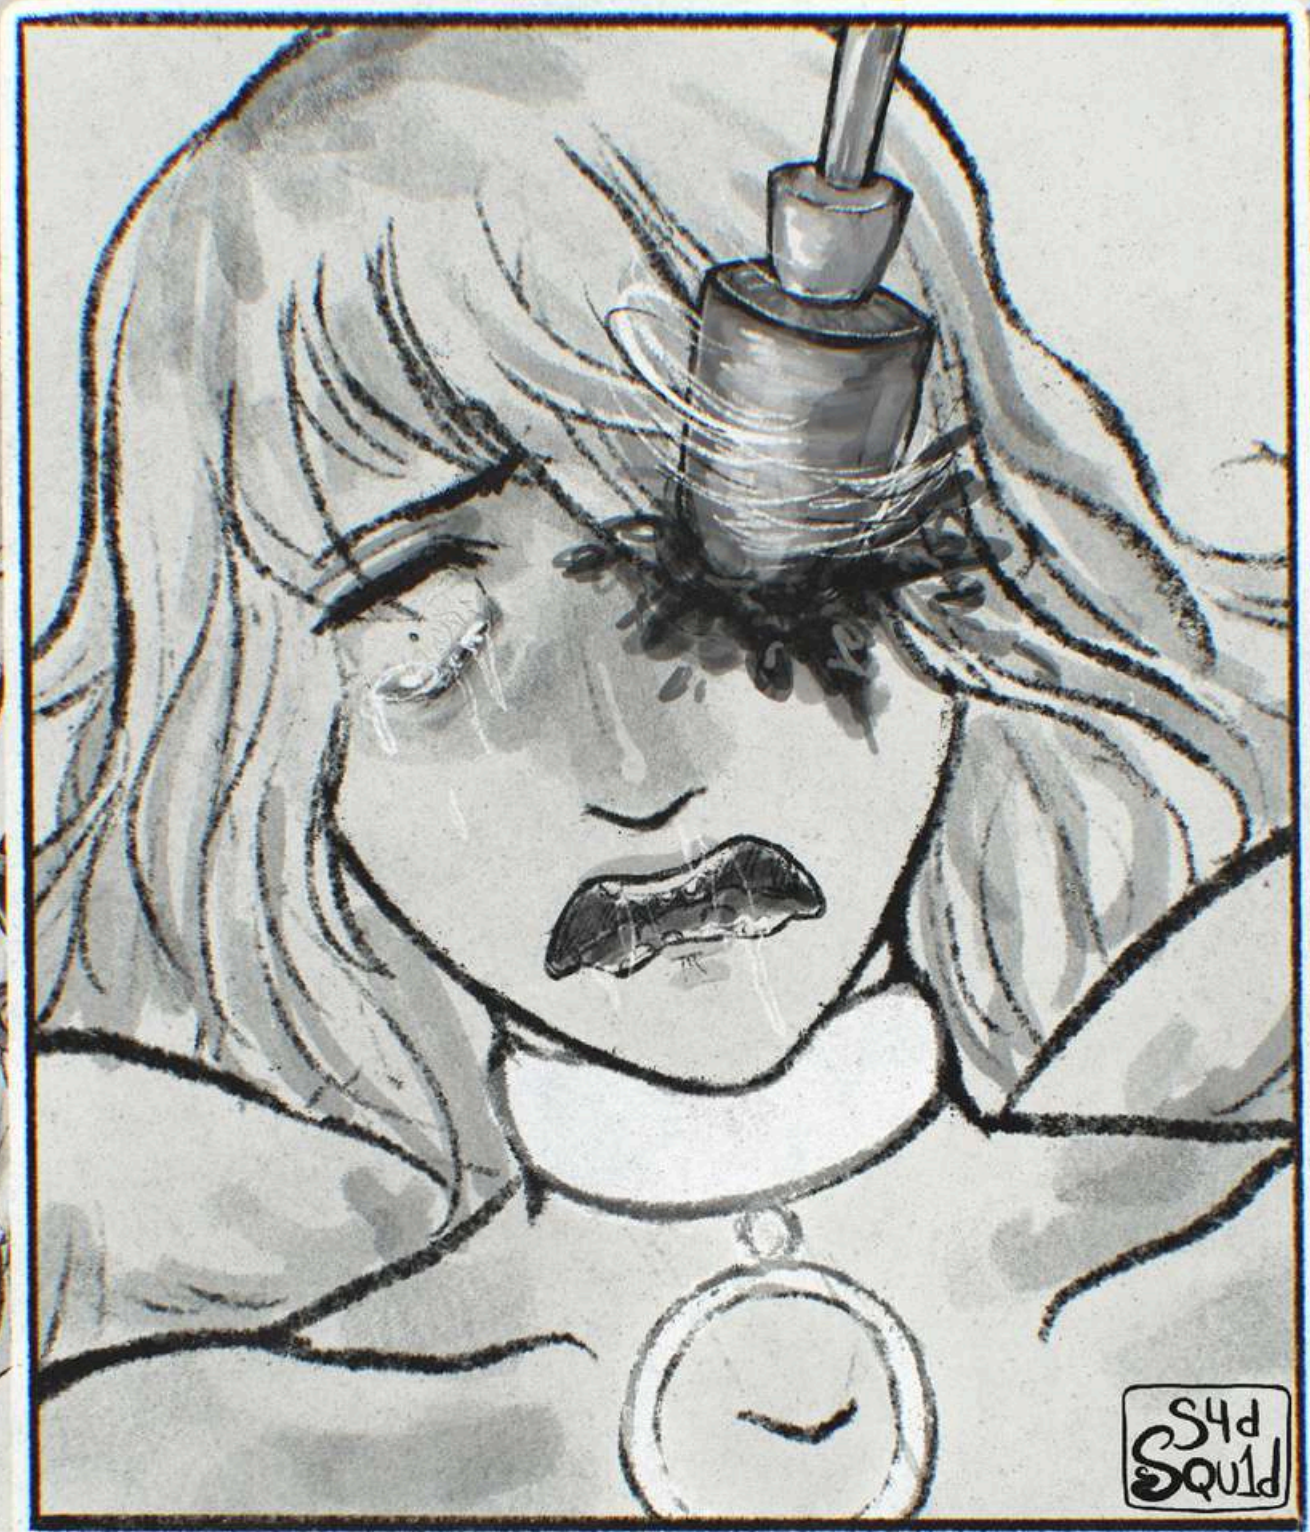

S4d
Squid

For the next step, we will remove one of its eyes. With pets that are going on sale, we usually stick to just one, but some clients request for both to be taken out upon purchase.

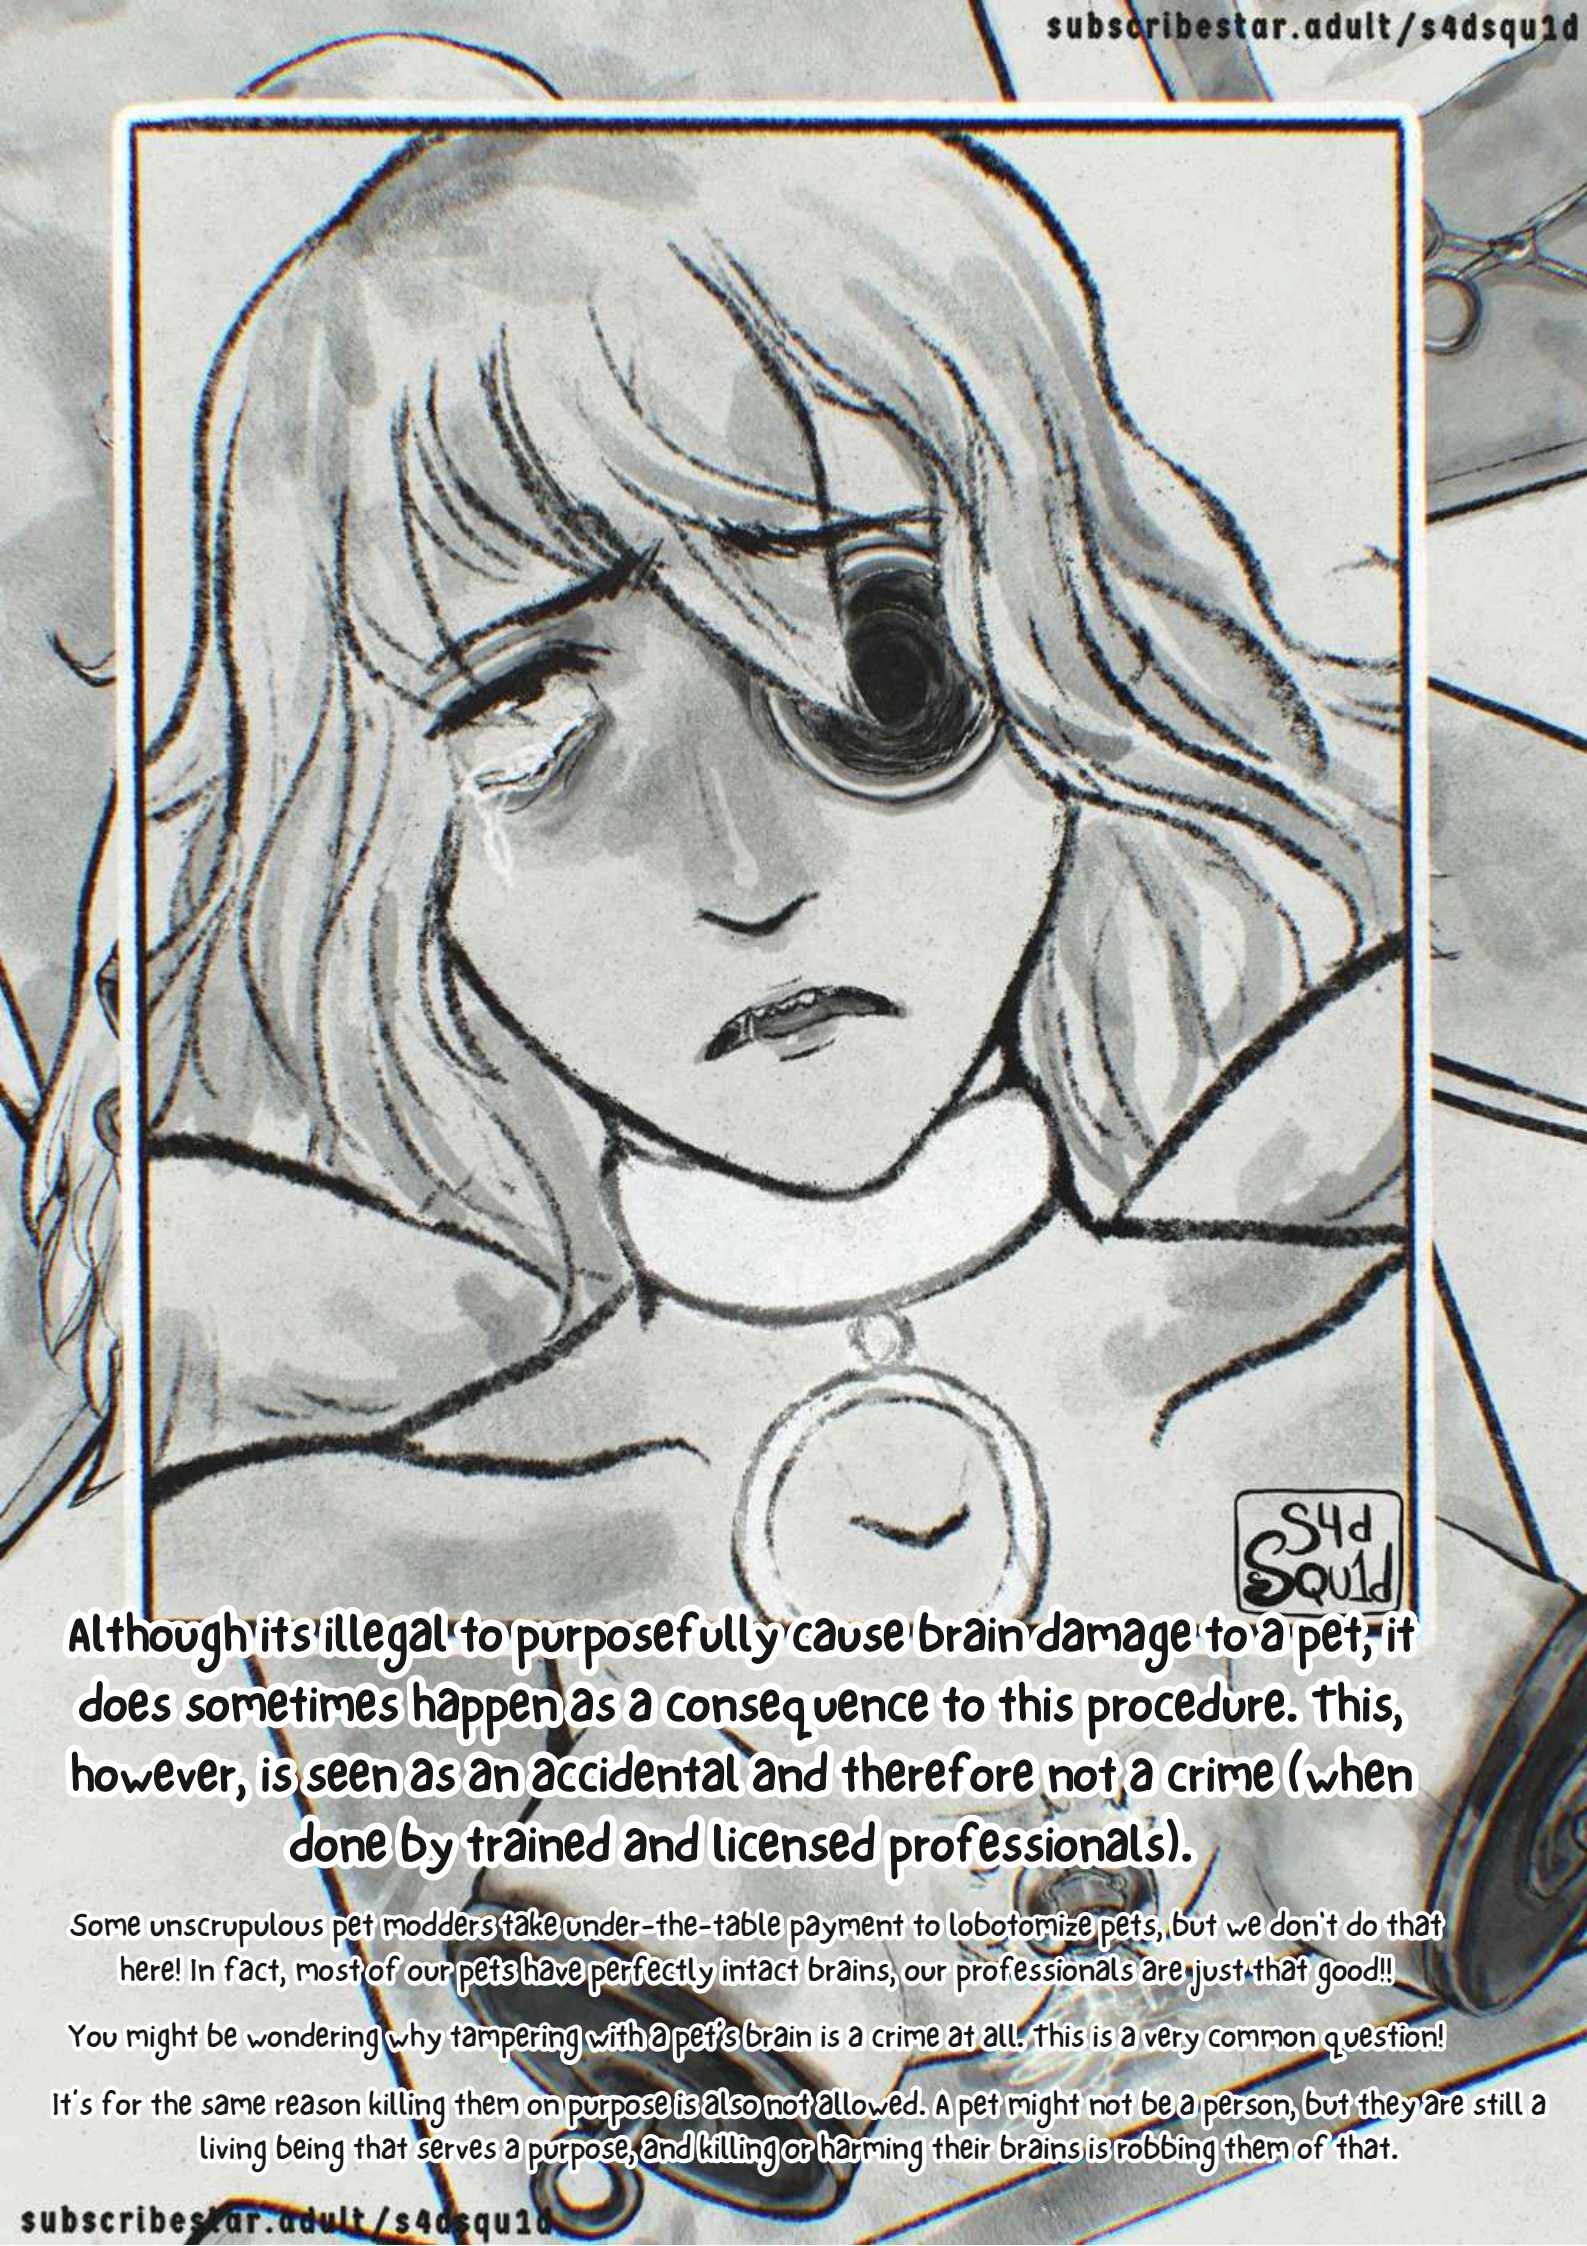

Some prefer their pets completely blind and unable to react, but others like the different expressions a pet's eye can show and want to keep at least one.

This is always up to the buyer, but because it's a complicated procedure, removing the other eye does cost extra.

After the eye is fully removed, we drill into the remaining hole, widening it by cutting into the bone.

This must be done very carefully as not to hit the brain, as it's the only organ a pet angel can't regrow. Any misstep might kill them.

S4d
Squid

Although it's illegal to purposefully cause brain damage to a pet, it does sometimes happen as a consequence to this procedure. This, however, is seen as an accidental and therefore not a crime (when done by trained and licensed professionals).

Some unscrupulous pet modders take under-the-table payment to lobotomize pets, but we don't do that here! In fact, most of our pets have perfectly intact brains, our professionals are just that good!!

You might be wondering why tampering with a pet's brain is a crime at all. This is a very common question!

It's for the same reason killing them on purpose is also not allowed. A pet might not be a person, but they are still a living being that serves a purpose, and killing or harming their brains is robbing them of that.

Moving on, after the edges have been sealed with iron, the pet now has an extra usable hole!

S4d
Squid

It's a bit small compared to the others, especially in depth, but don't worry, we make sure you won't accidentally kill or harm your pet just by using it.

The next step is more of about laying the groundwork for future modifications, as they can branch out in very different ways and take a while to be finished.

S4d
Squid

We inject both of their nipples with a very potent swelling drug.

It takes effect after just a few minutes. However, its highly toxic and can only be used once a month.

Because a pet has two nipples, half a dose is applied on each.

S4d
Squid

Not only does it make the flesh extra puffy and swollen, it also increases sensitivity.

Some owners also use it to increase the size of a pet's clitoris.

You can choose to split the dose in 3 and apply to both nipples and clitoris or put the whole dose in its clit. The latter often yields much faster results.

then, we add a specially-designed piercing to both sides. It has a very specific function.

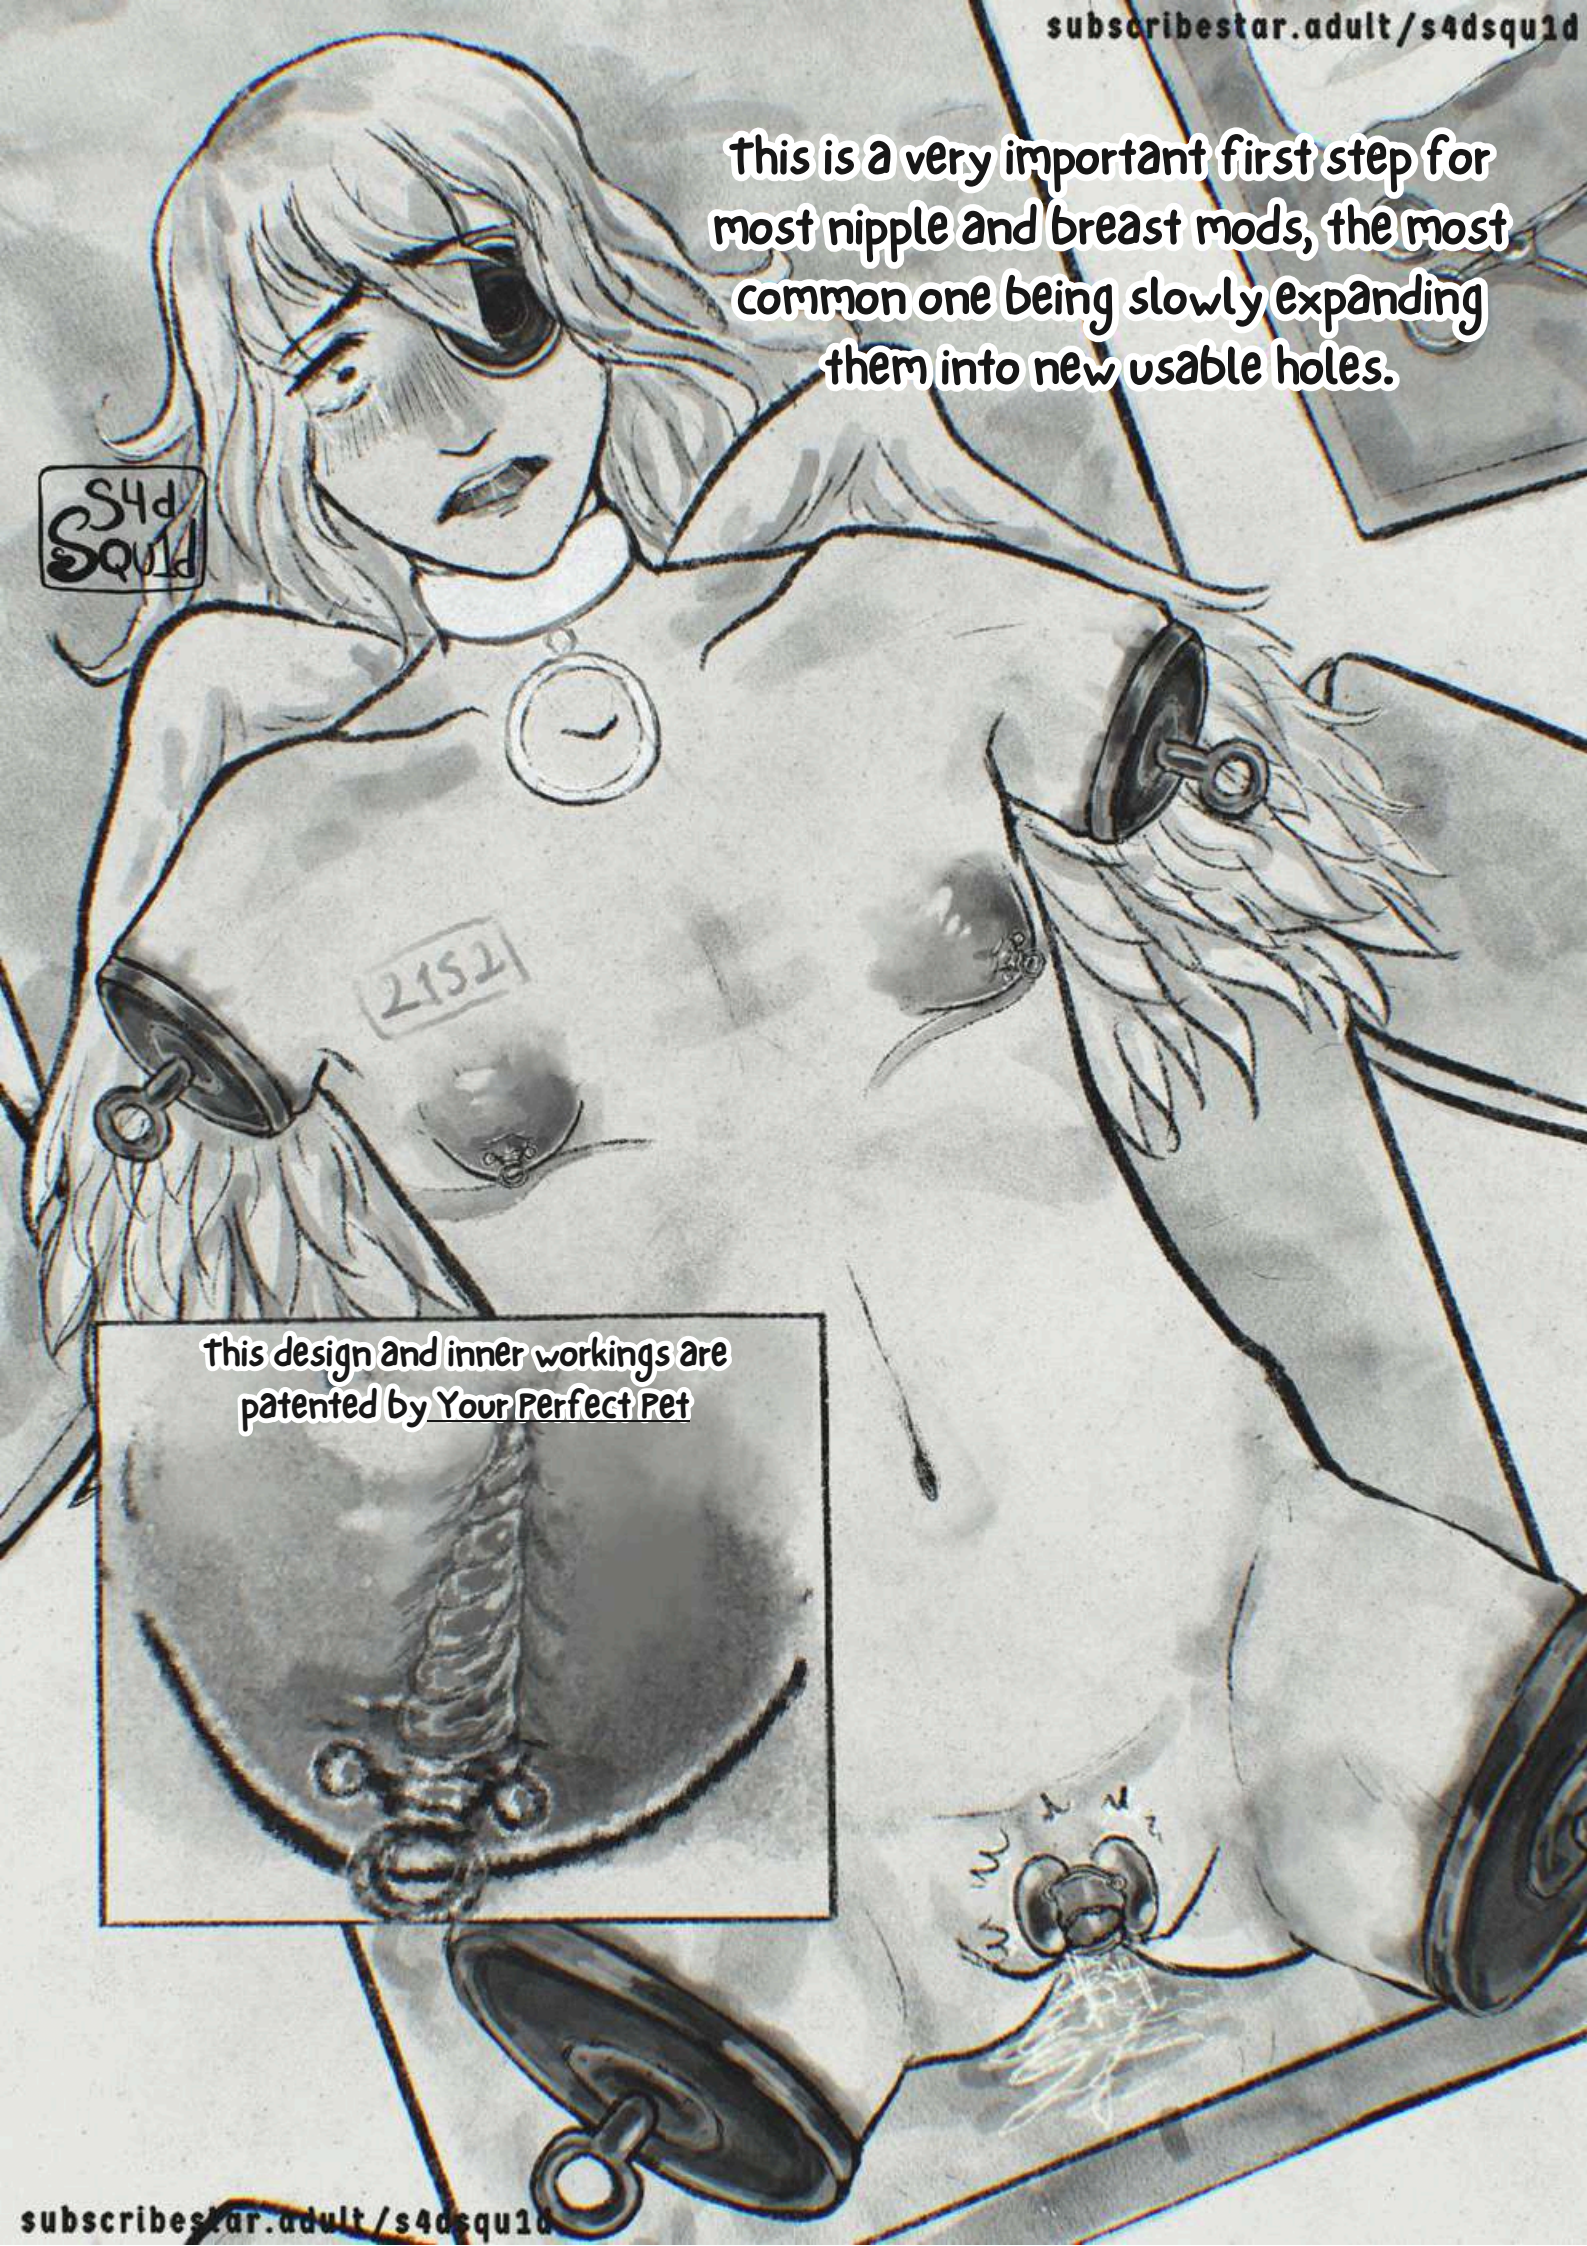

S4d
SQUID

It goes all the way inside if its nipples. If the new owner wants to proceed with this modification, it should be changed to a thicker one on a weekly basis, with injections being re-applied every month.

This is a very important first step for most nipple and breast mods, the most common one being slowly expanding them into new usable holes.

S4d
SQUID

This design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

Of course, the client can also opt to keep just a bit puffy or to induce lactation! Or pick a different type of piercing that will instead pull the nipple out, increasing its size.

S4d
Squid

This step is just a foundation for many possible modifications and the possibilities are endless!

Before proceeding to the next step, the vibrator will be removed.

We are finally ready to move on to an angel pet's most important part: their cute little pet cunts!

Some people also refer to those as
"pet parts".

S4D
P4S
Squid

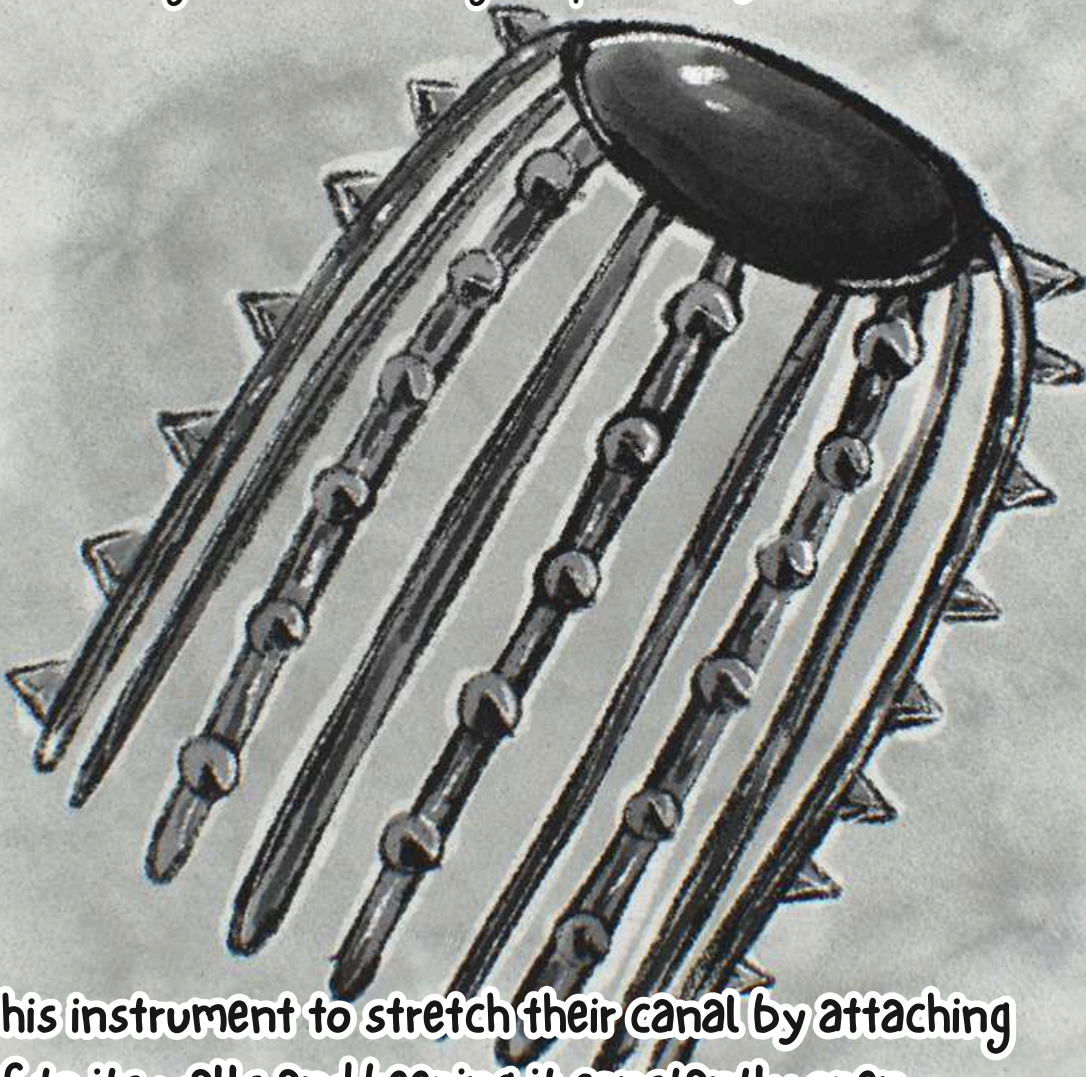

A pet technically has two "virginities". One is the most important one, where their cervixes are closed.

The other is their hymen, a small protective membrane right at the entrance of its vaginal opening, and it's more of a nuisance than anything.

Most of them come to us with both of them intact, thus, we need to take care of the latter.

S4D
Squid

This design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

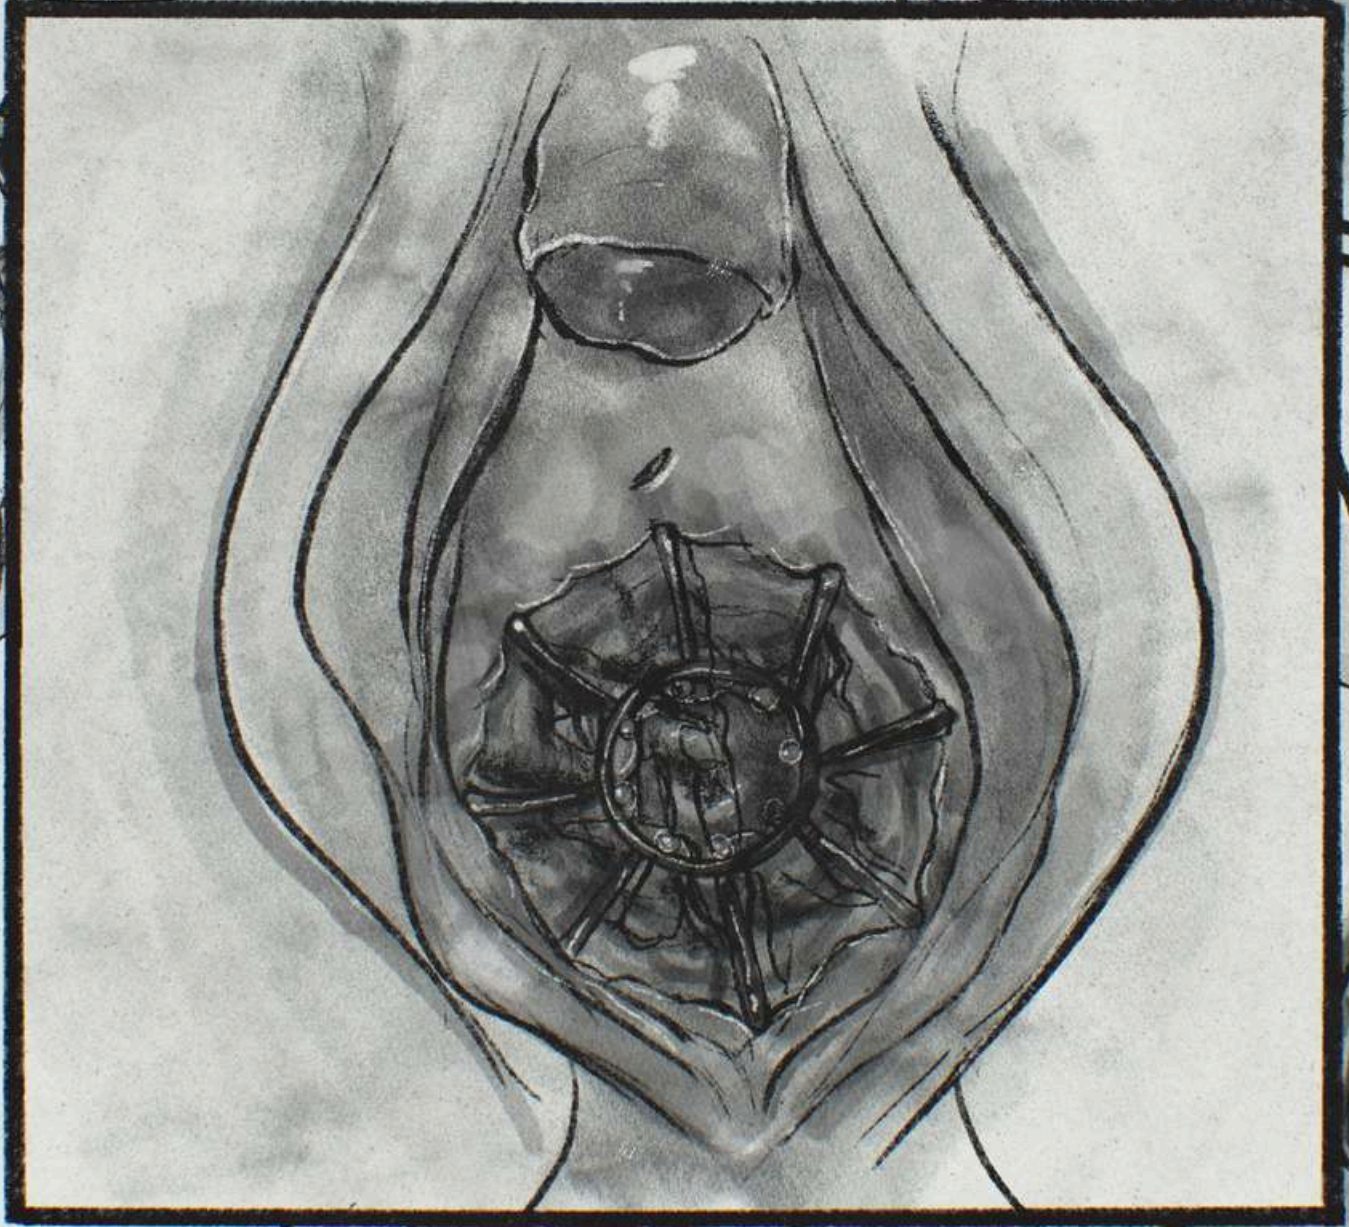

We use this instrument to stretch their canal by attaching itself to its walls and keeping it constantly open.

That way, using them will not be painfully tight like it usually is with new pets.

It doesn't look very pretty but not only will it work with another piece of equipment to make their hole feel extra good, it also will burrow itself inside its flesh overtime.

In a week or so, it's will be invisible from the outside.

S4D
Squid

Once the pet's cunt had expanded enough, its possible to trim the edges of the metal, so it looks the entrance looks more like it's closed, giving them an even more "natural" look.

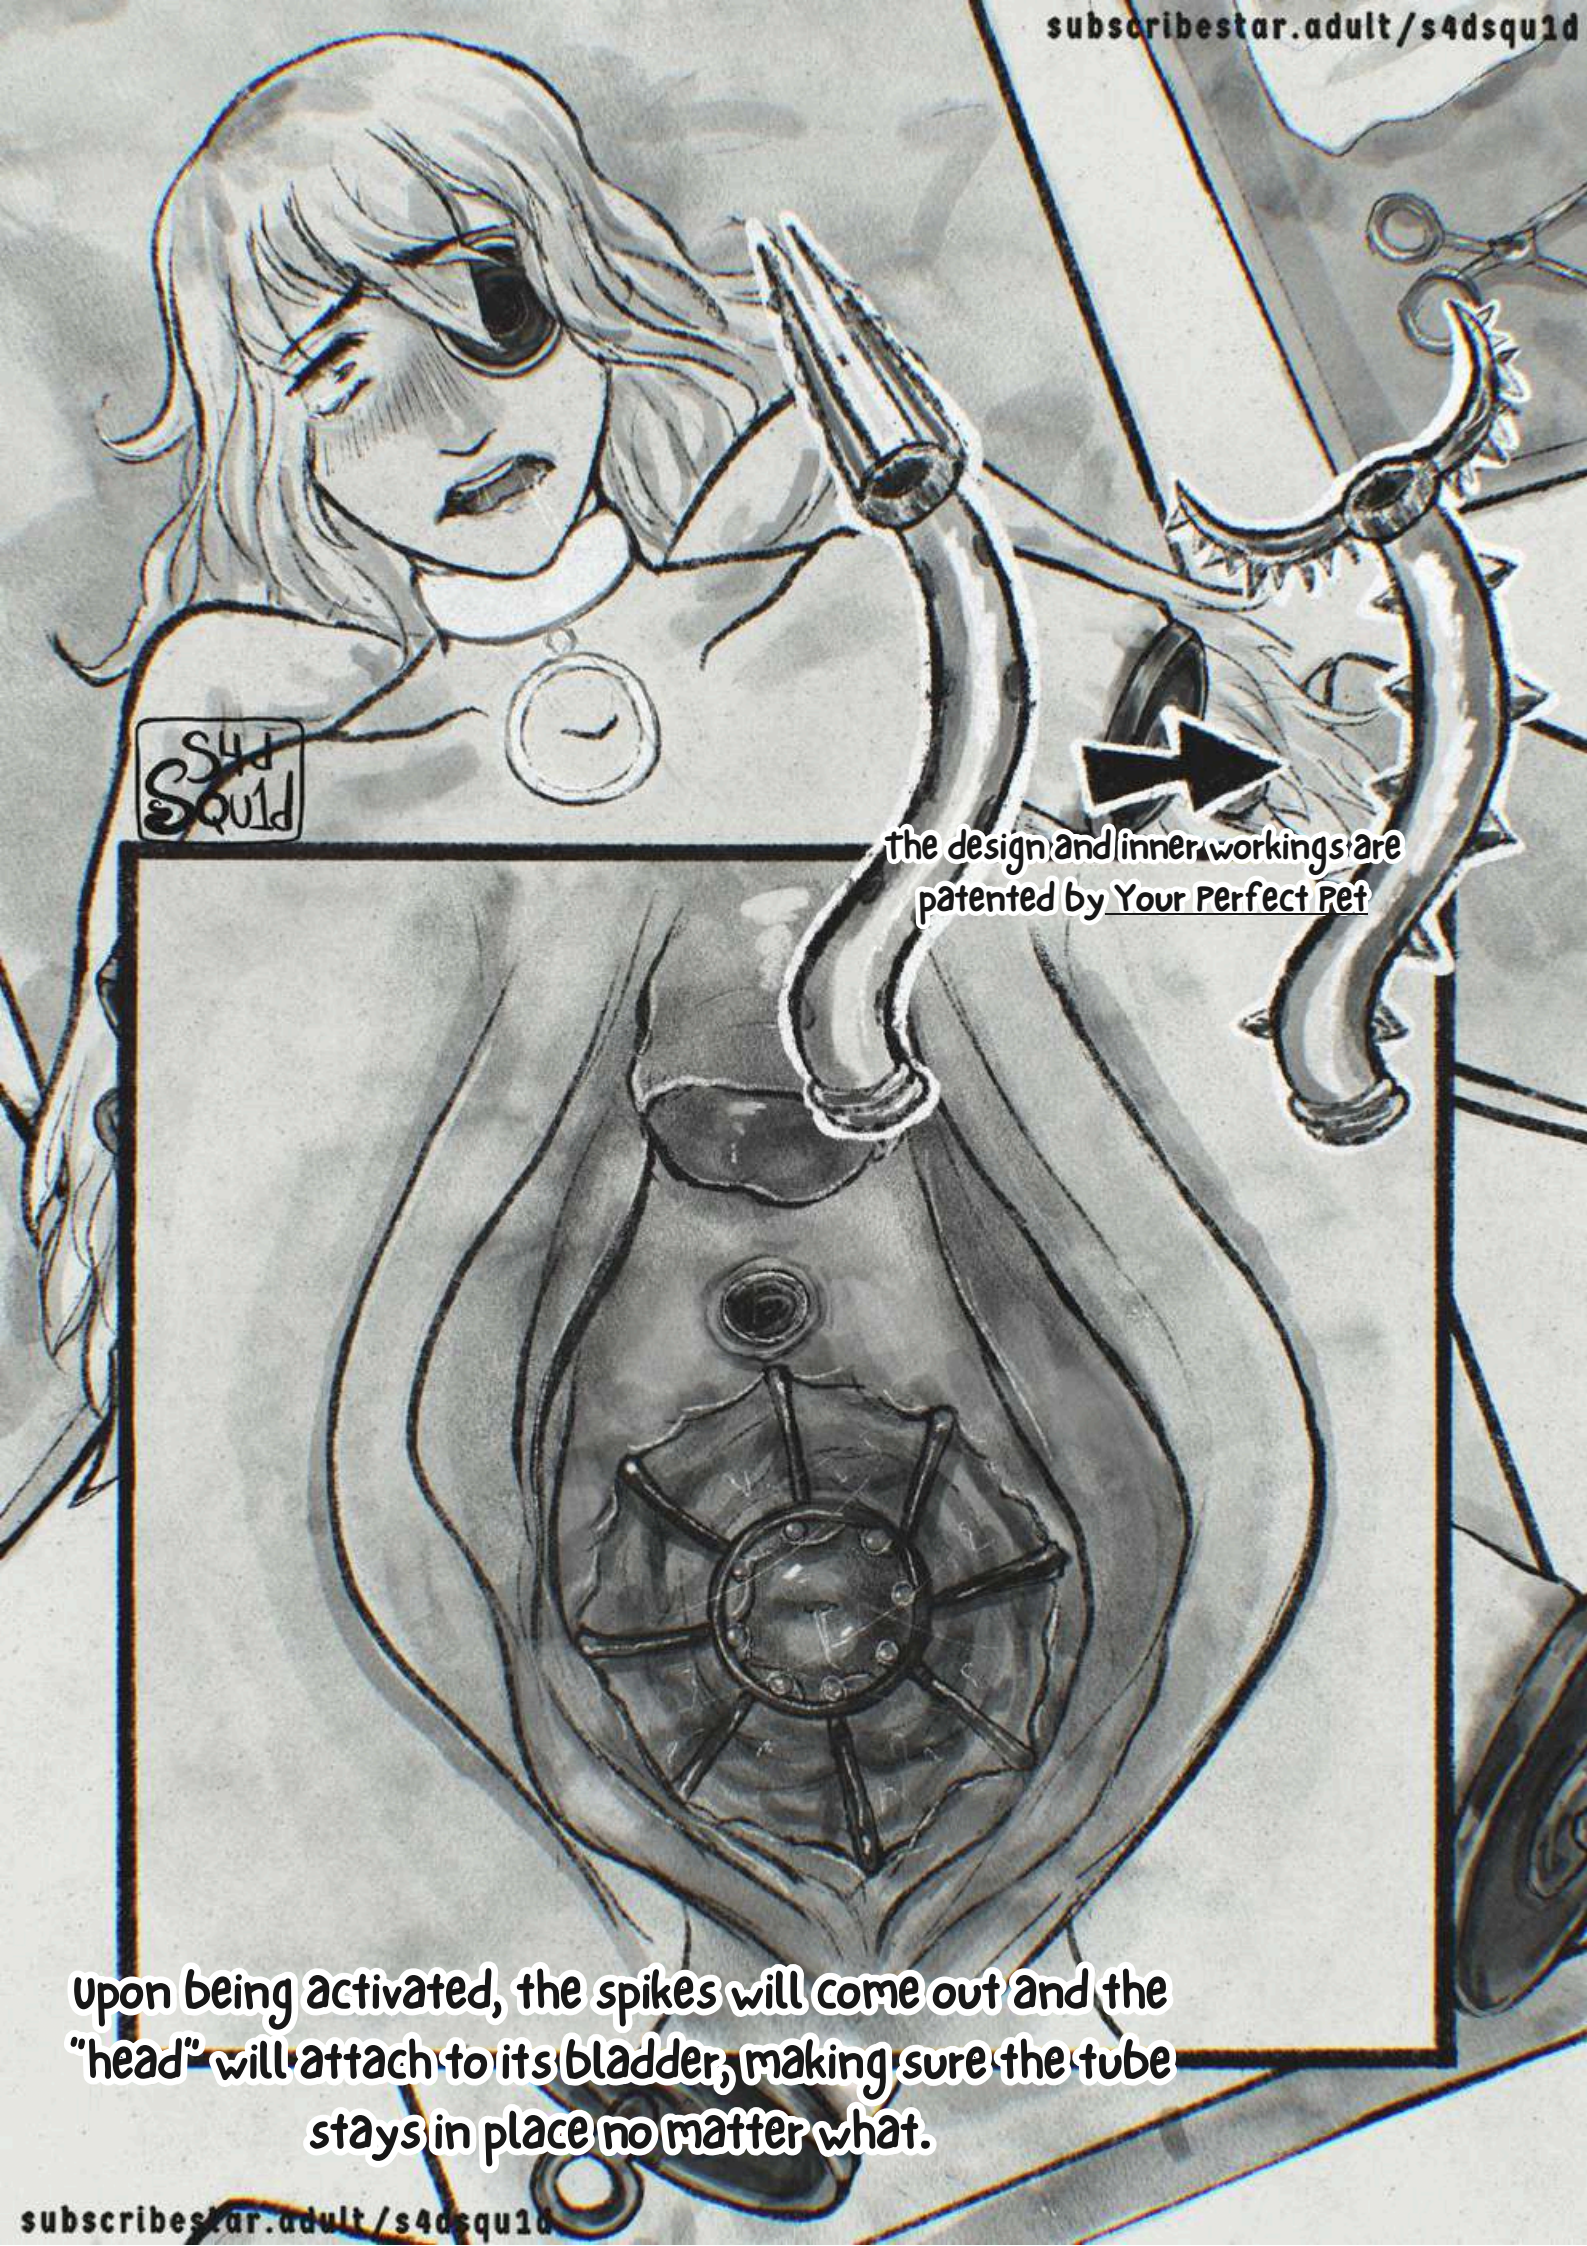

S4D
Squid

We still need to take care of their liquid waste management. To help with that, thick tube is inserted into its urethra.

S4D
Squid

S4D
Squid

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

Upon being activated, the spikes will come out and the "head" will attach to its bladder, making sure the tube stays in place no matter what.

then, we inject a saline solution into their bladders through the tube.

While the pet is under our care, we always increase the volume each time we change the water. This will slowly expand its bladder

Once its full, we close it with its designated cap.

After proper bladder training, a Fleshlight Pet can easily go for a whole week without needing to be emptied. Even if you exceed that, the worst that can happen is your pet leaking, so it's not something to worry about.

S4D
Squid

In order to make the pet even easier to use, we also pierce its labia, attaching chains to its stumps.

This will keep them constantly spread open and ready to use, without all the folds getting in the way.

S4d
SQUID

Some owners opt to have them fully removed, which is becoming increasingly popular. Still, some prefer the aesthetic of the chains, so we go with them as default unless something else is requested.

Some adjustments are also made the pet's clitoris. First, the hood protecting it is cut open, then discarded.

S4d
SQUID

Due to the previous stimuli, there will be a lot of blood flow in the area, so some bleeding is expected.

S4d
SQUID

The wound is then also sealed with iron, preventing regrowth.

S4d
SQUID

Because it's a pet's most sensitive area, anything you do to it is guaranteed to get a nice reaction out of your pet!

Some owners like softly teasing them at times, others like inflicting pain. As always, it's all up to you!

Next, we open a hole in the middle of its clitoris. It's important to also be careful with the blood on this step.

We then insert a small, golden orb inside. It's made of iron and is infused with similar magic used on its collar.

S4d
SQU1D

it will vibrate at all times and will not stop unless its owner turns it off, which can only be done through the settings on its collar.

The orb also acts as a button! When pressed, it will connect to the device inside their vaginal canal and make it slowly move and vibrate, massaging the appendage of the person using the pet.

S4d
Squid

The constant vibrations will also make sure the pet is always lubed up and ready for use, functioning similarly to the vibrators at the start.

This is why it's important to never let your pet cum. As previously explained cumming is not good for it, as, unlike a person, it is not prepared to deal with so much ups and downs.

Orgasms makes it so it produces too much or too little slick, making it unpredictable. Keeping a pet permanently on edge makes sure it is always stable.

Some trainers advocate for using orgasms as reward for regular pets, but it's highly a controversial, and frankly, outdated practice.

We at Your Perfect Pet believe letting a pet, Fleshlight or otherwise, cum even once permanently damages it. Most serious studies on pet behavior back up this claim.

S4d
Squid

2152

Lastly, birth control is added. It's a magic-infused mark that stops it from ovulating. It can be easily removed at any time if you decide you want to get it pregnant.

S4d
Squid

And with that, the pet will be ready to be put for sale!

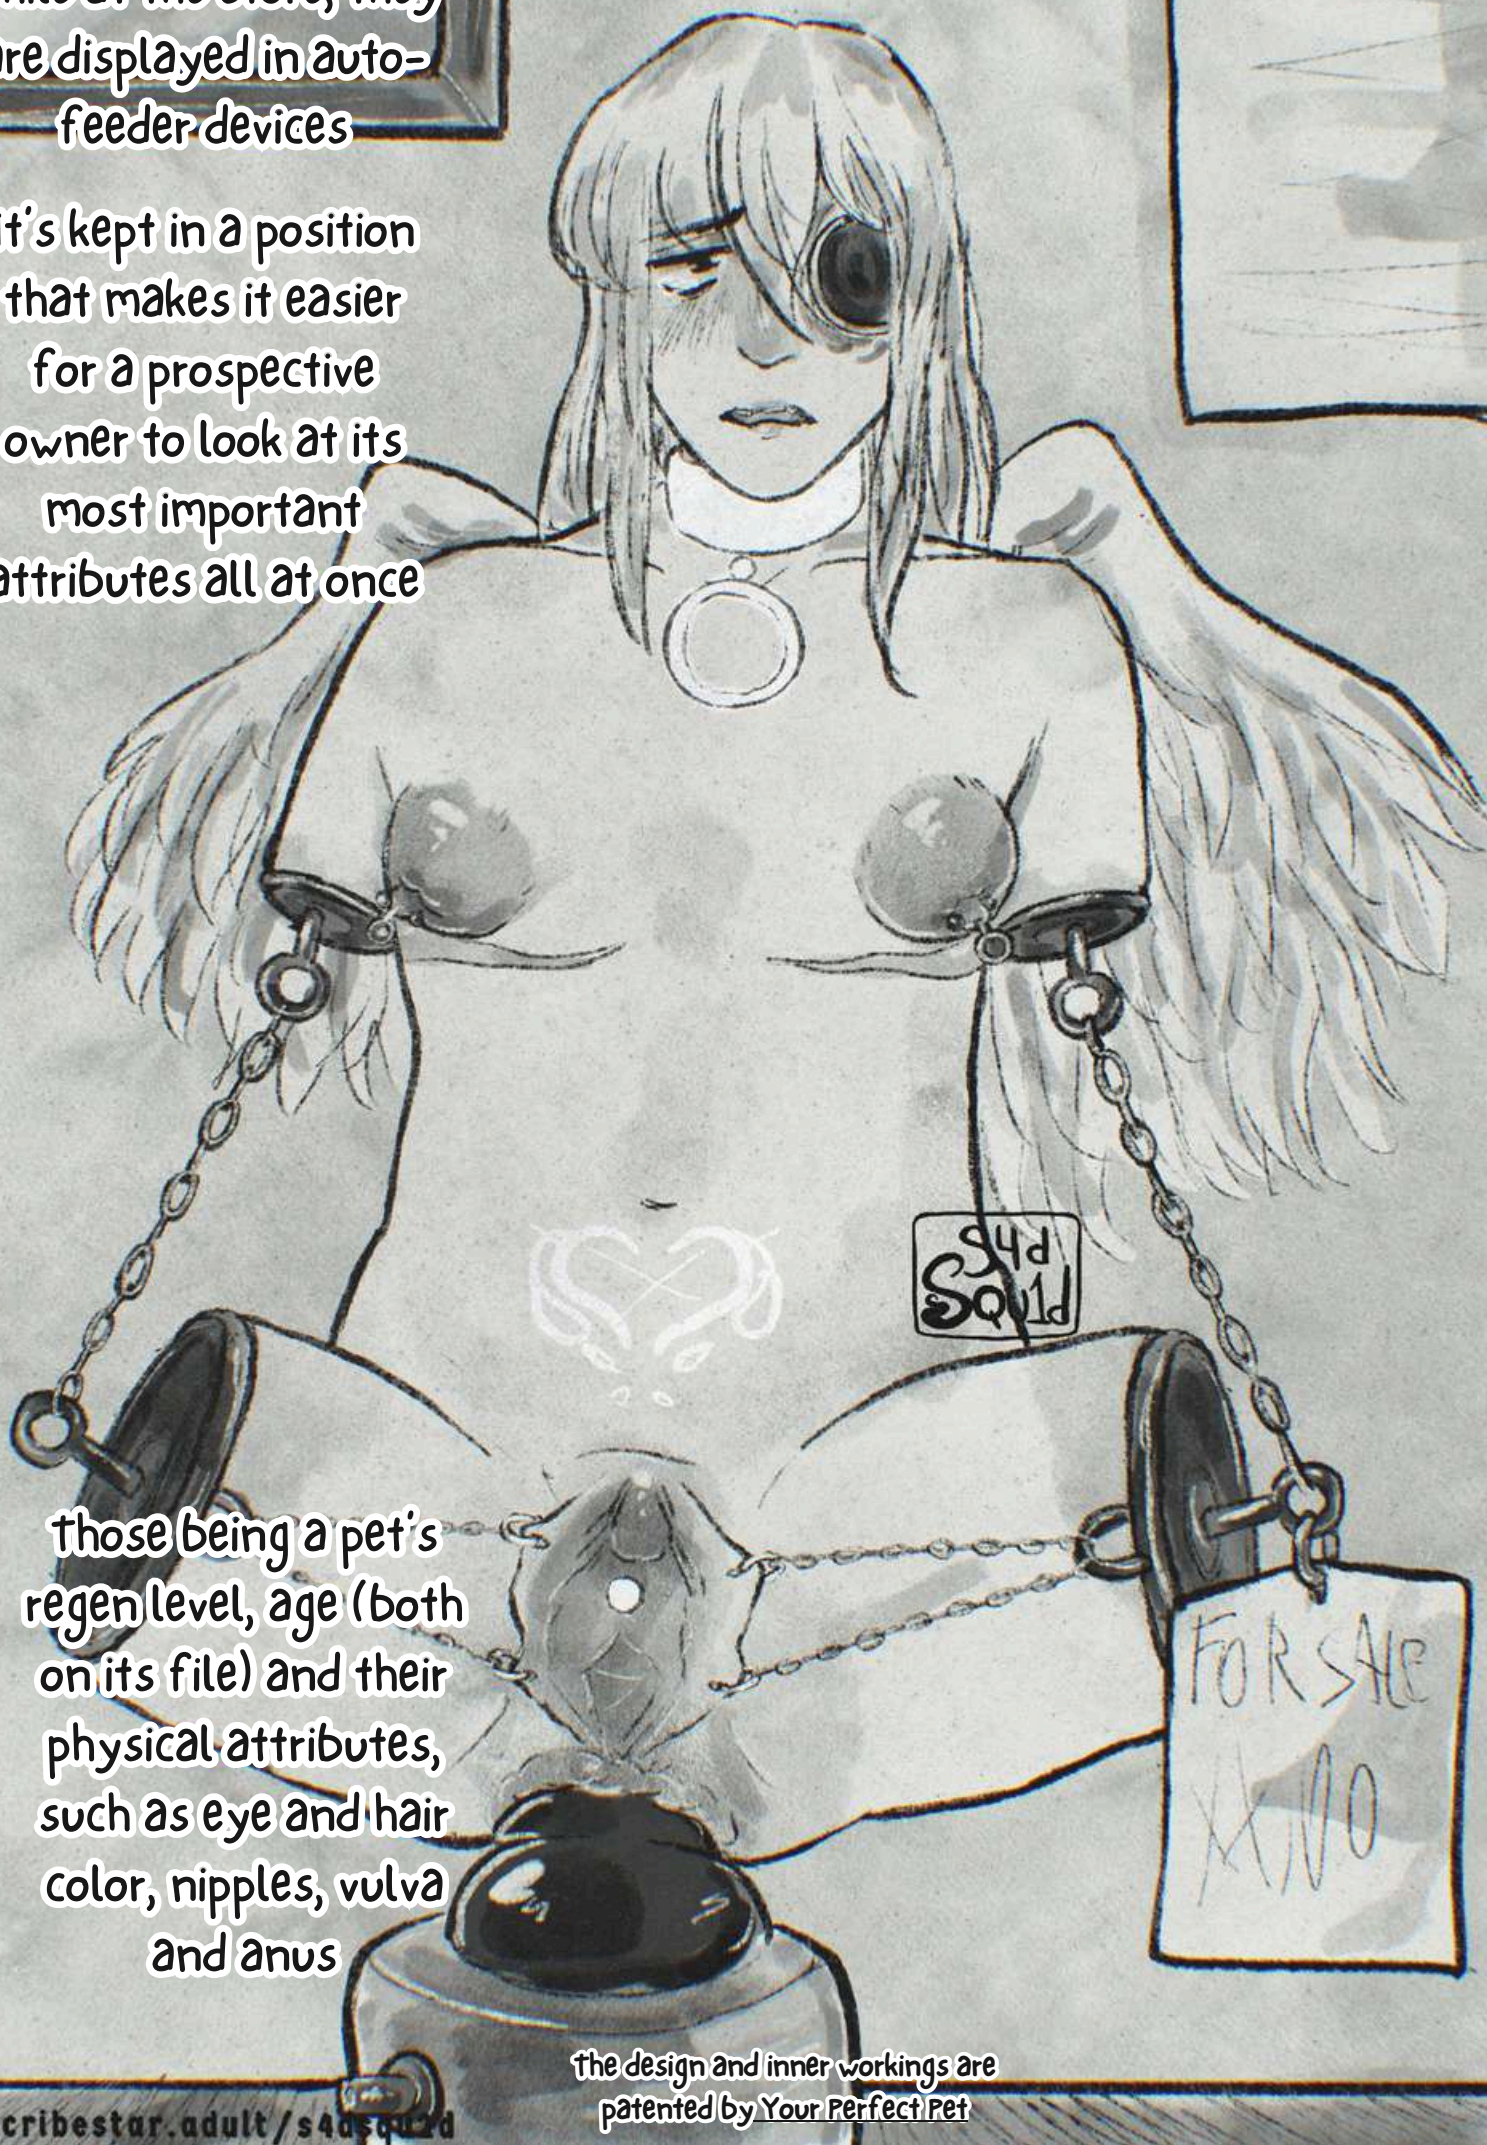

S4d
SQUID

well, almost! It will still need at least a week of bladder training.

while at the store, they are displayed in auto-feeder devices

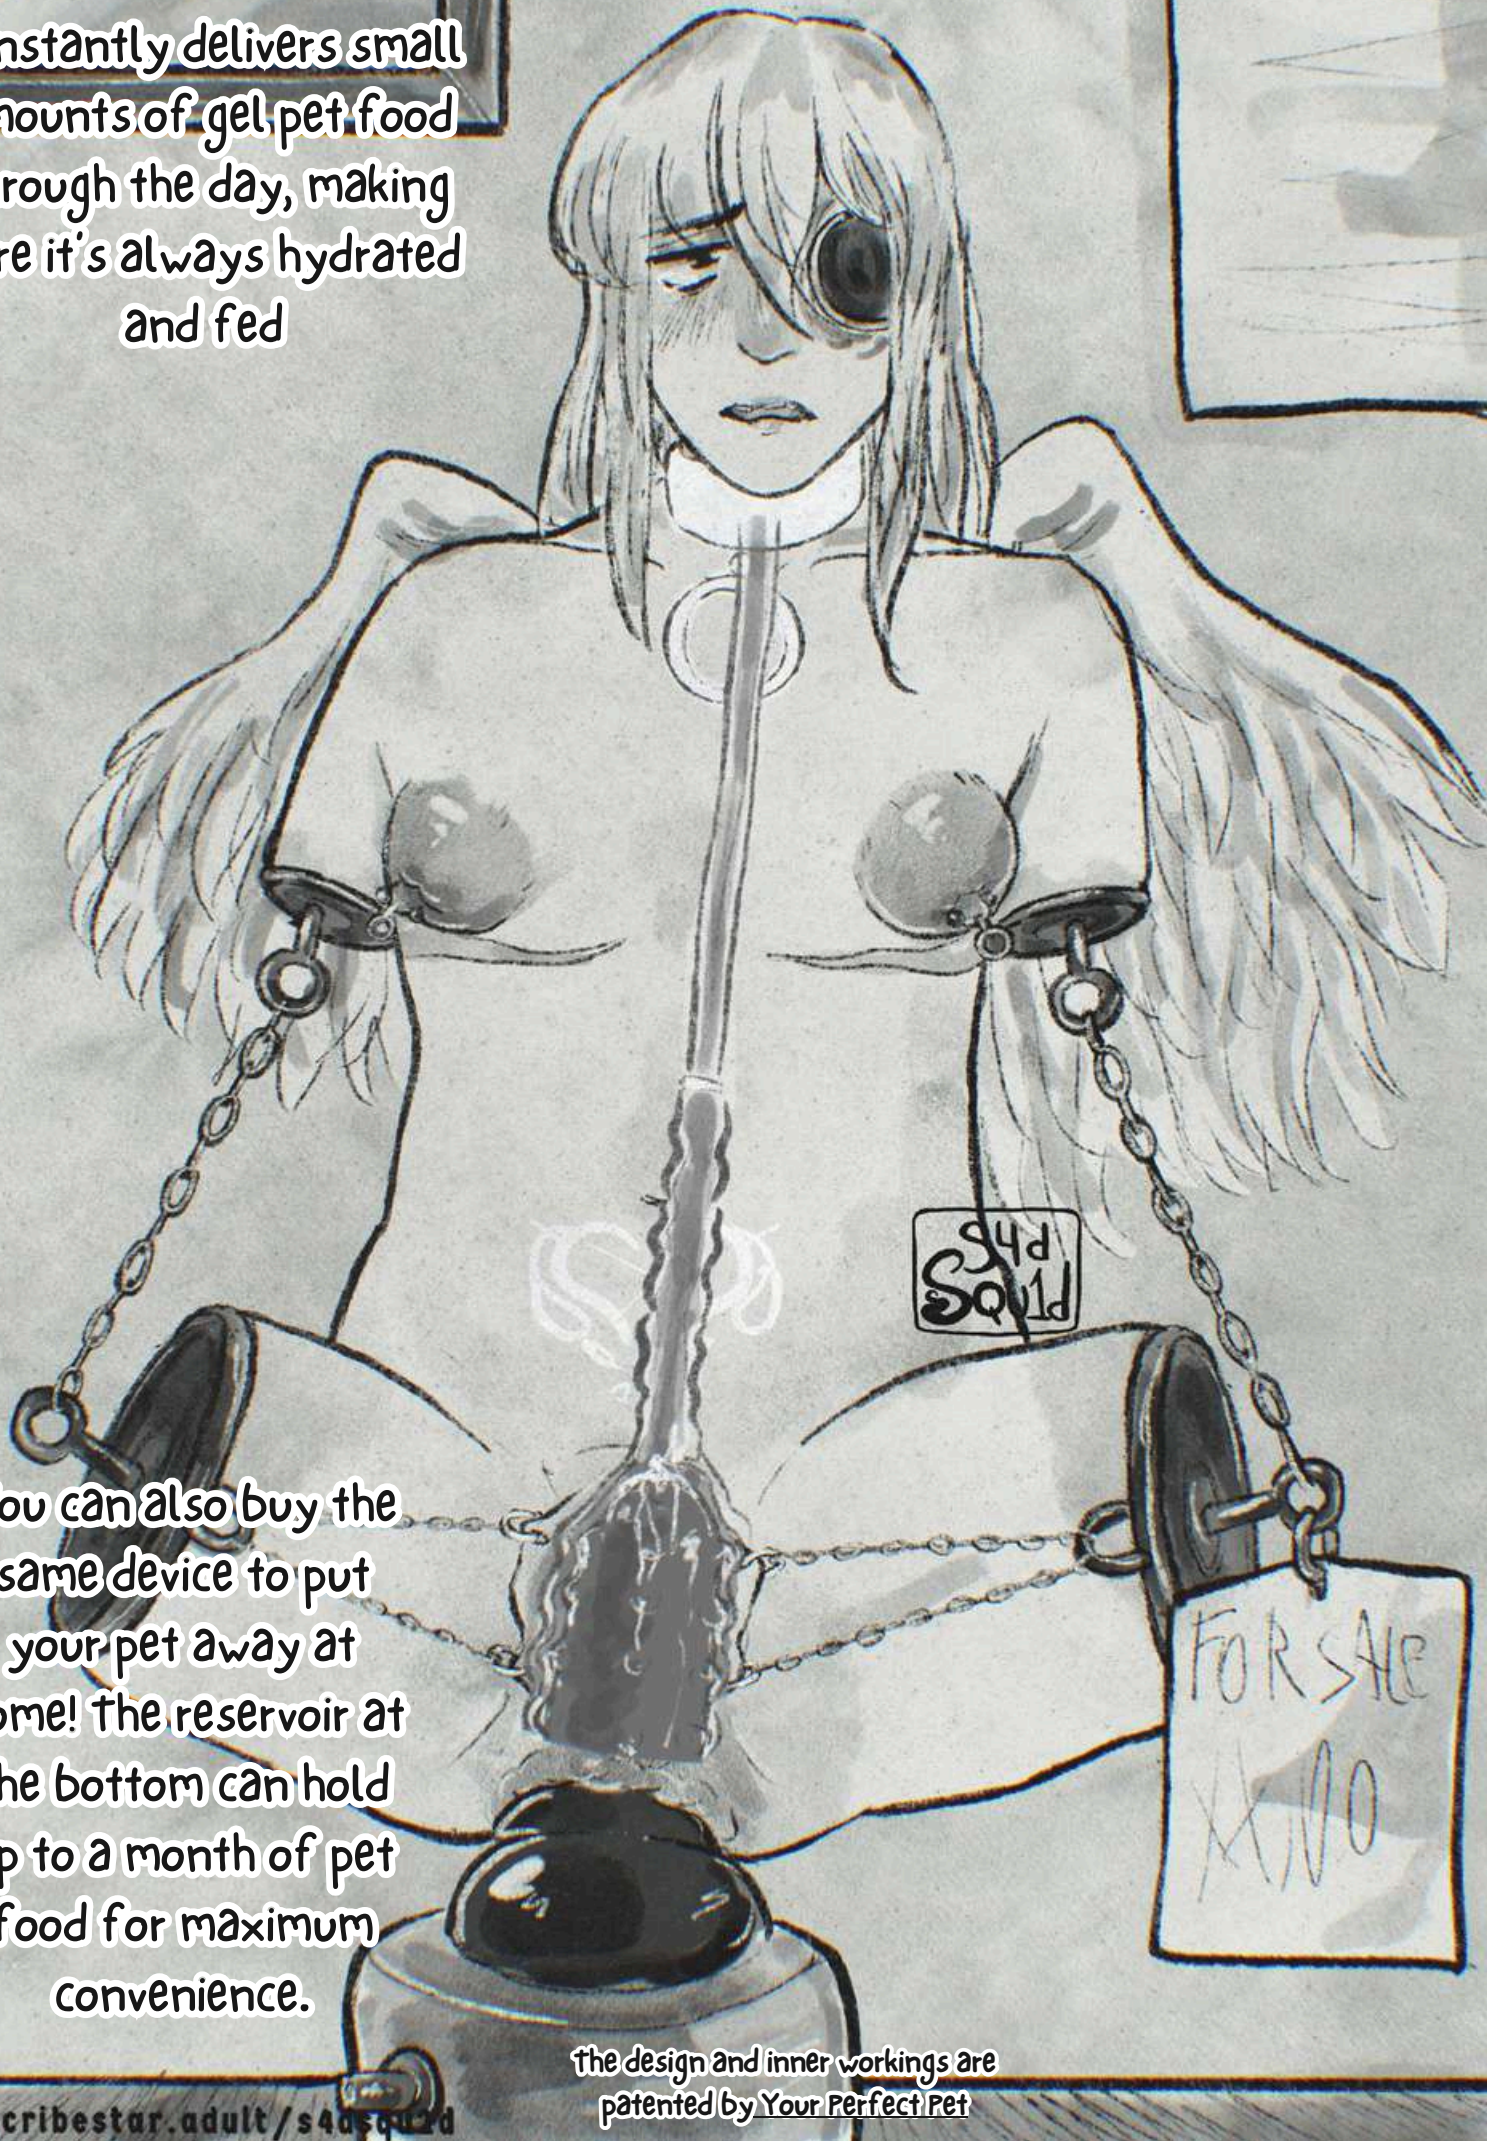

It's kept in a position that makes it easier for a prospective owner to look at its most important attributes all at once

those being a pet's regen level, age (both on its file) and their physical attributes, such as eye and hair color, nipples, vulva and anus

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

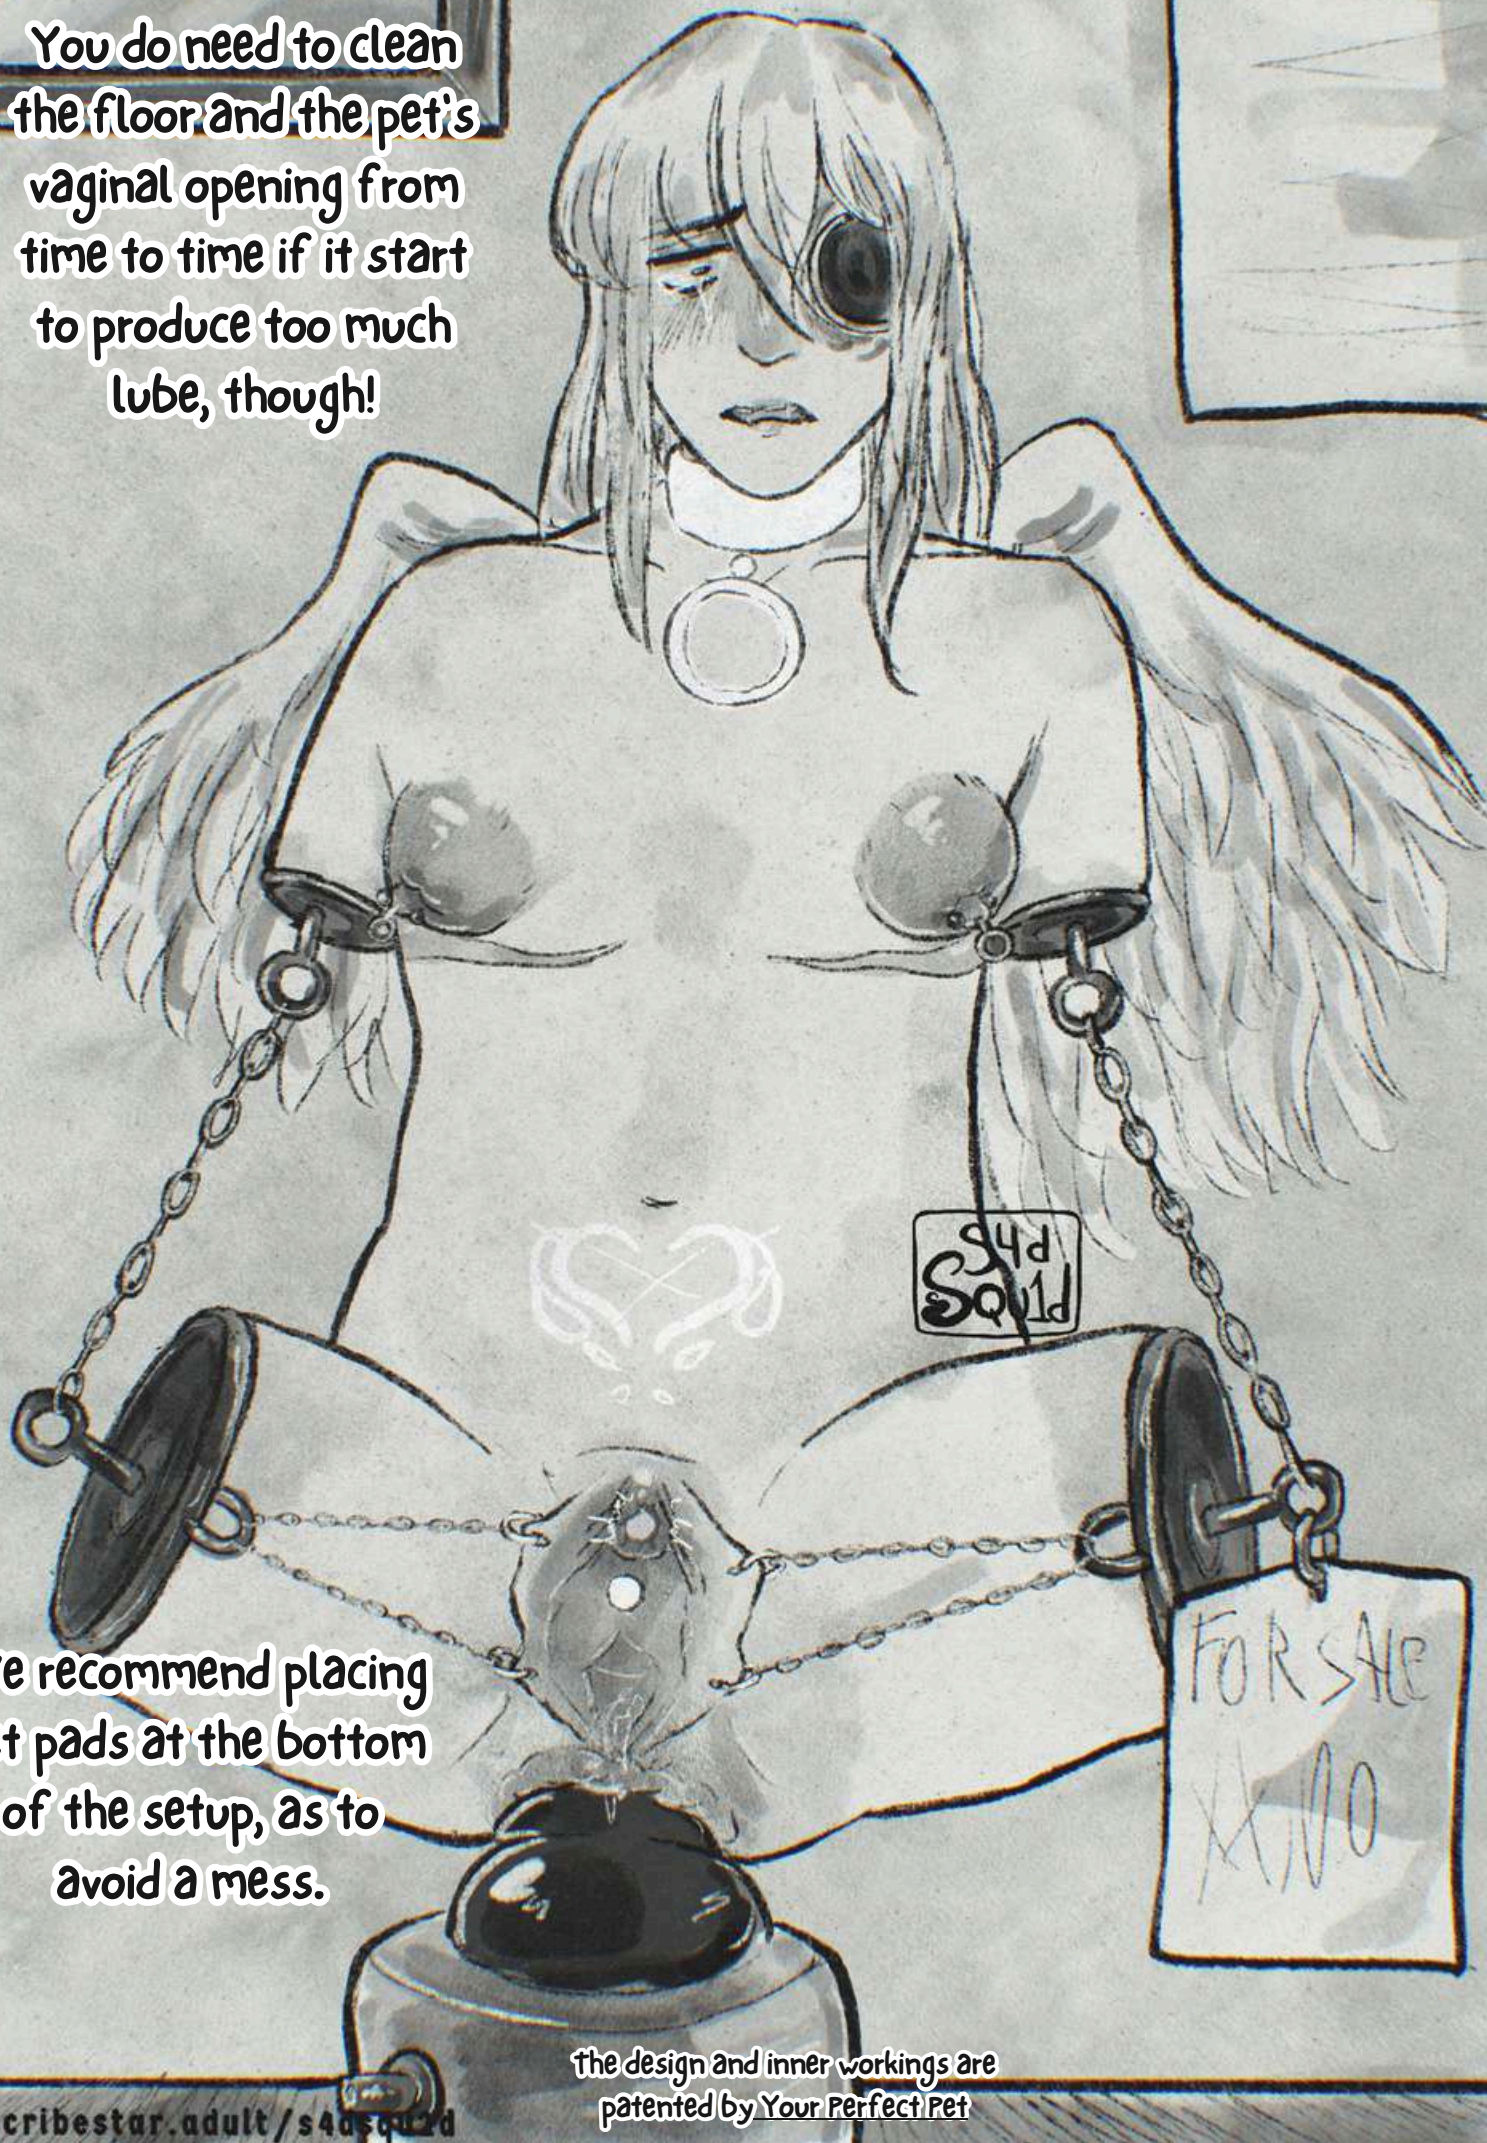

The auto-feeder constantly delivers small amounts of gel pet food through the day, making sure it's always hydrated and fed

You can also buy the same device to put your pet away at home! The reservoir at the bottom can hold up to a month of pet food for maximum convenience.

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

You do need to clean the floor and the pet's vaginal opening from time to time if it starts to produce too much lube, though!

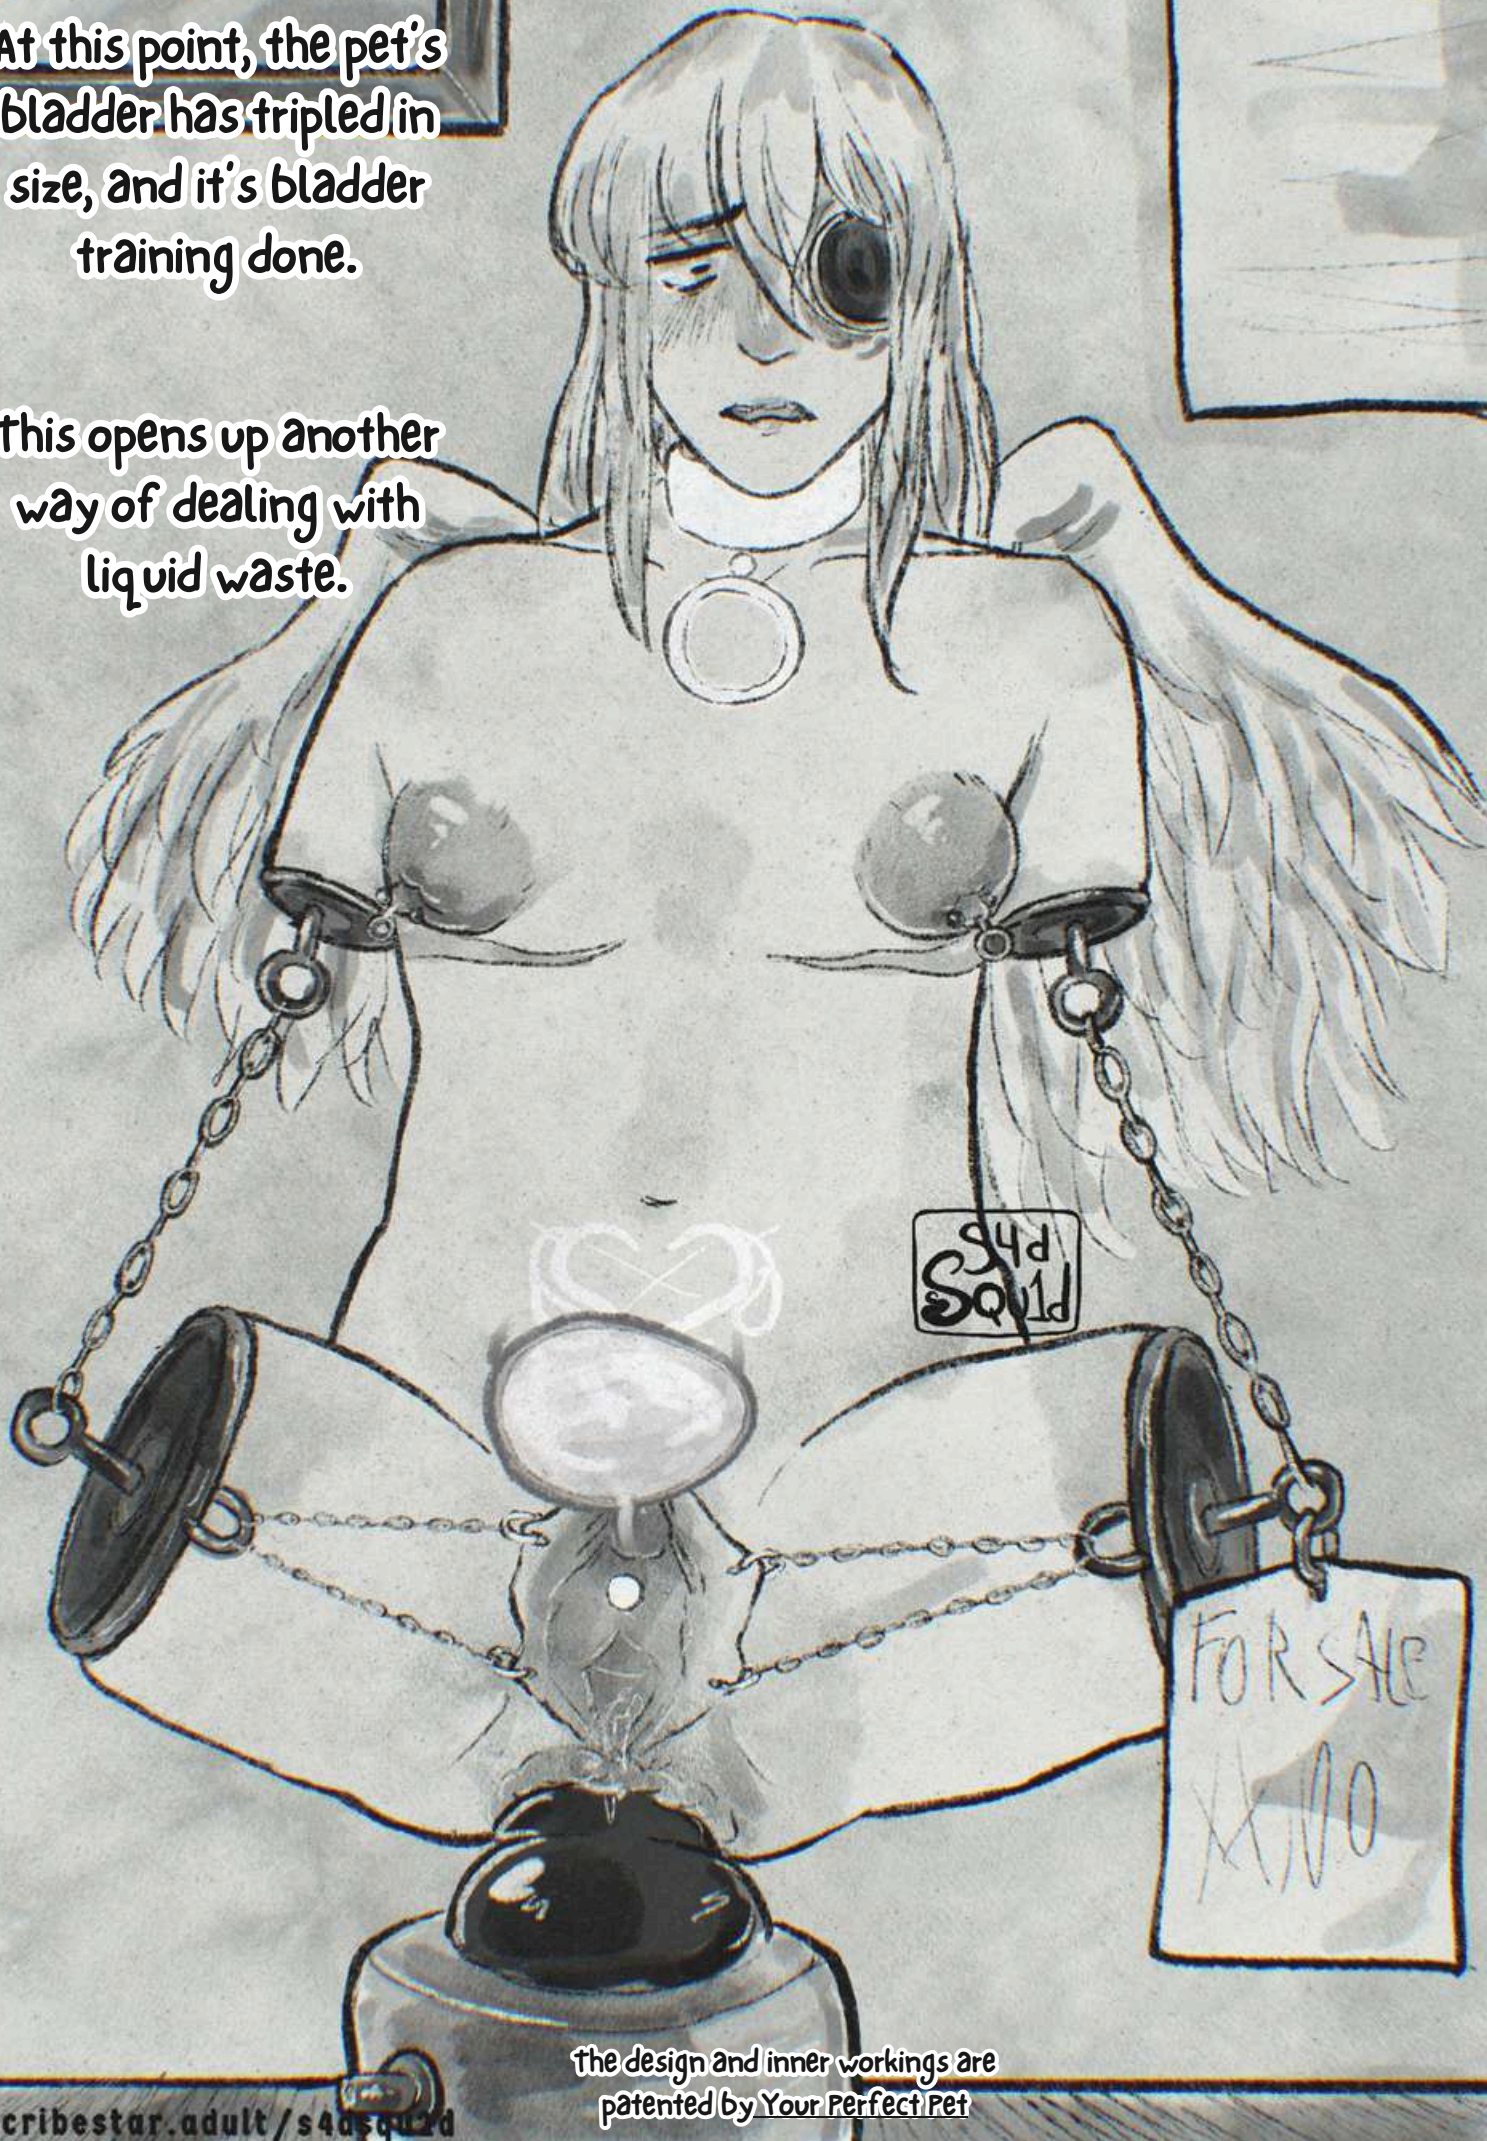

We recommend placing pet pads at the bottom of the setup, as to avoid a mess.

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

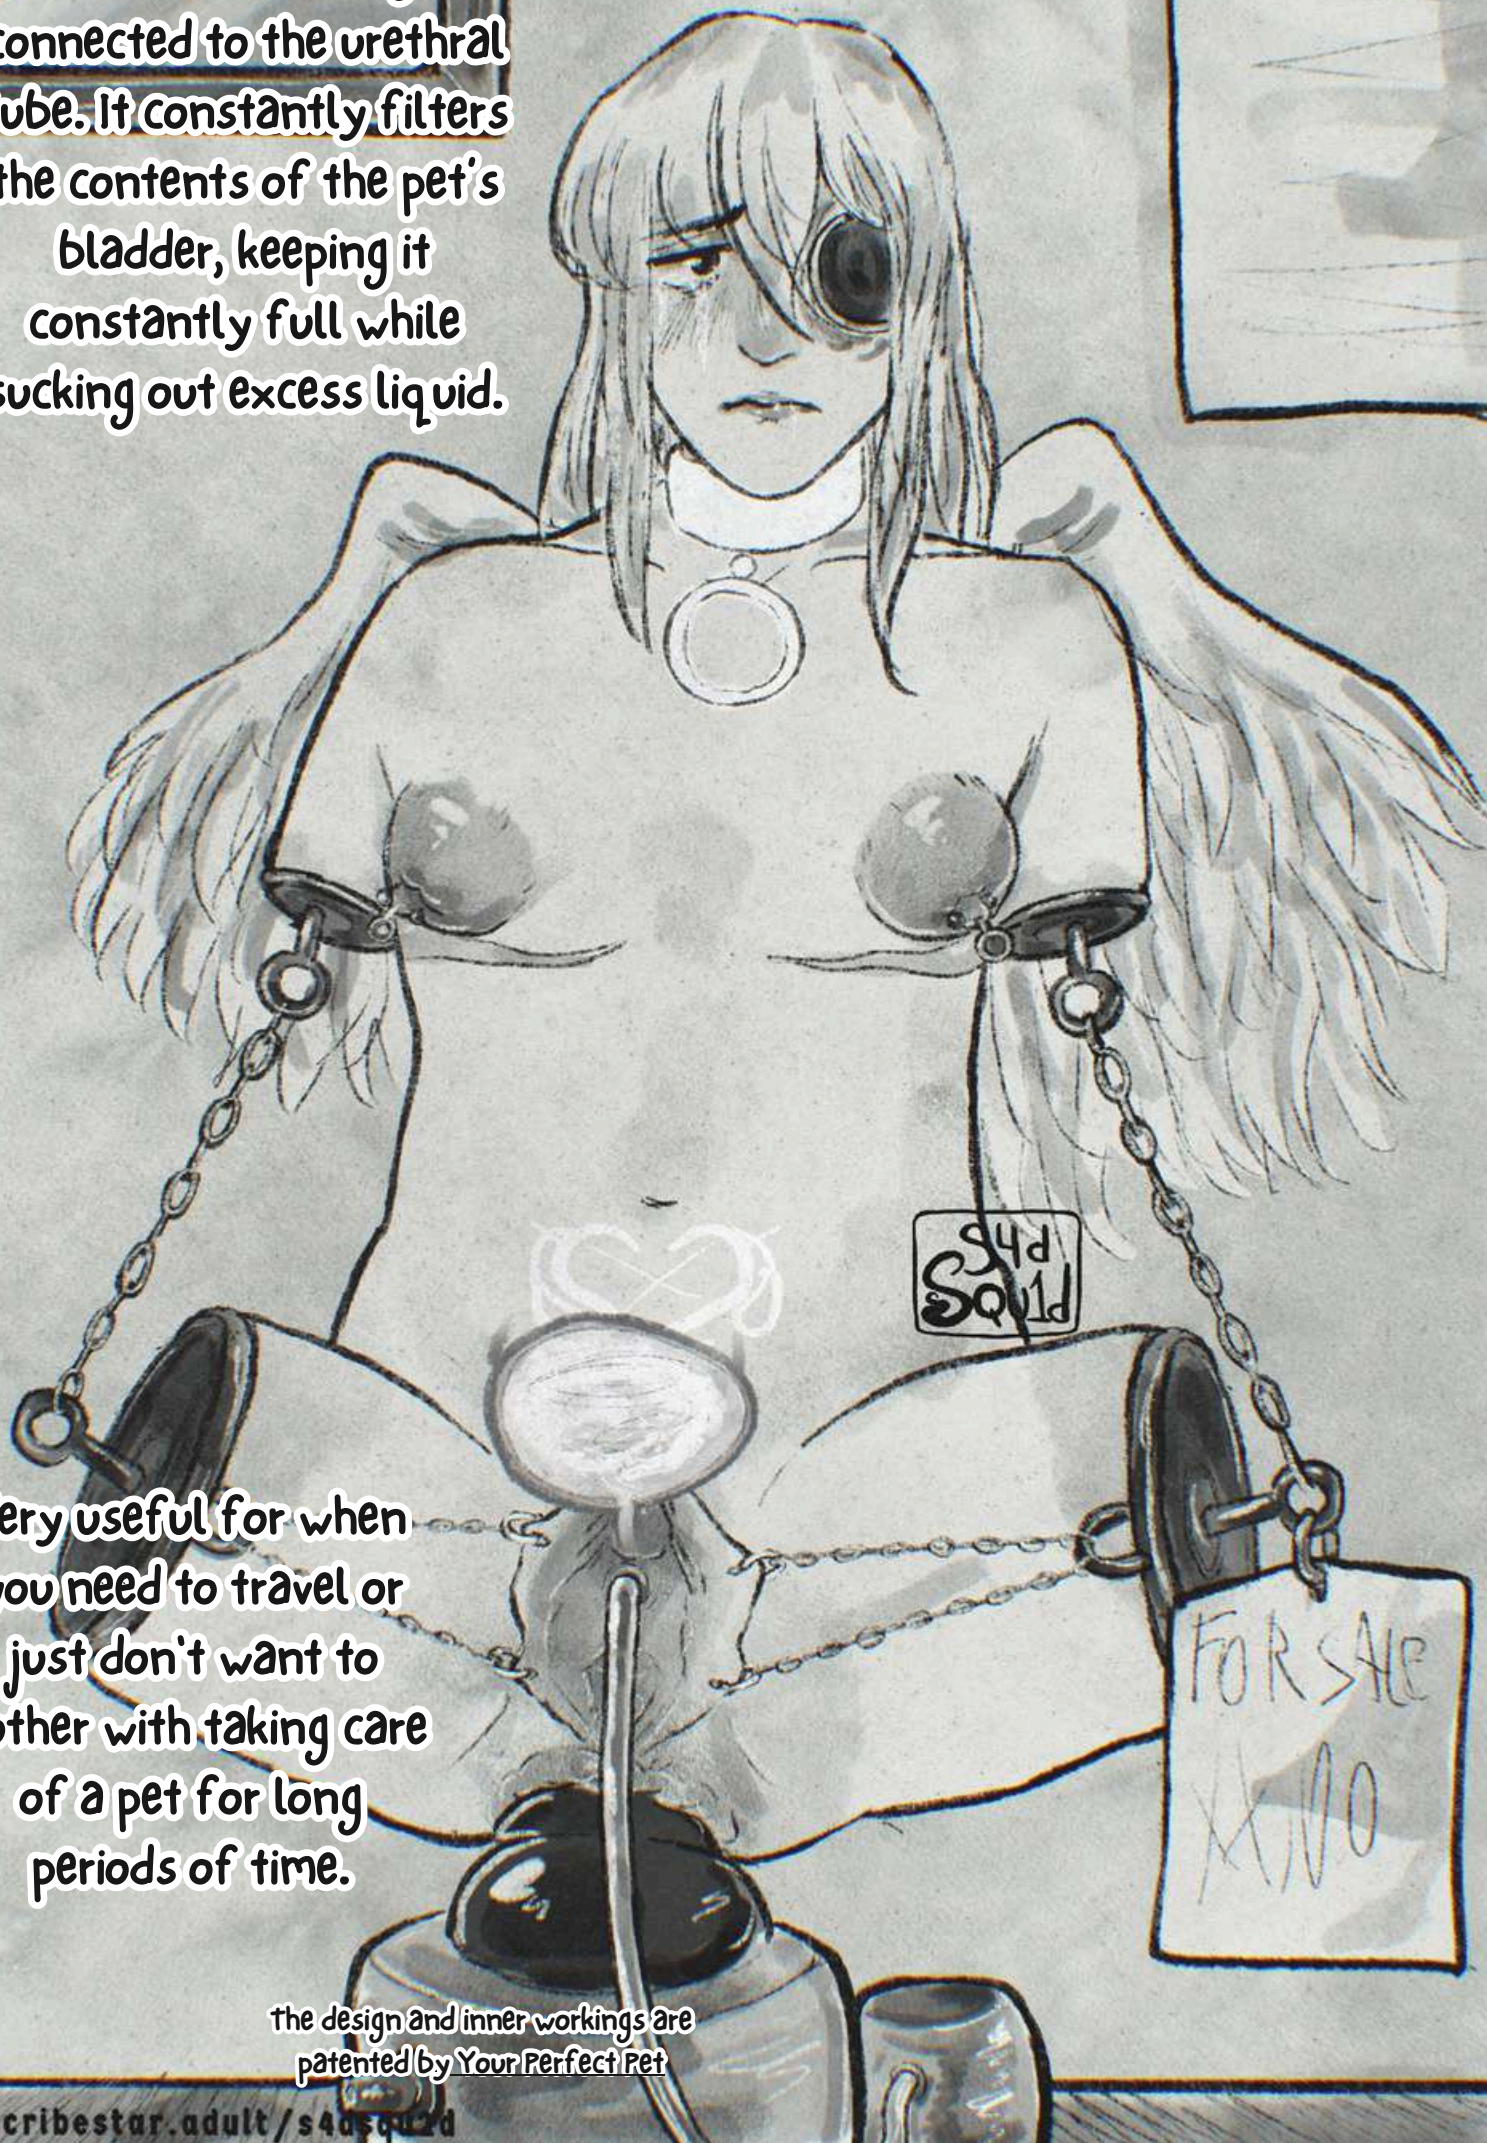

At this point, the pet's bladder has tripled in size, and it's bladder training done.

This opens up another way of dealing with liquid waste.

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

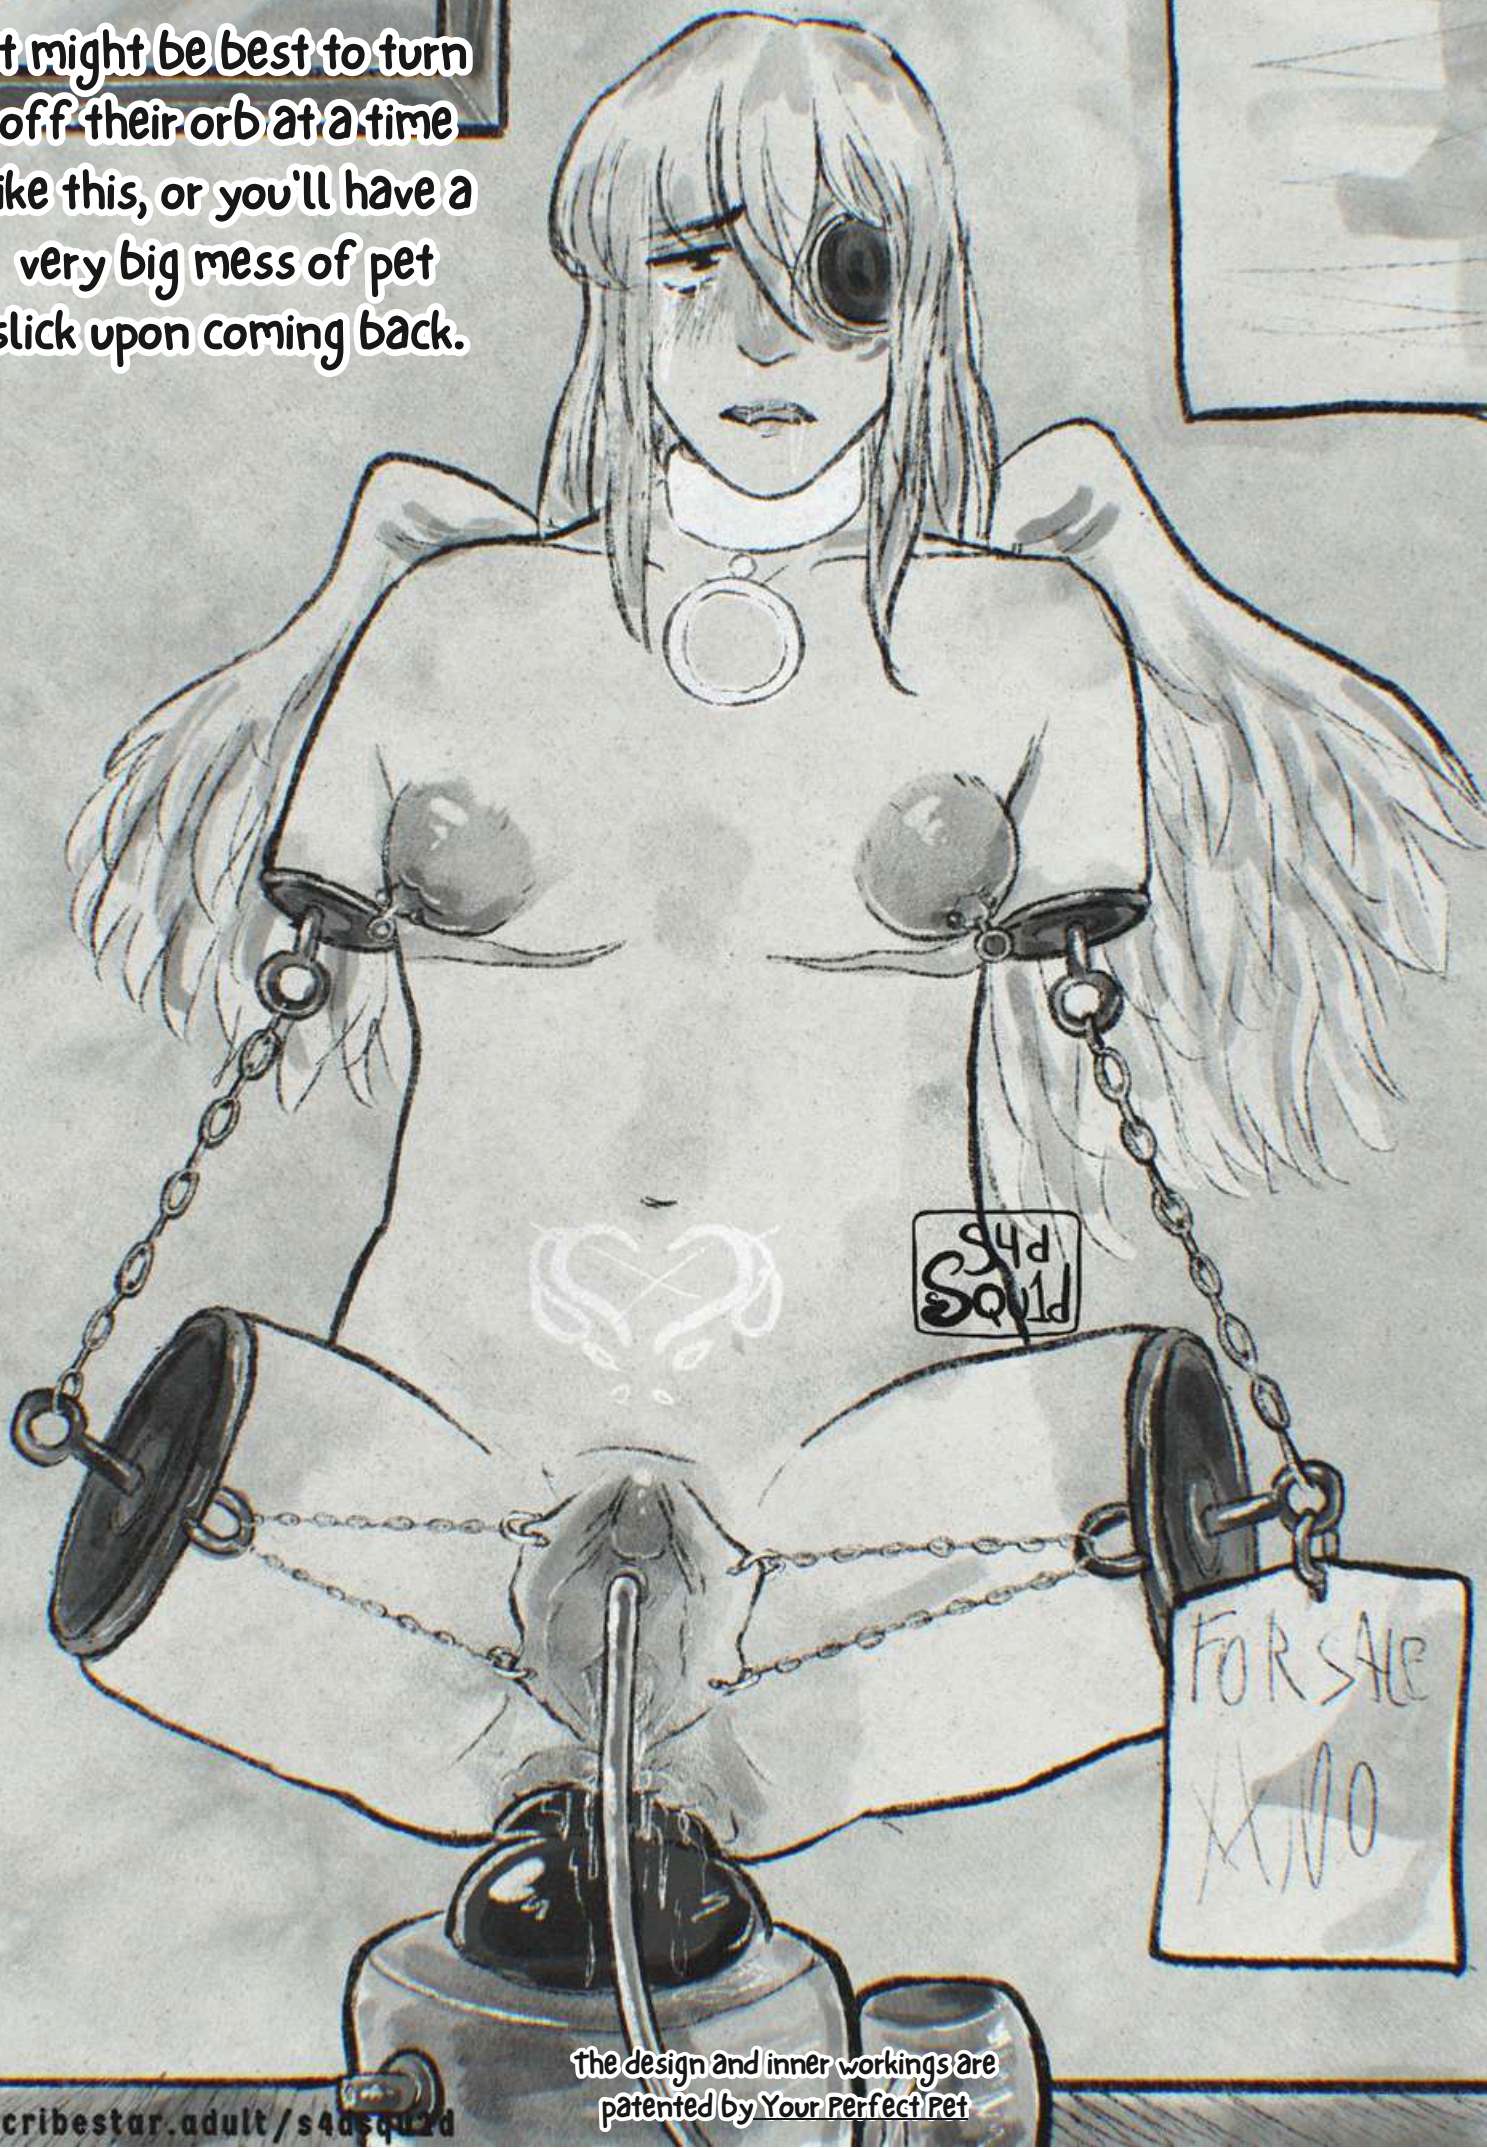

A second device may be connected to the urethral tube. It constantly filters the contents of the pet's bladder, keeping it constantly full while sucking out excess liquid.

Very useful for when you need to travel or just don't want to bother with taking care of a pet for long periods of time.

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

It might be best to turn off their orb at a time like this, or you'll have a very big mess of pet slick upon coming back.

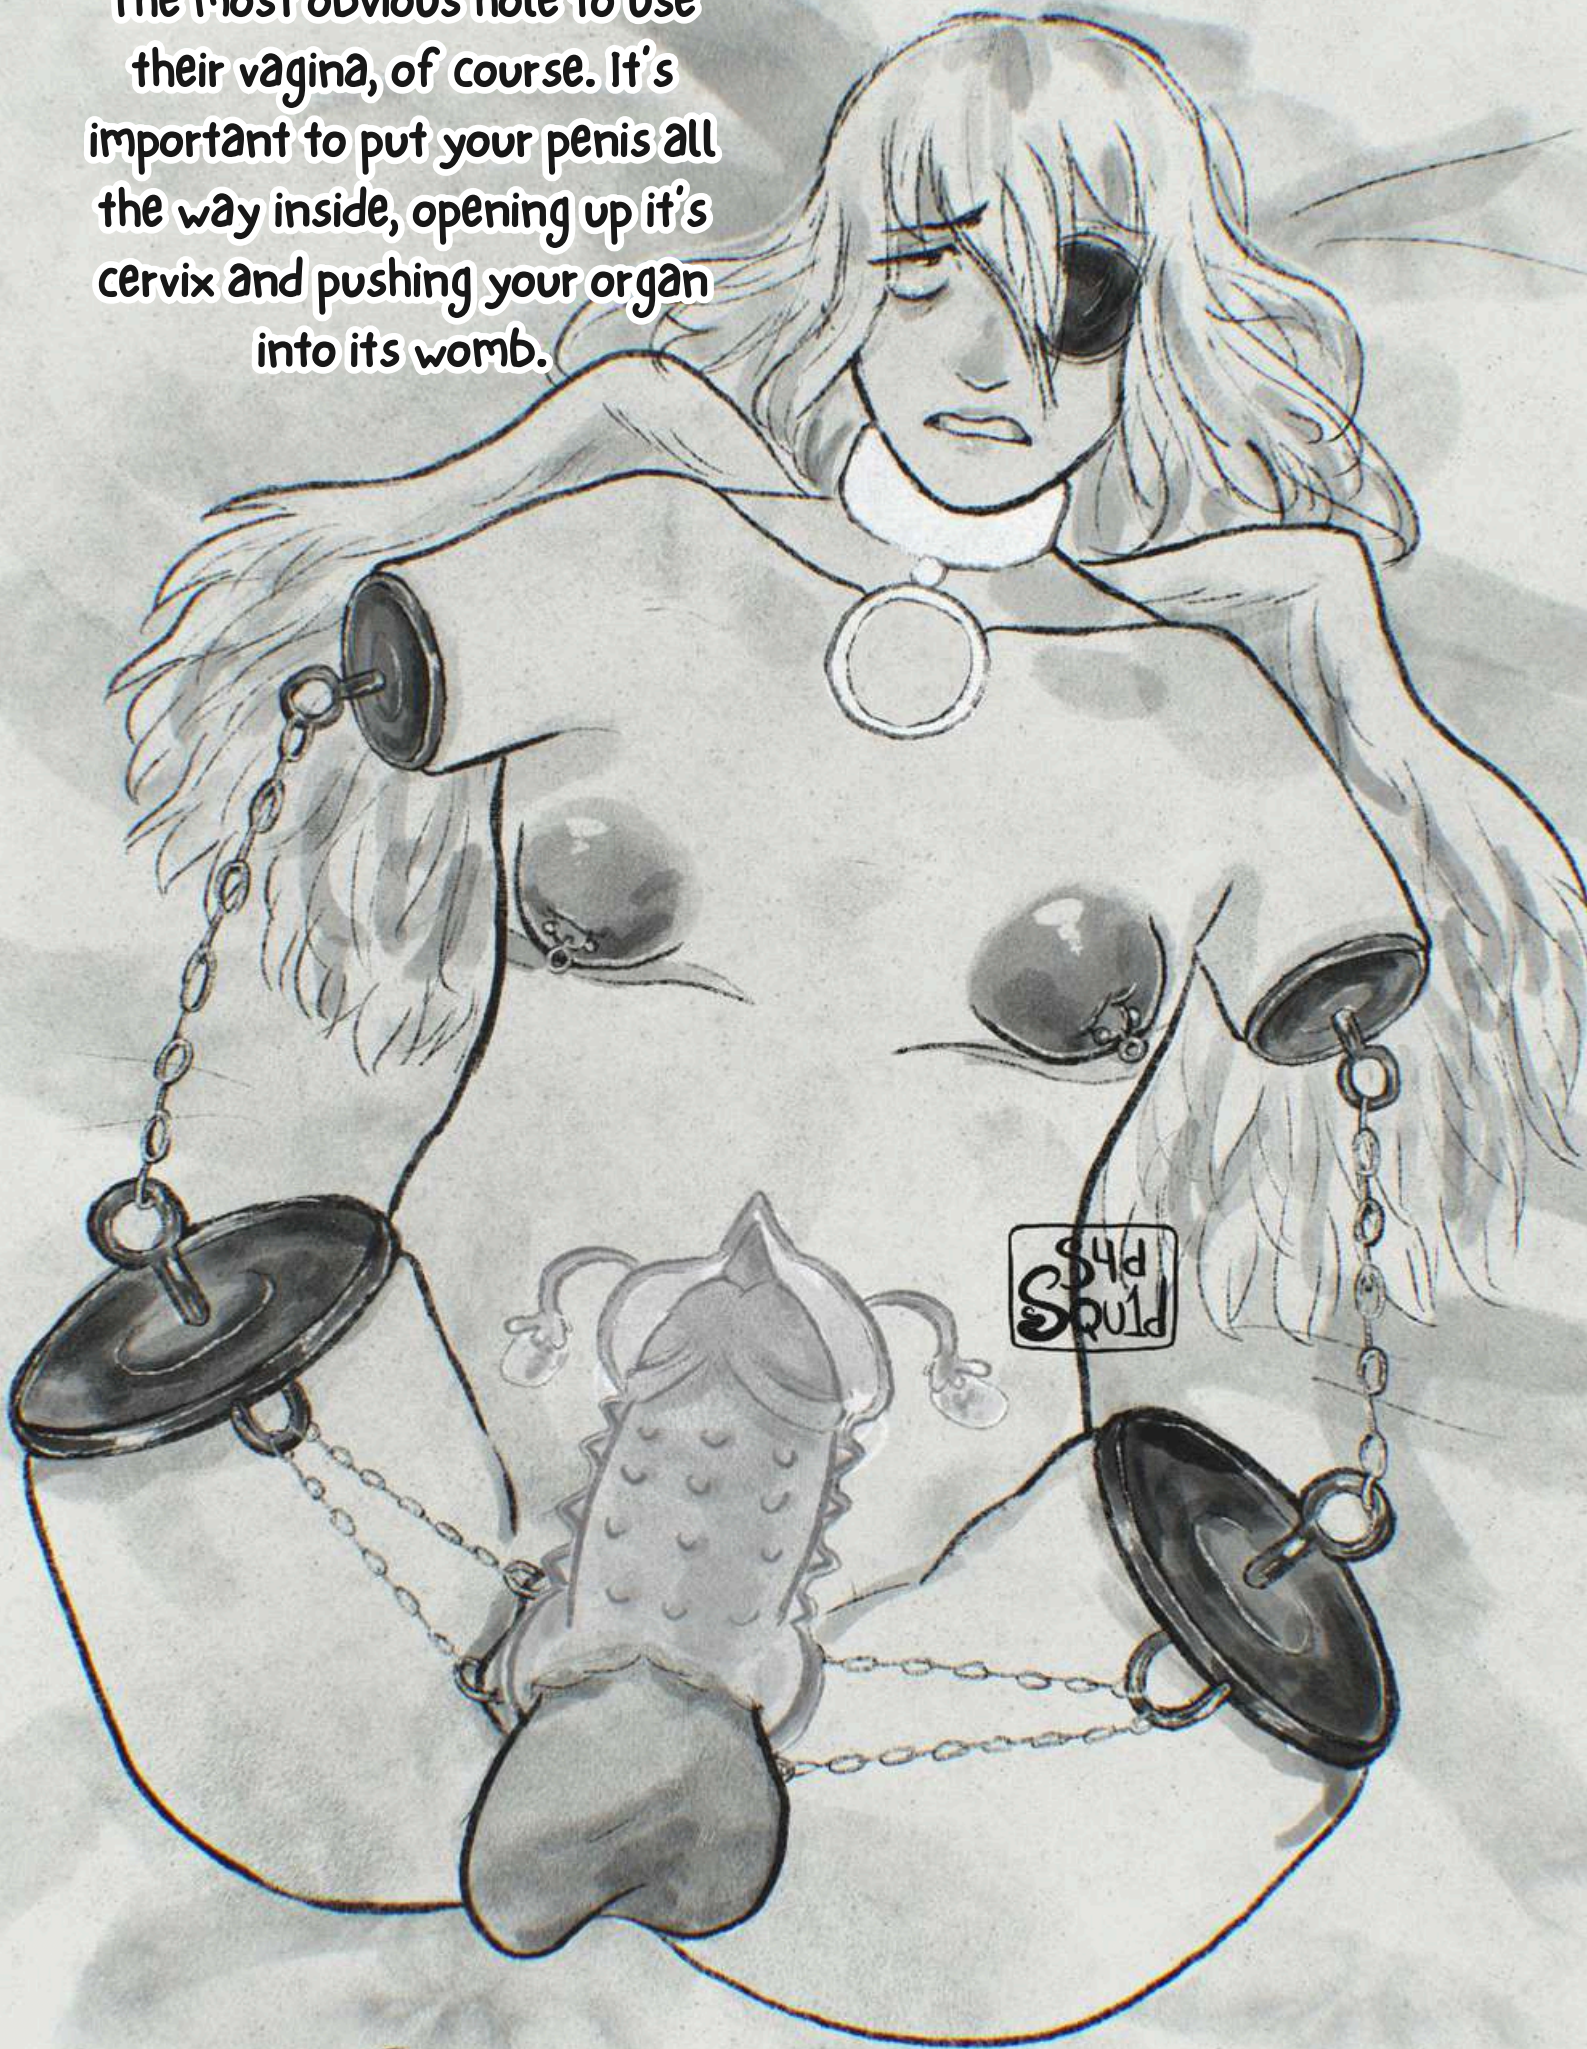

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

Once you buy a pet, the next step it, of course, to use them!

Because we'll be using this pet for demonstration purposes, we pulled it from our store.

The most obvious hole to use their vagina, of course. It's important to put your penis all the way inside, opening up it's cervix and pushing your organ into its womb.

S4d
Squid

It might be hard doing it for the first time on a virgin pet, due to how tight it's cervix will be, but it will go away after the first use, don't worry.

A pet's cervix will chemically react to being in contact with semen and will soften permanently.

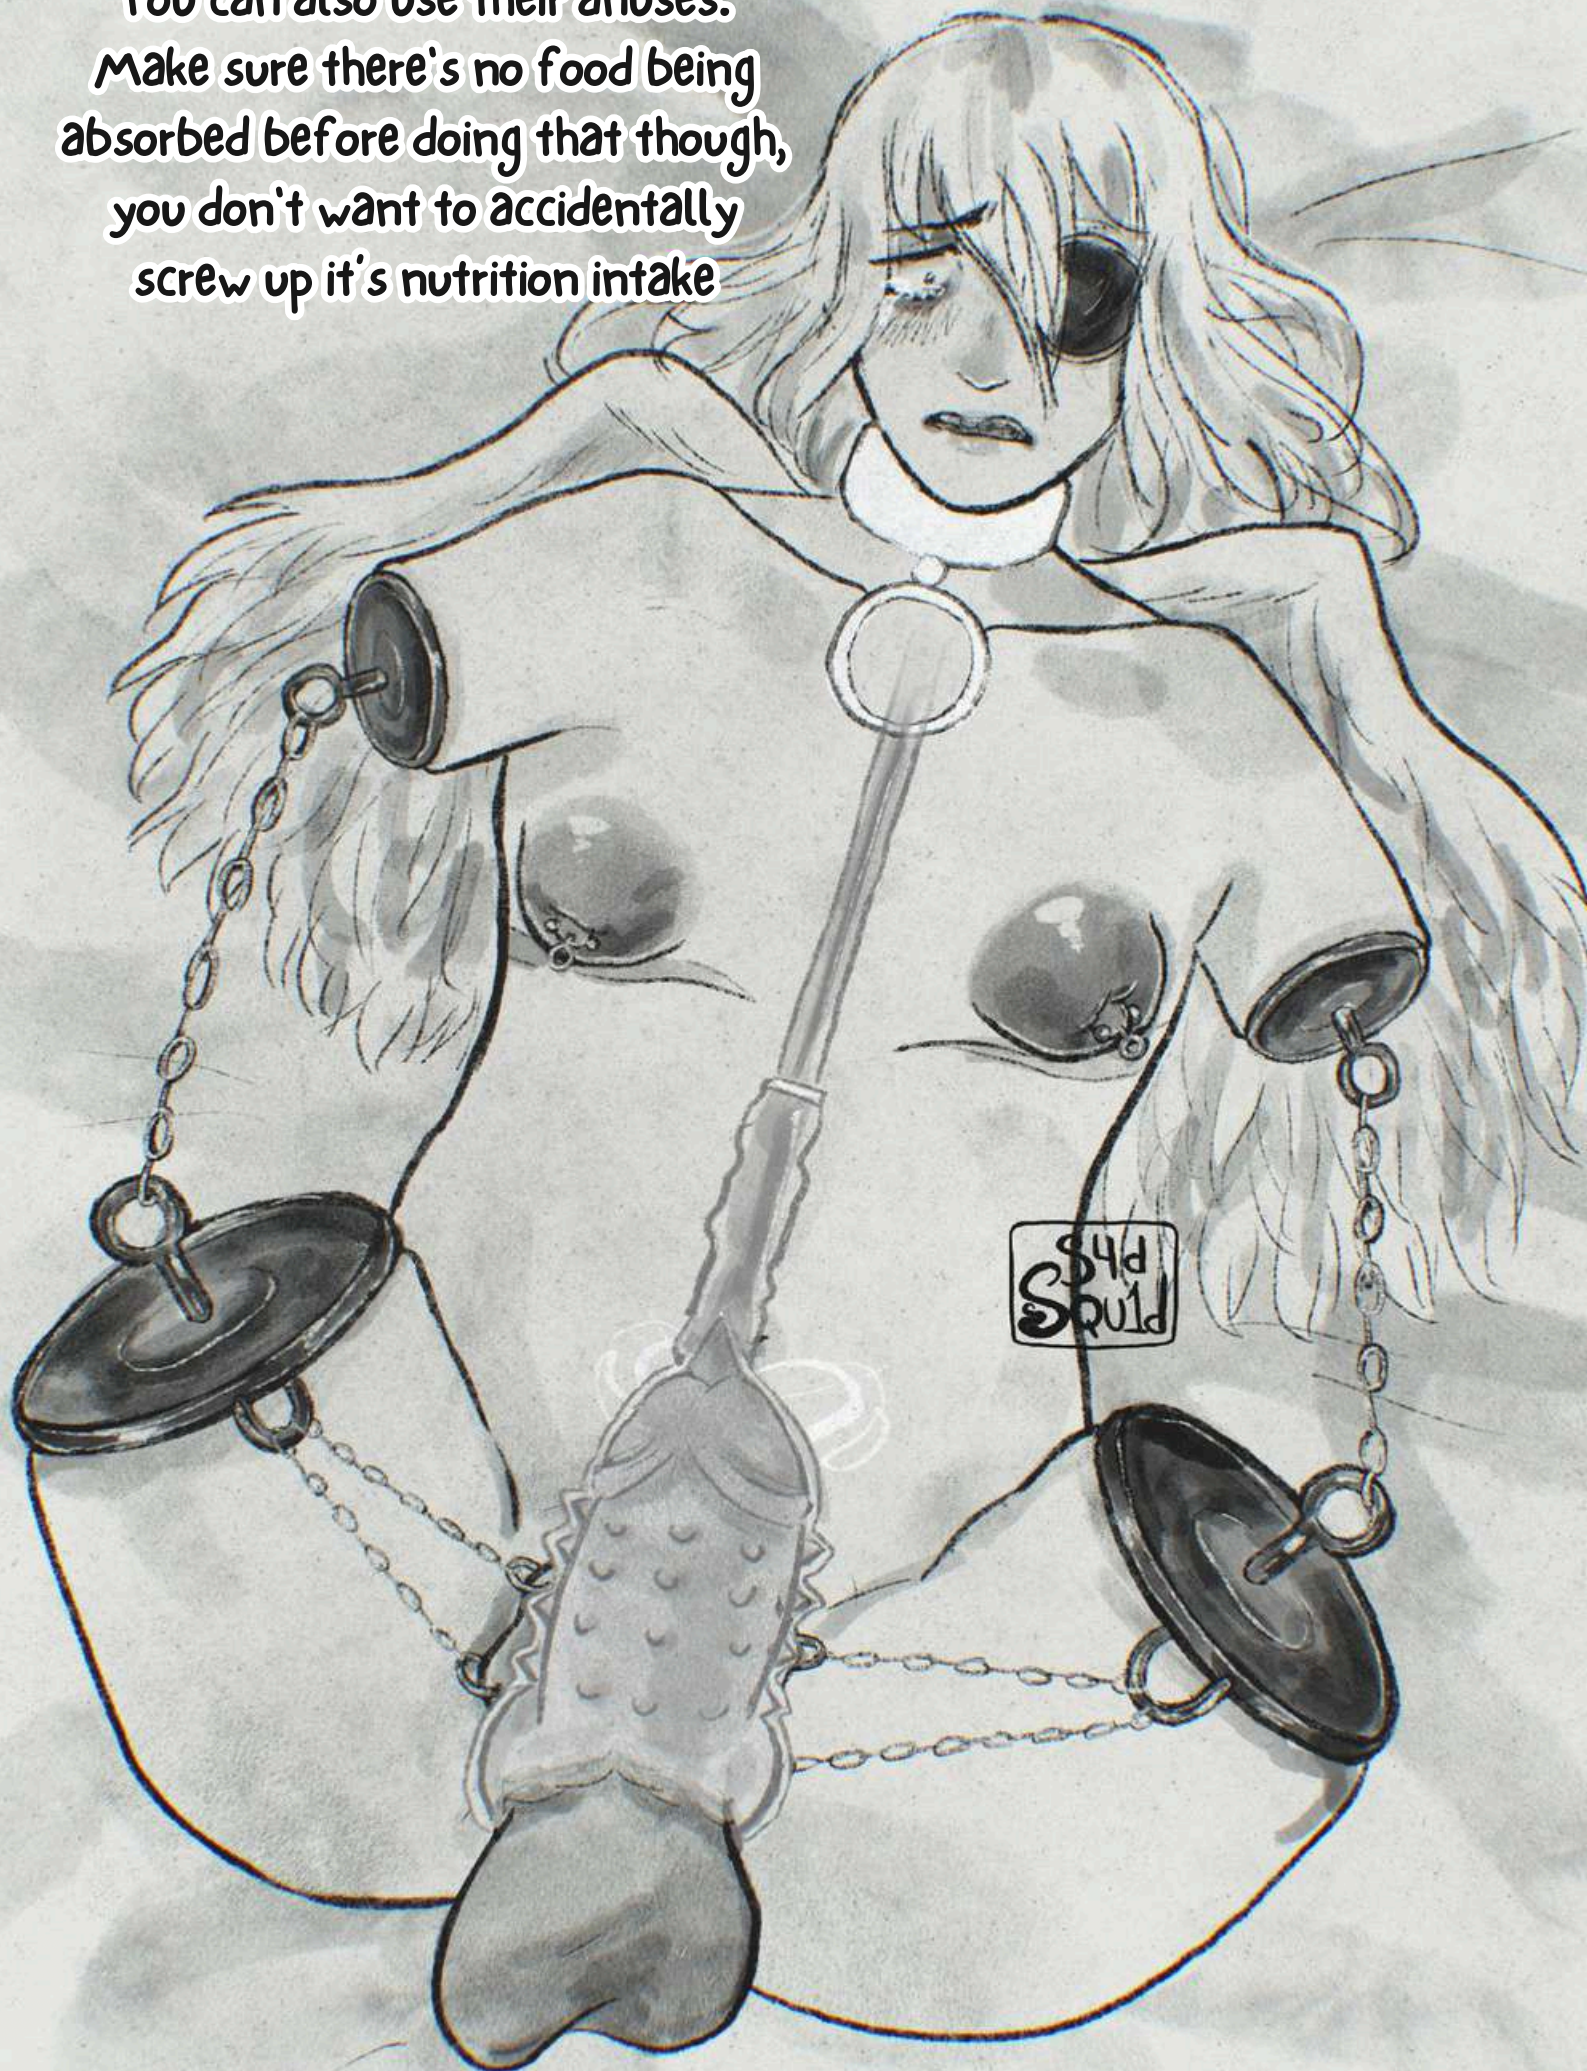

Some modders will loosen them up inside before selling, but we believe in preserving it, as it is the only undeniable proof that a pet has never been used.

Demons ejaculate for long enough to overfill a pet's womb, so its belly might get a bit swollen if you knot and cum inside of them. This is perfectly normal.

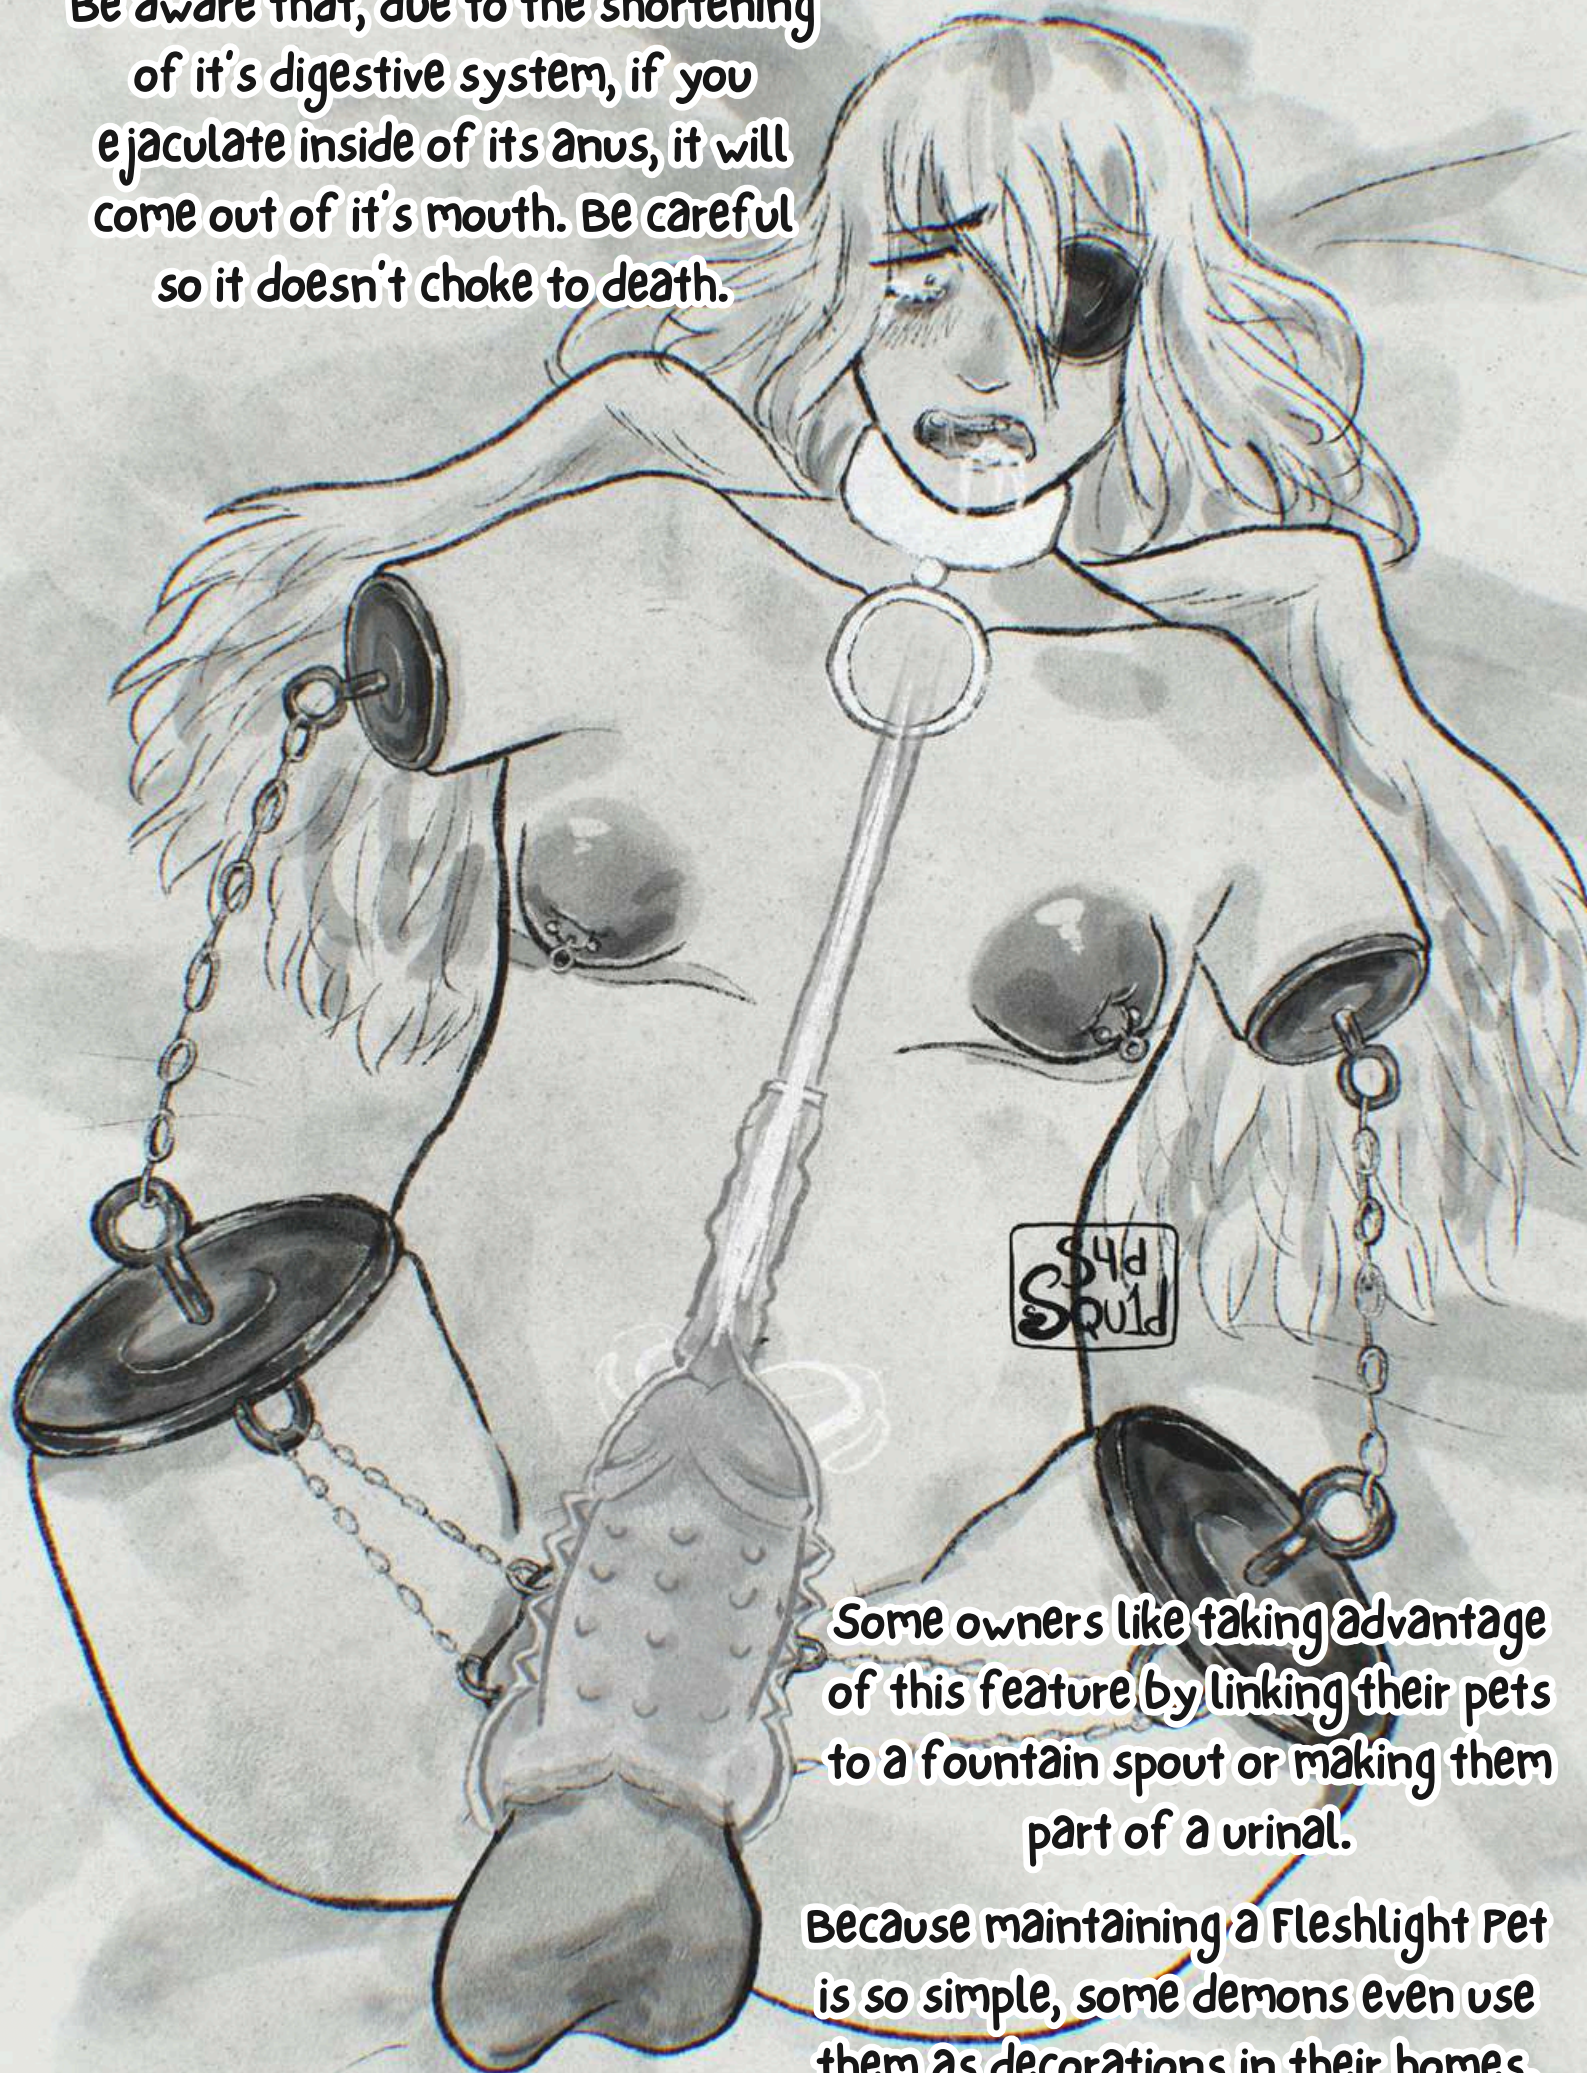

It's how it's bodies know it's time to ovulate!

You can also use their anuses.
Make sure there's no food being absorbed before doing that though, you don't want to accidentally screw up it's nutrition intake

S4d
Squid

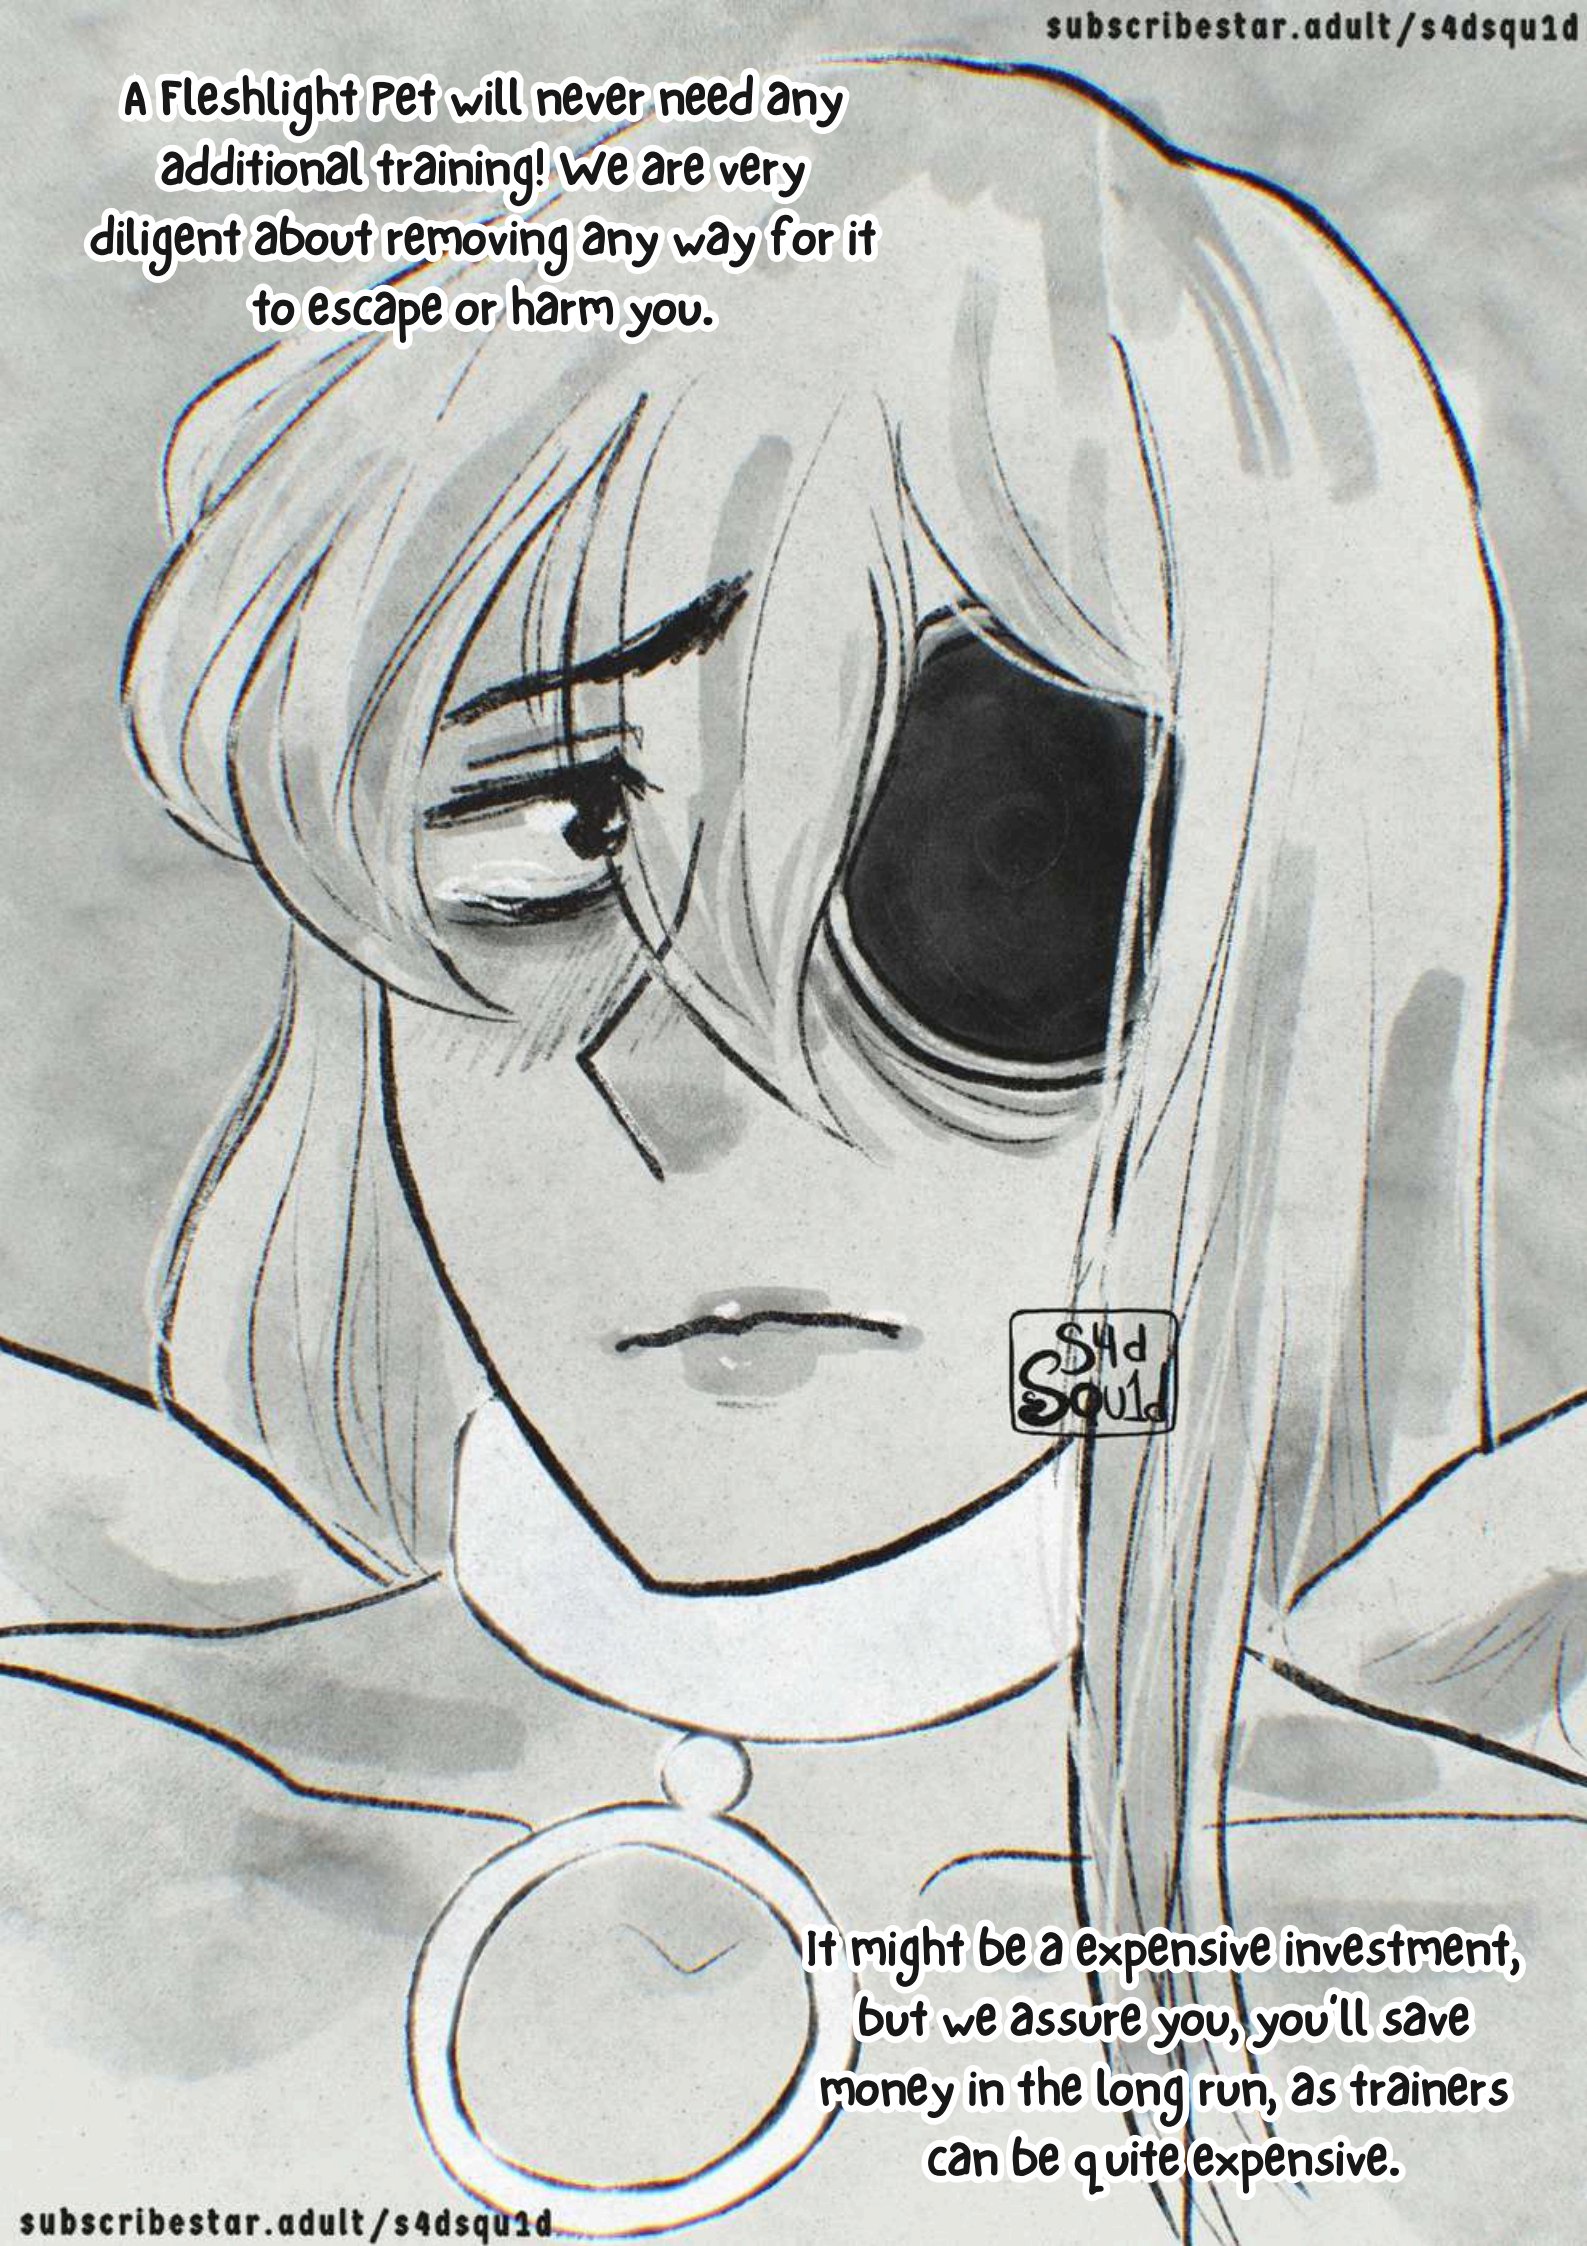

Be aware that, due to the shortening of its digestive system, if you ejaculate inside of its anus, it will come out of its mouth. Be careful so it doesn't choke to death.

Some owners like taking advantage of this feature by linking their pets to a fountain spout or making them part of a urinal.

Because maintaining a Fleshlight Pet is so simple, some demons even use them as decorations in their homes.

A Fleshlight Pet will never need any additional training! We are very diligent about removing any way for it to escape or harm you.

S4d
Sou1d

It might be a expensive investment, but we assure you, you'll save money in the long run, as trainers can be quite expensive.

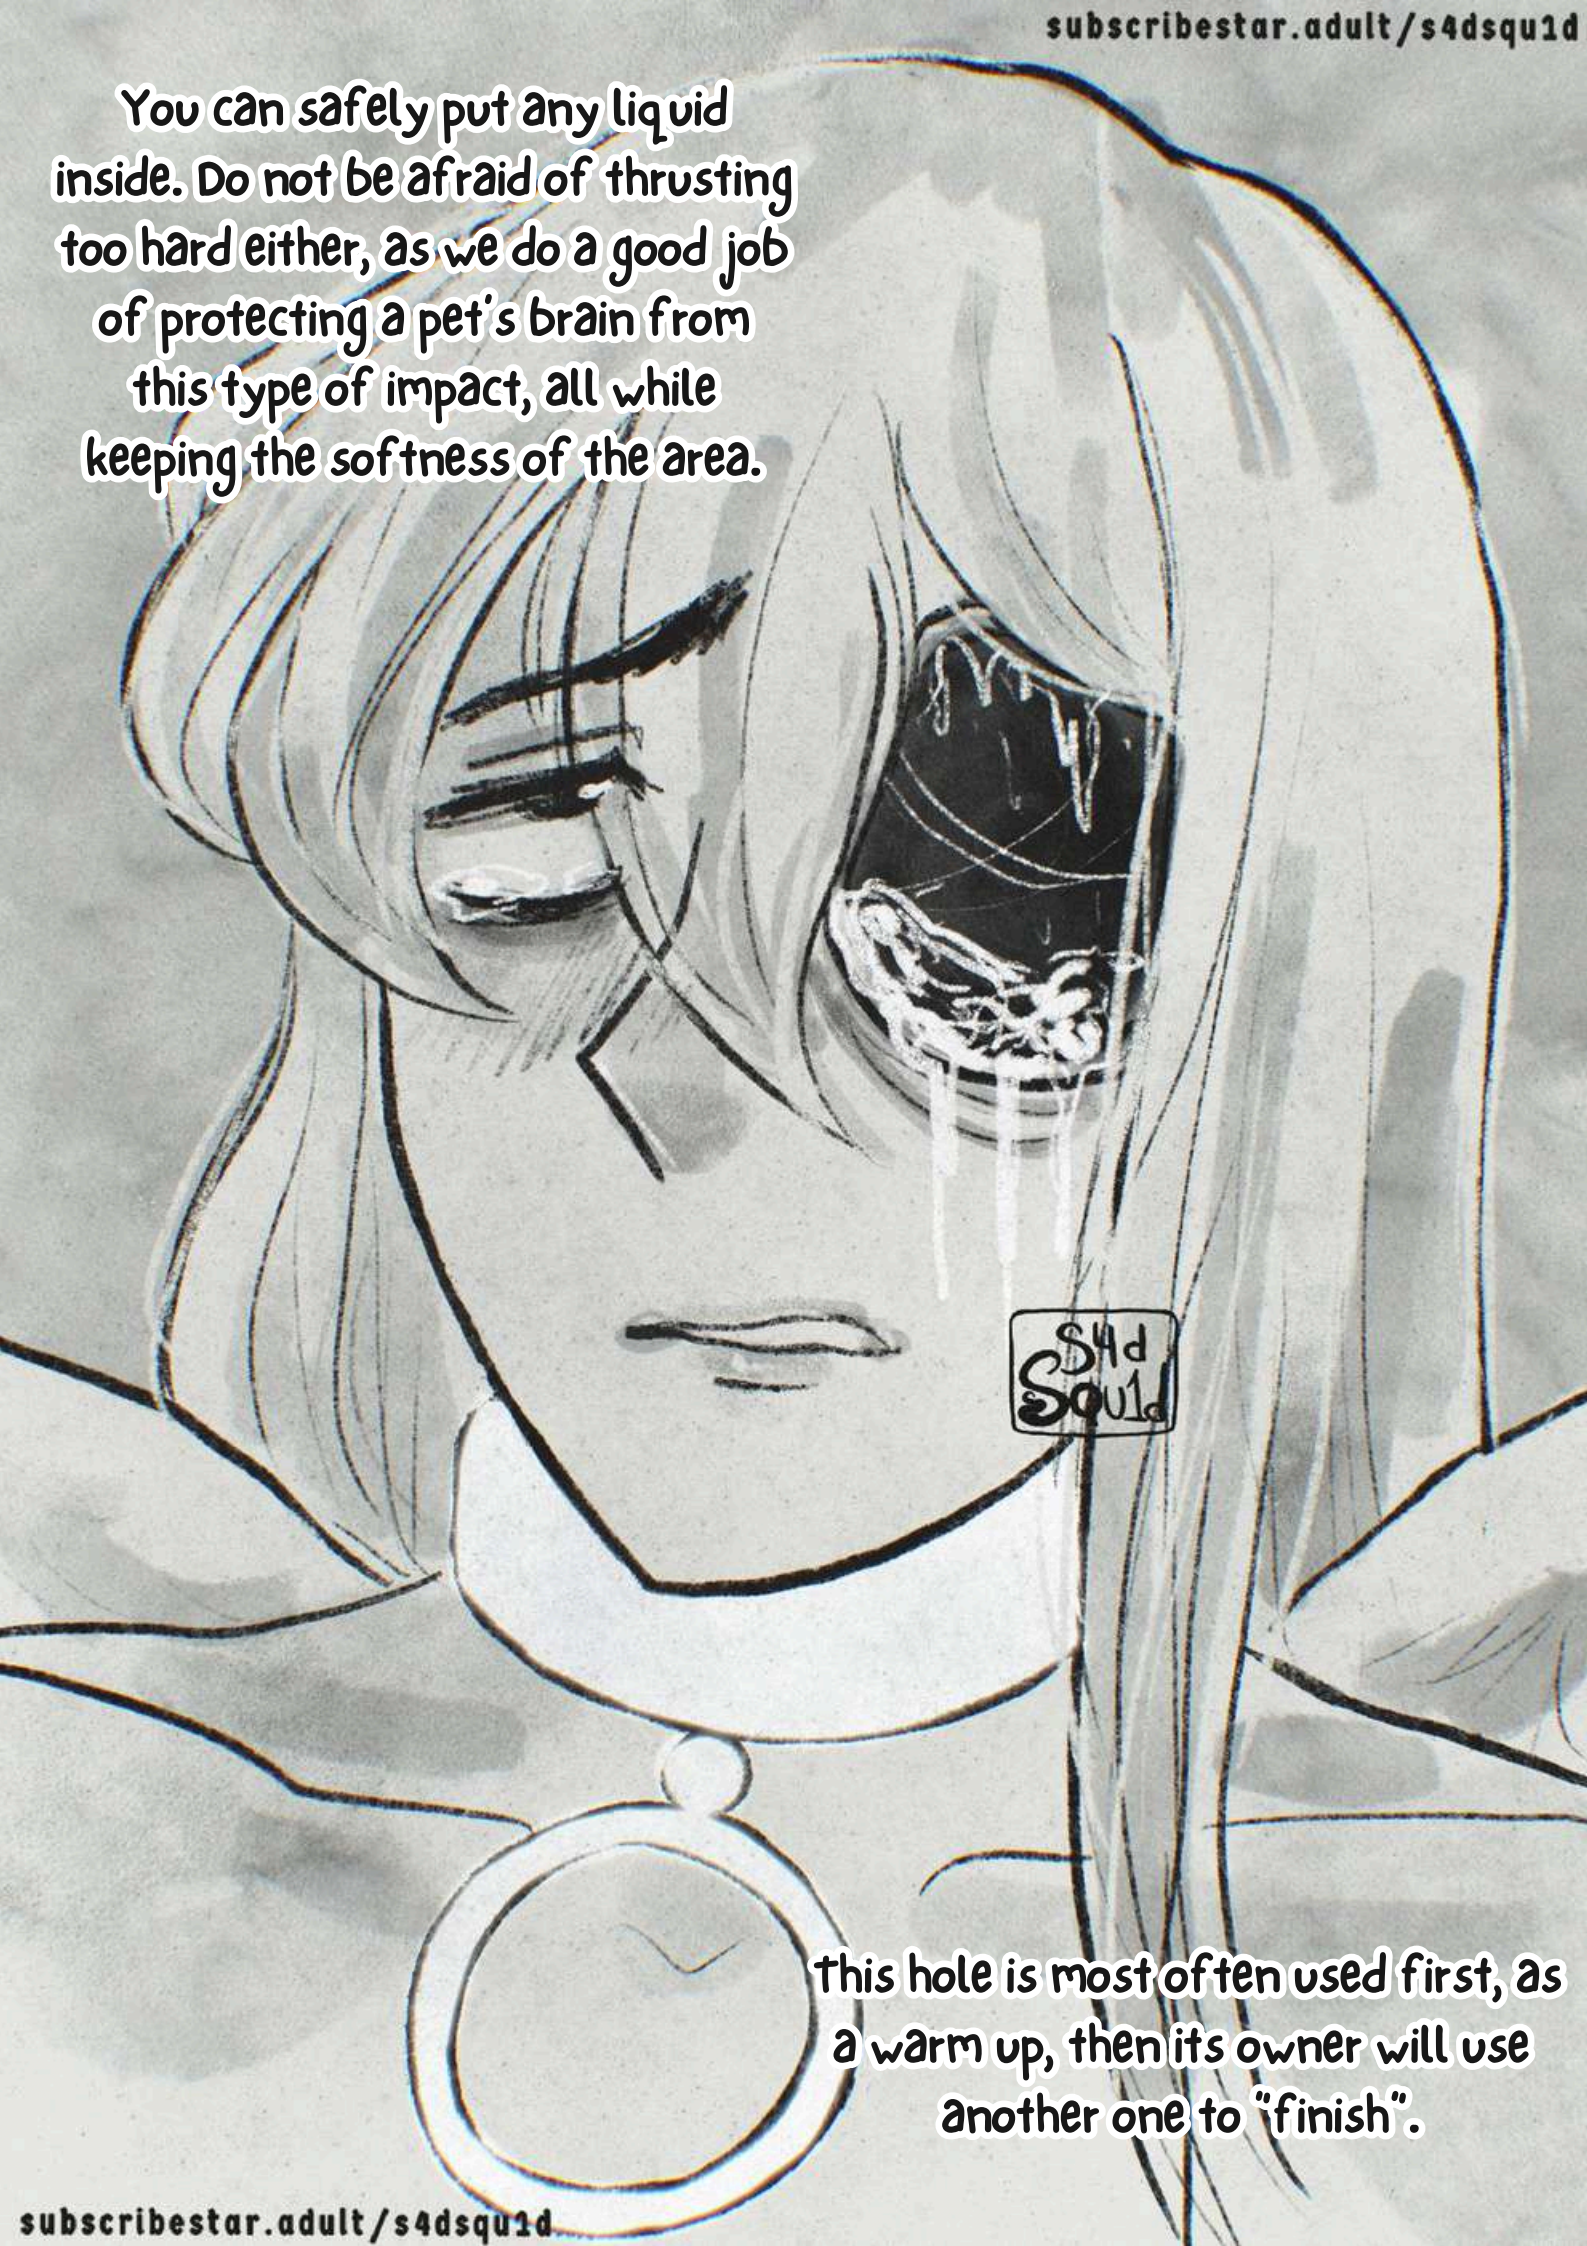

As you might have guessed, there's still more ways to use a Fleshlight Pet!

S4d Soul

Its eye hole don't usually fit a whole penis inside, so most demons just rub the head inside.

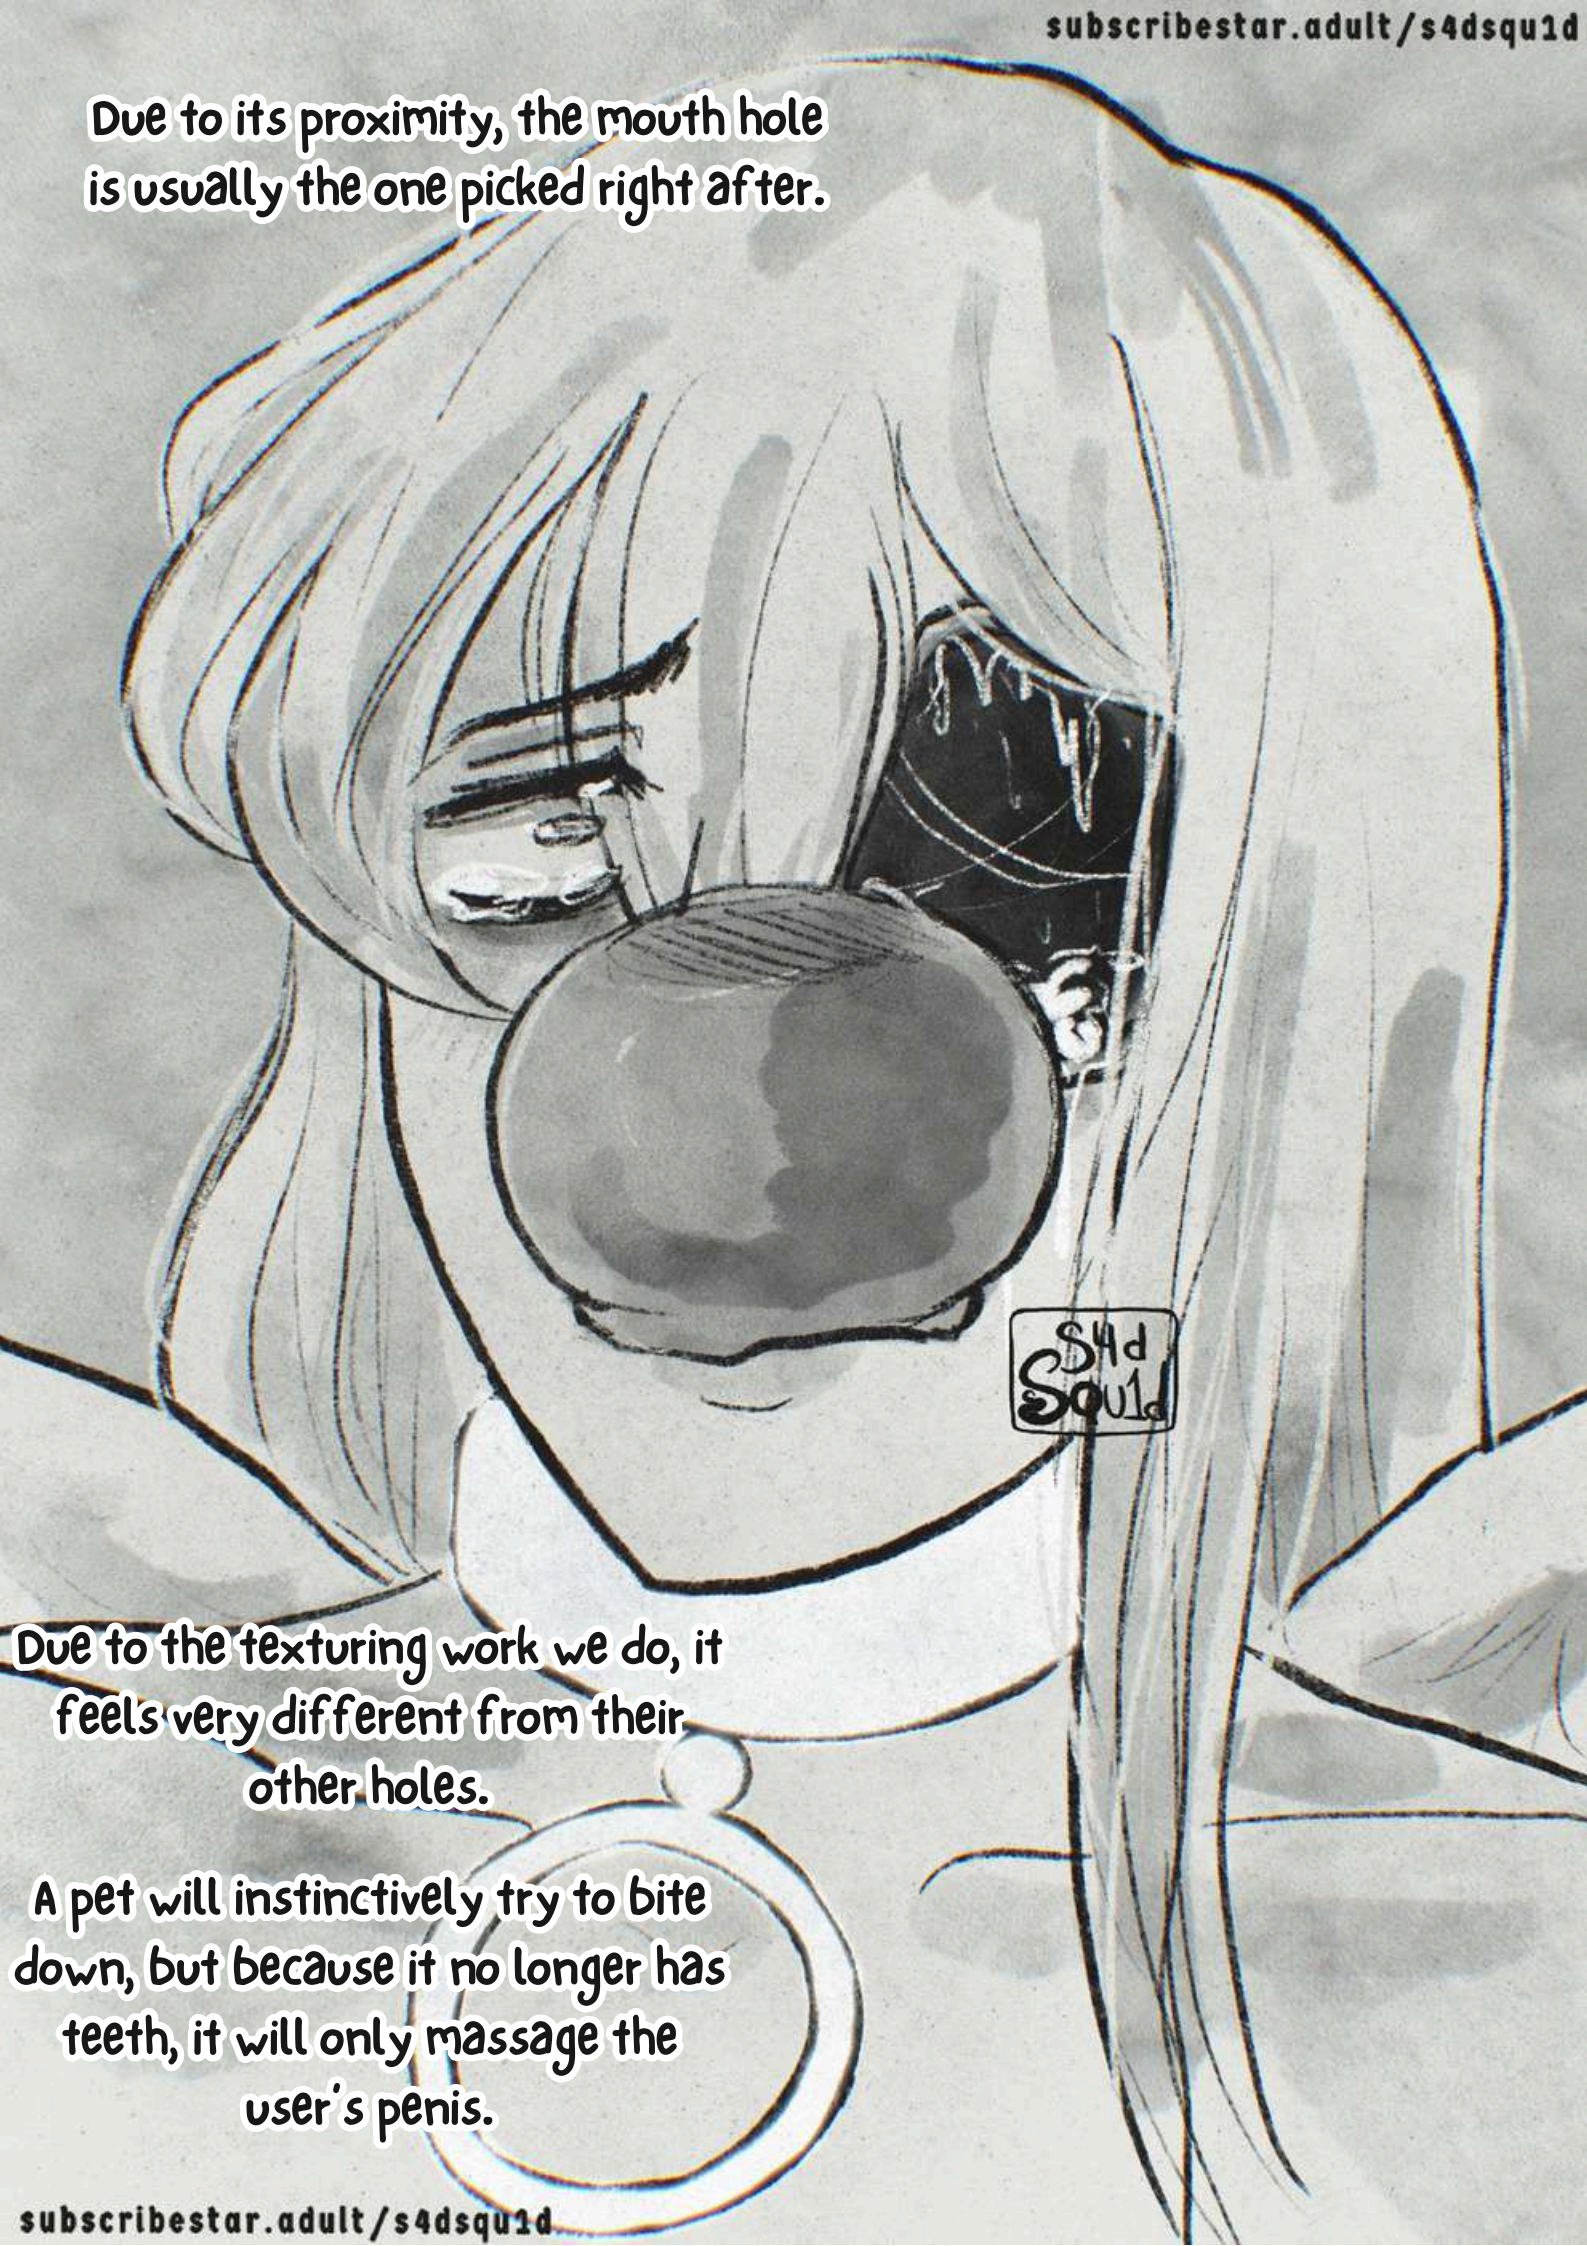

You can safely put any liquid inside. Do not be afraid of thrusting too hard either, as we do a good job of protecting a pet's brain from this type of impact, all while keeping the softness of the area.

S4d
Squ1d

this hole is most often used first, as a warm up, then its owner will use another one to "finish".

Due to its proximity, the mouth hole is usually the one picked right after.

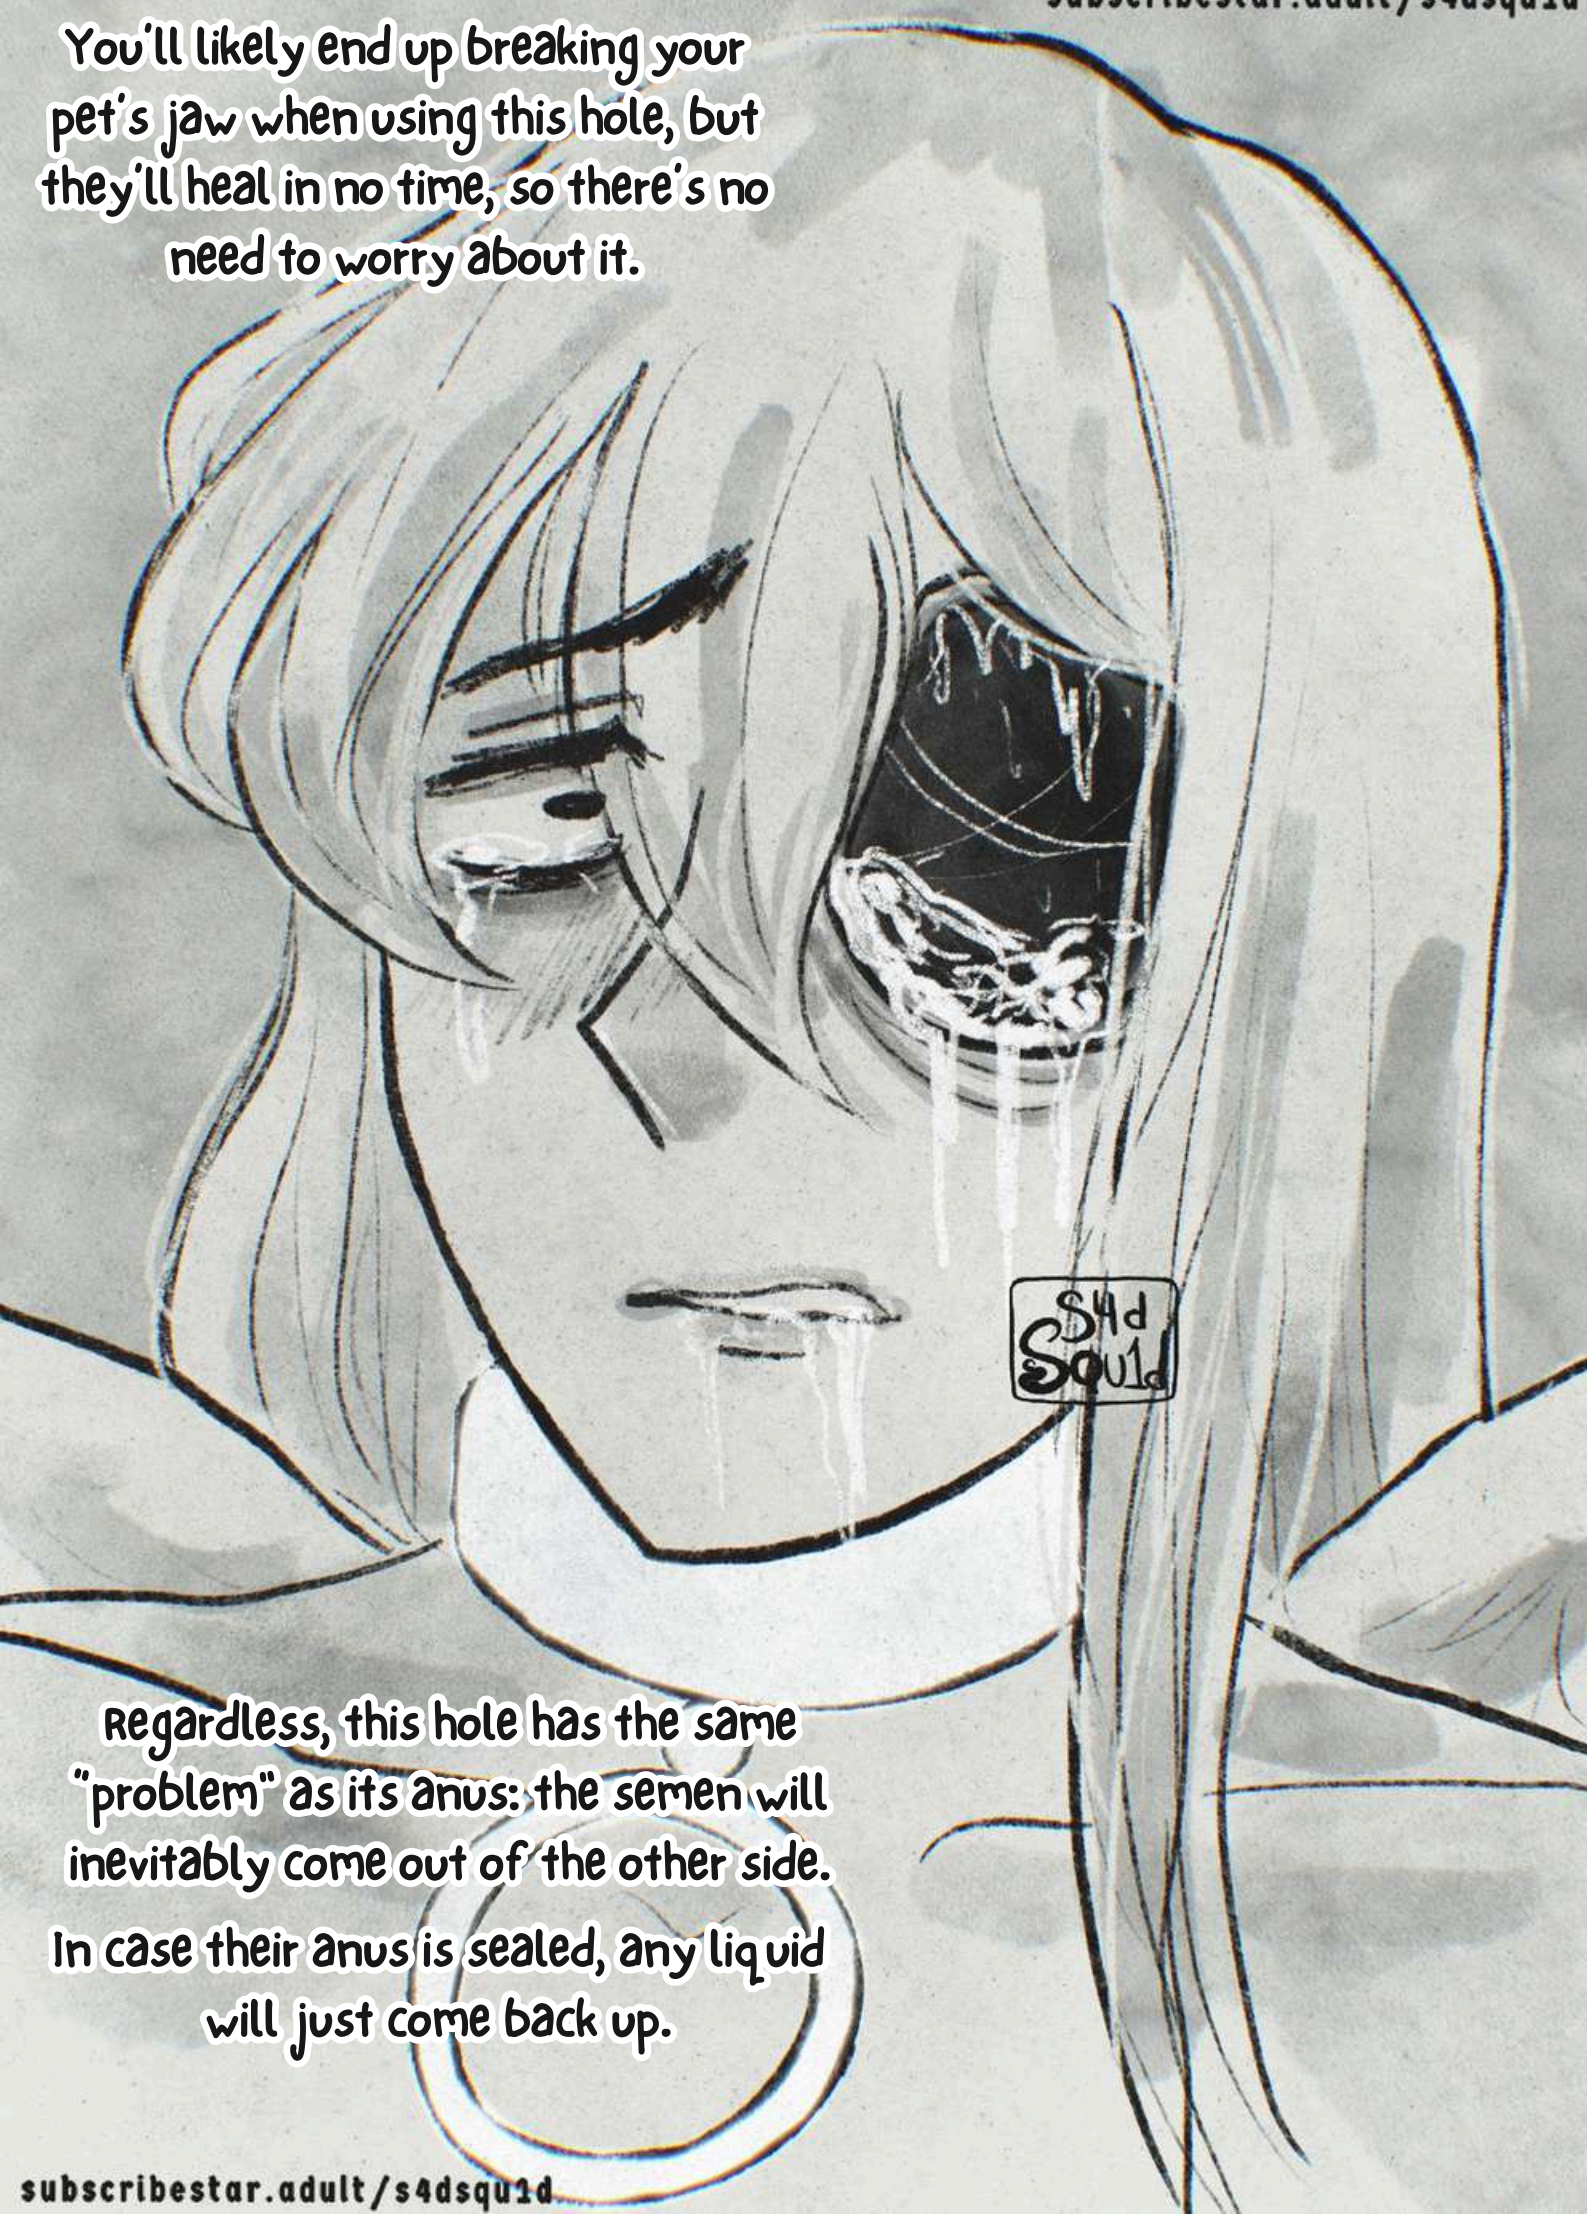

S4d
Squ1d

Due to the texturing work we do, it feels very different from their other holes.

A pet will instinctively try to bite down, but because it no longer has teeth, it will only massage the user's penis.

You'll likely end up breaking your pet's jaw when using this hole, but they'll heal in no time, so there's no need to worry about it.

S4d
Squ1d

Regardless, this hole has the same "problem" as its anus: the semen will inevitably come out of the other side. In case their anus is sealed, any liquid will just come back up.

As previously mentioned, some people like using Fleshlight pets as decoration, so here is an example!

A couple of months have passed since this one has been bought.

As you can see, some more mods have been added. Its eye was sewn shut, tongue weights were added and its clitoris has been made bigger.

The stump plaques have been changed to more aesthetically pleasing internal ones. We don't offer those to the public
yet but we will soon!

All of our tests have been successful so far!

Also, the nipples mod has progressed!

A more compact long term device has been placed on its pet parts. It both manages liquid waste and keeps the pet fed.

S4d
Squid

This version is much more practical as it requires even less owner maintenance, but can only be used safely on pets that are kept suspended. It's also more expensive

Yes, we do carry them in our stores!

The design and inner workings are patented by Your Perfect Pet

Candles are a very popular temporary accessory for a Fleshlight Pet that is suspended.

A pet's clitoris is, of course the best place for them.

S4d
Squid

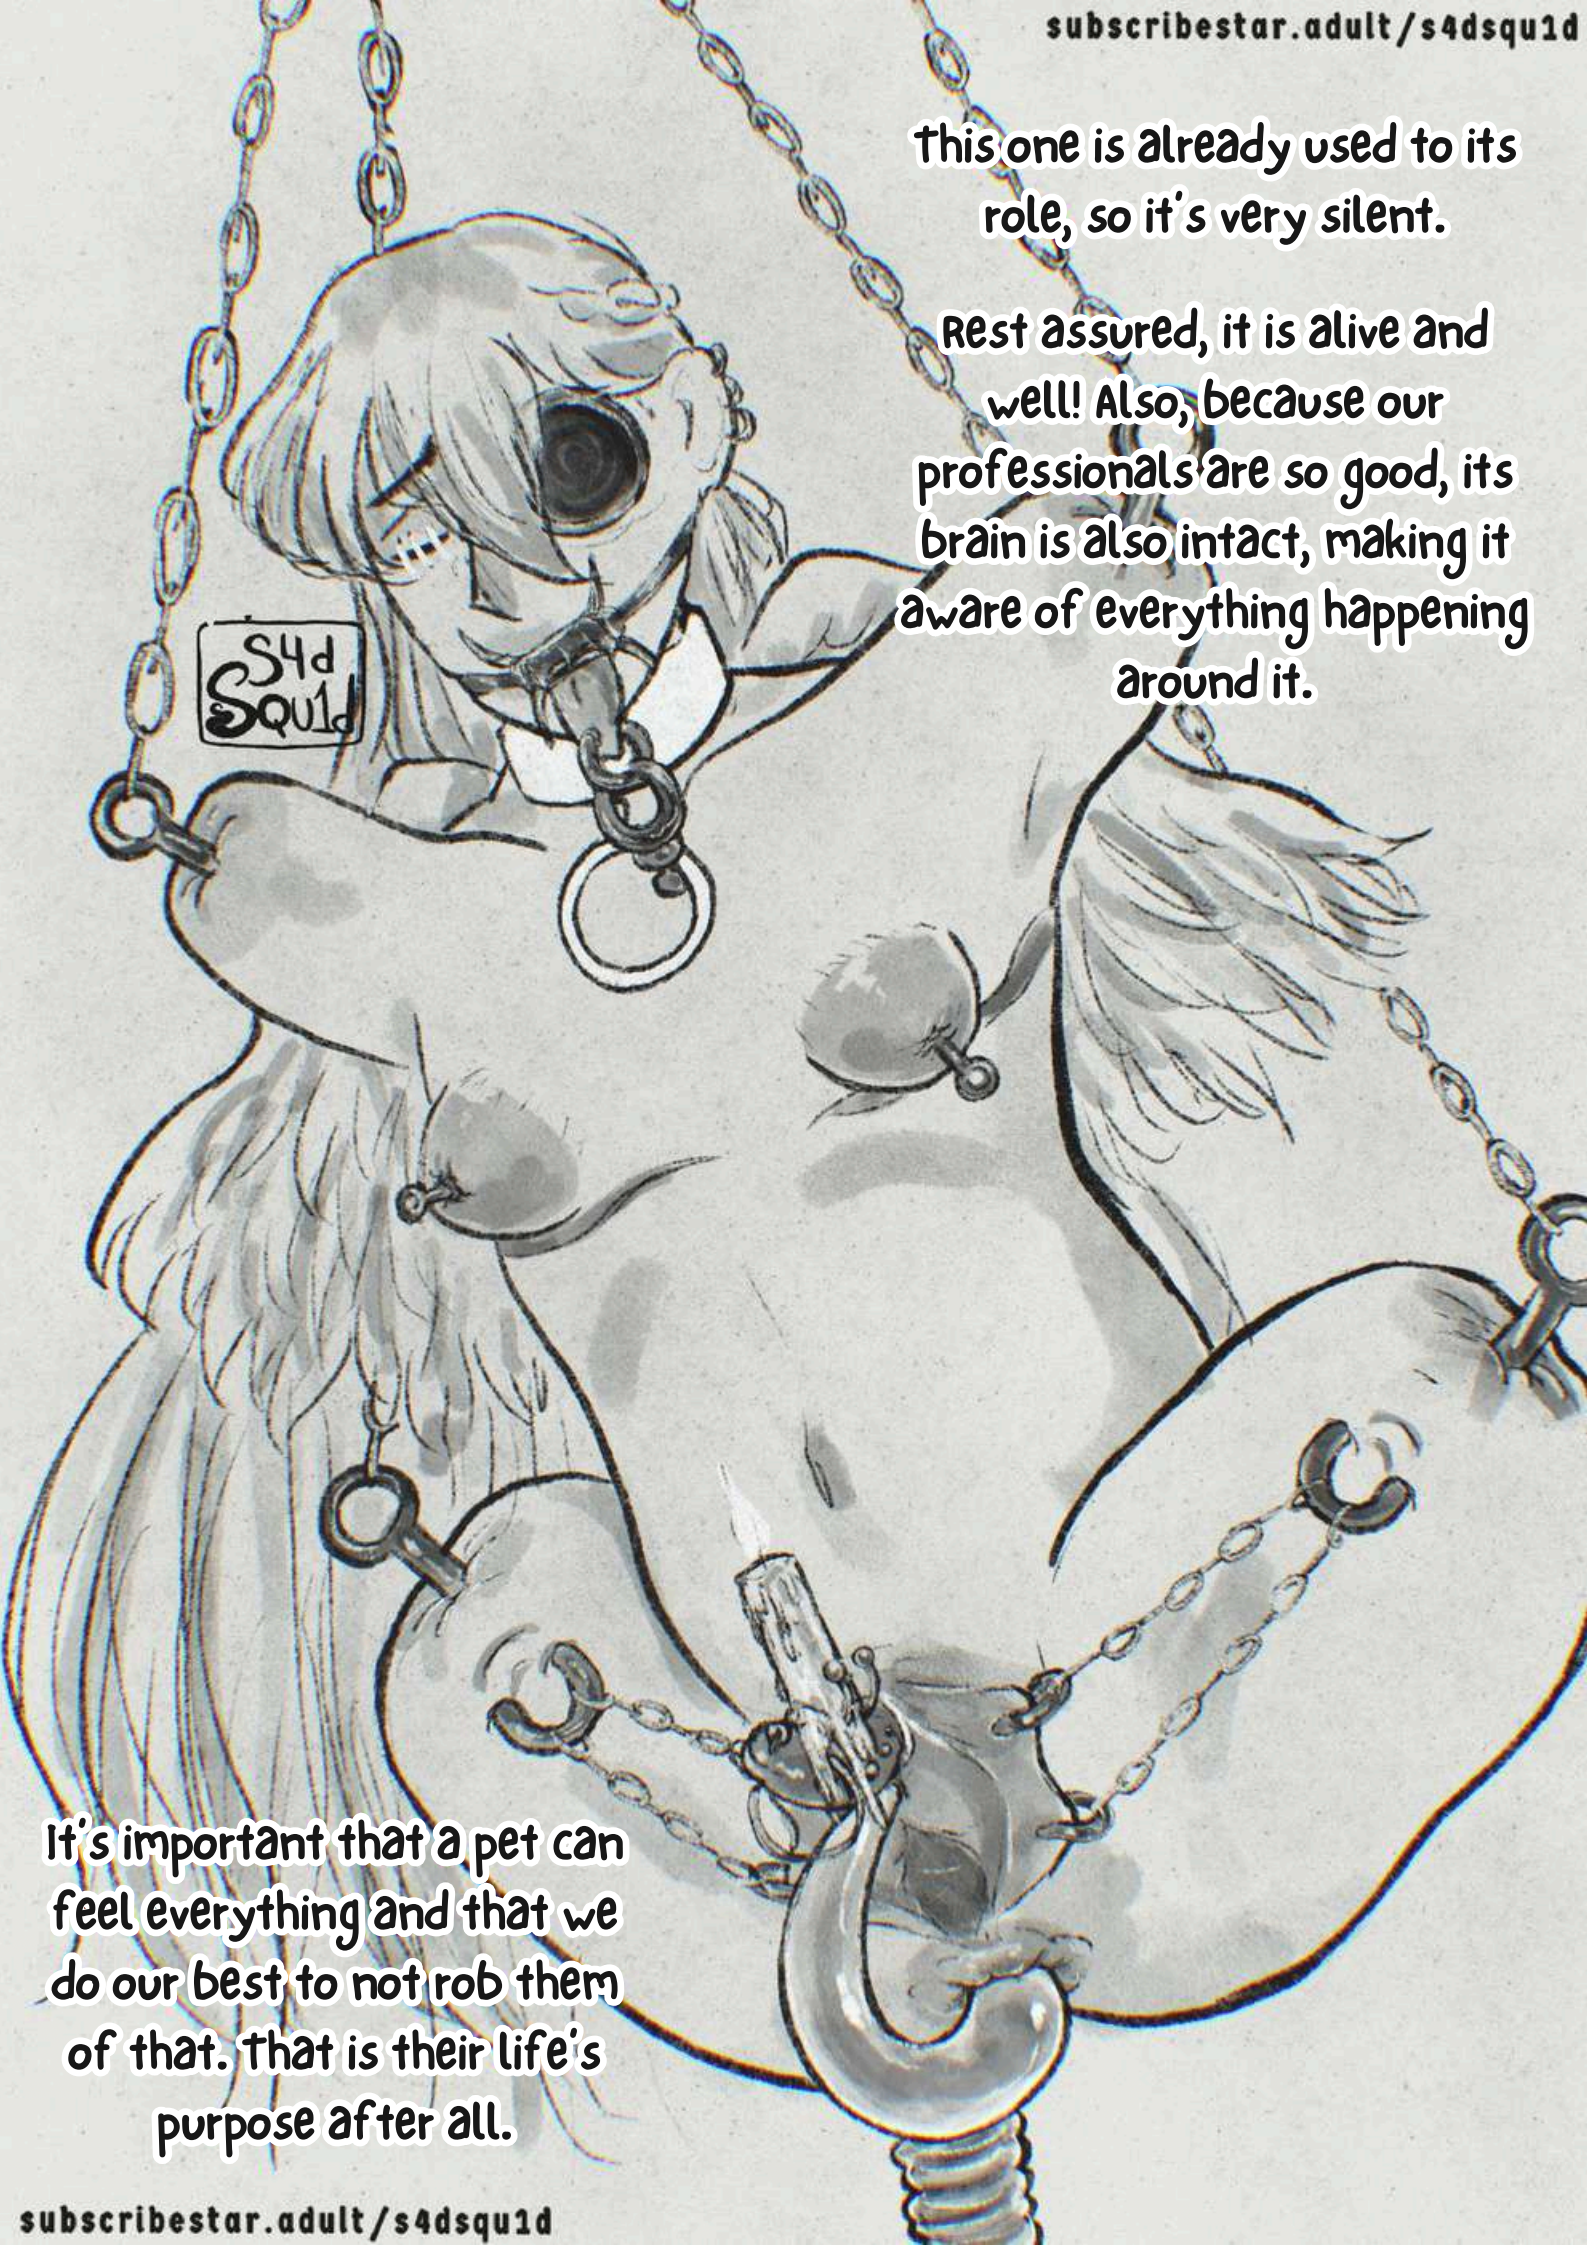

It is very easy to place, all you need is a long needle attached to the bottom of its clitoris. It needs to be long enough to poke out at the top. The candle is then inserted in the needle.

That way it will move and twitch as the wax drips down, casting a very pretty, unique light.

Never leave any candle unsupervised. Your Perfect Pet is not liable for any fire damages to property that may result from owner carelessness.

This one is already used to its role, so it's very silent.

Rest assured, it is alive and well! Also, because our professionals are so good, its brain is also intact, making it aware of everything happening around it.

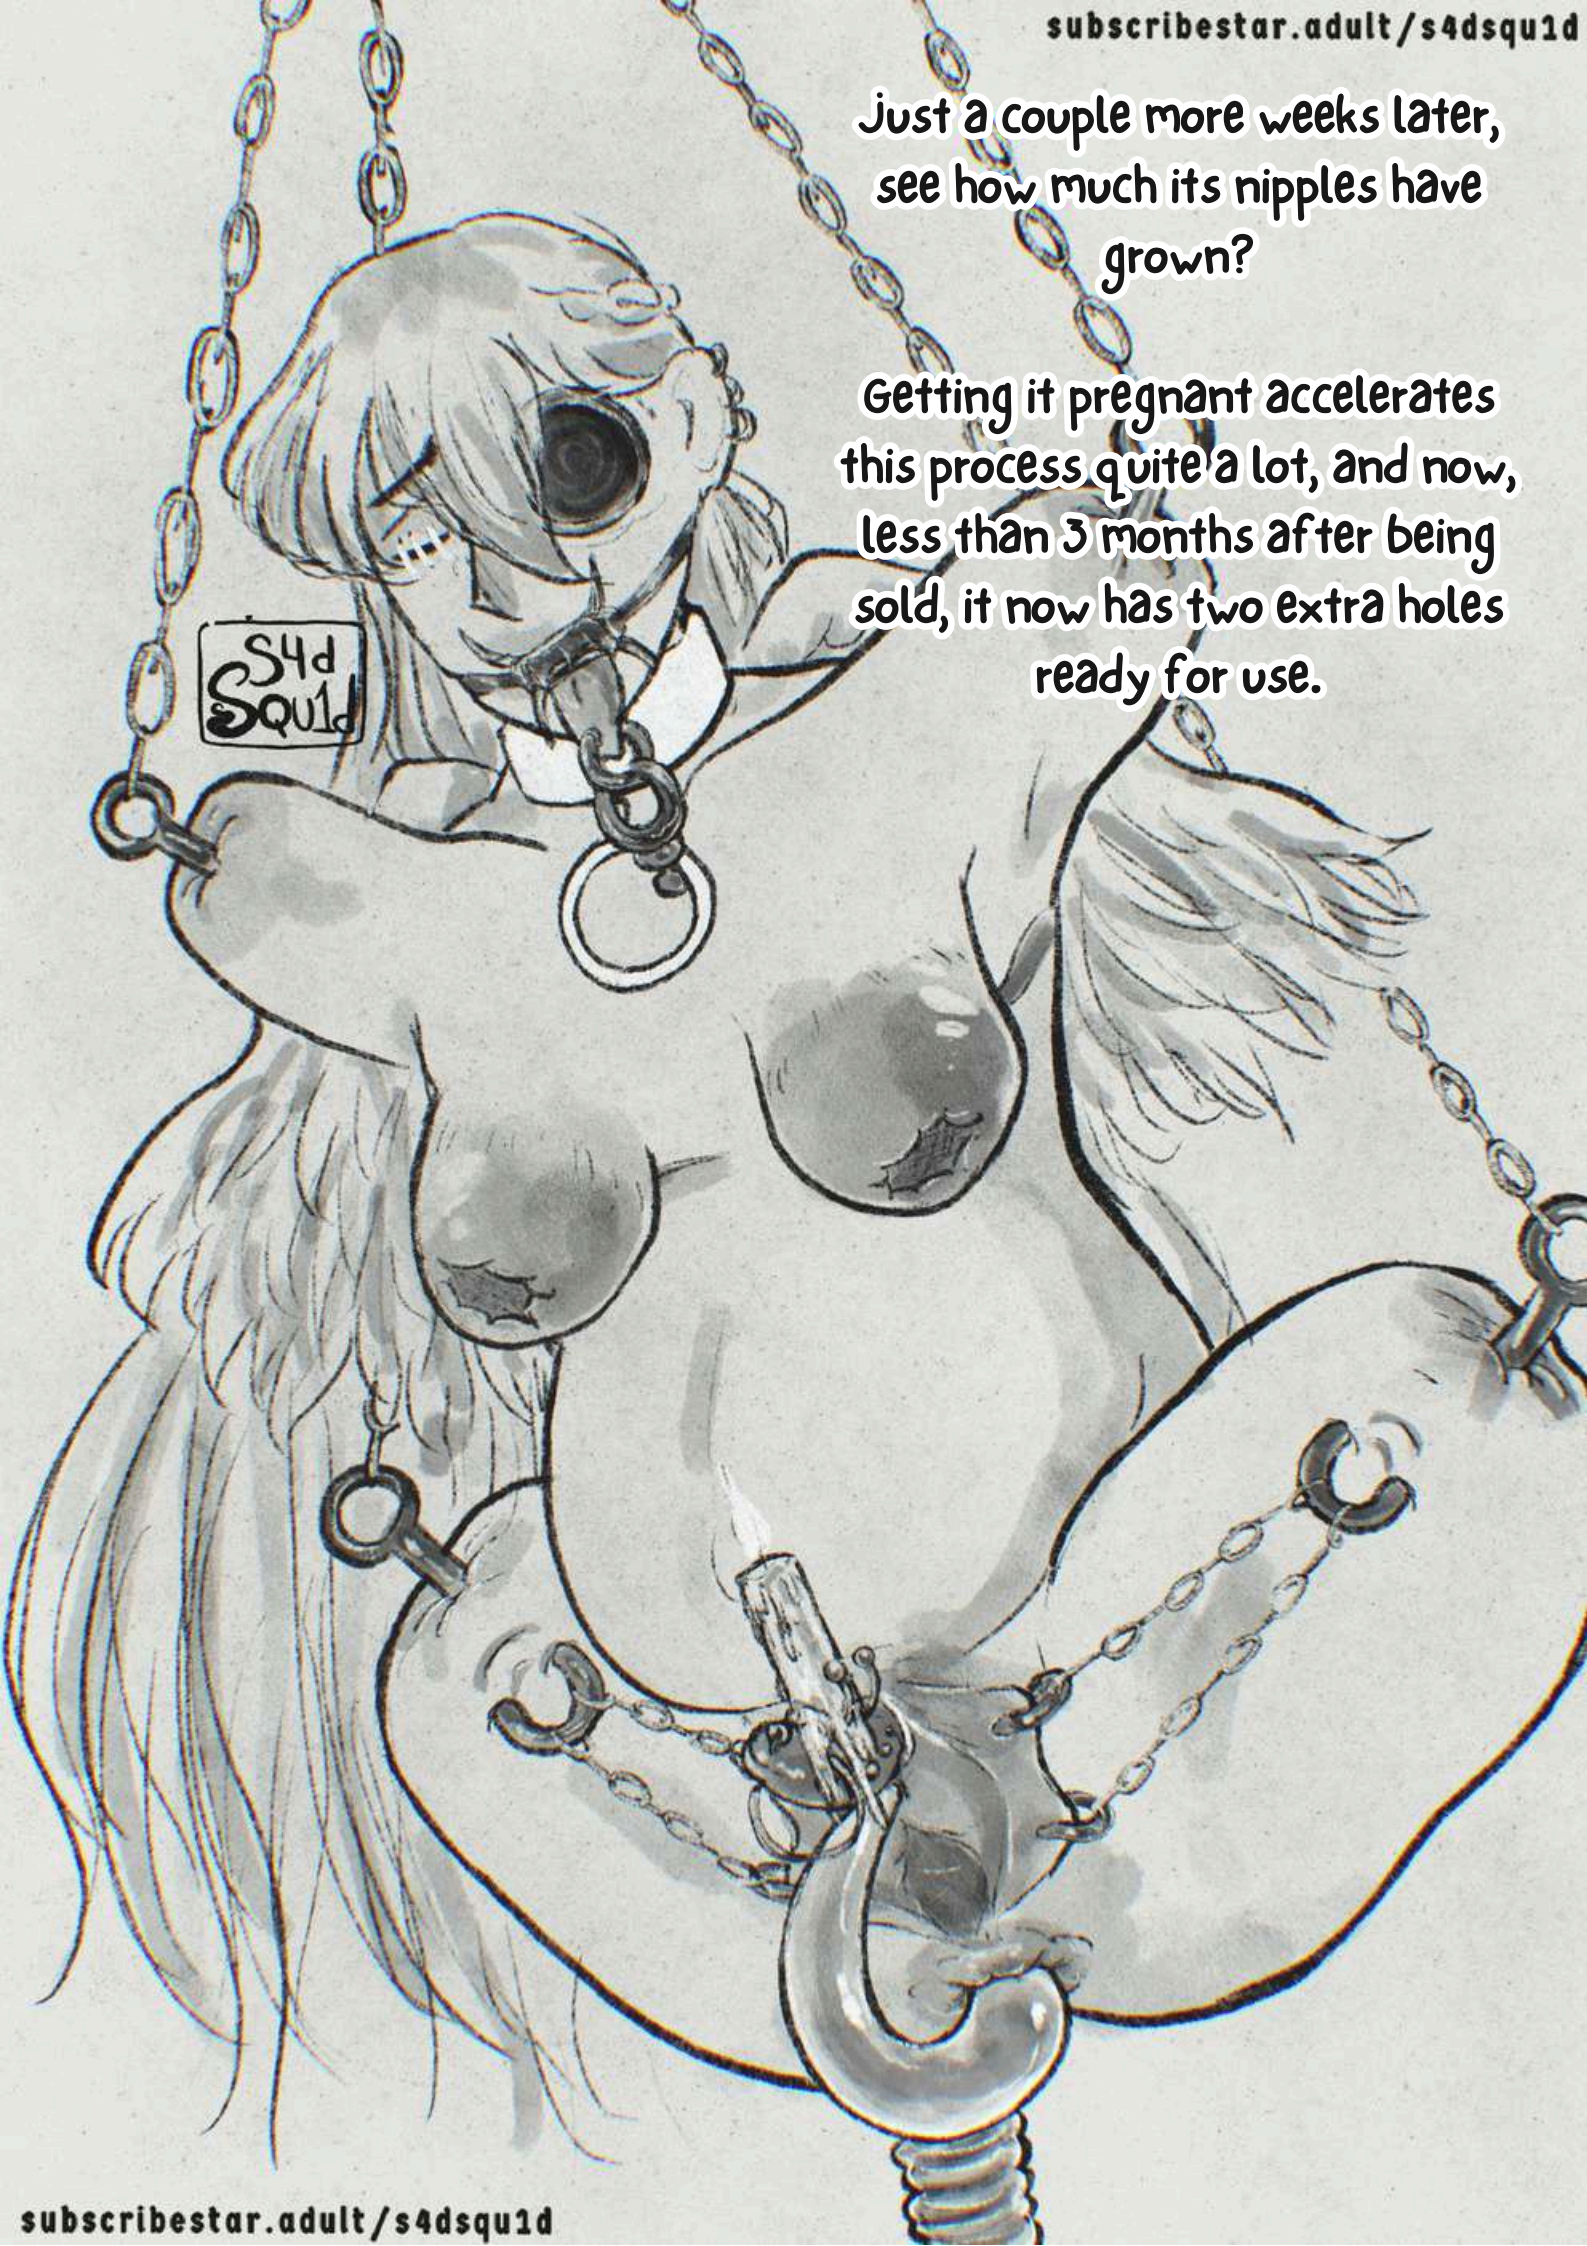

S4d
Squid

It's important that a pet can feel everything and that we do our best to not rob them of that. That is their life's purpose after all.

Just a couple more weeks later, see how much its nipples have grown?

Getting it pregnant accelerates
this process quite a lot, and now, less than 3 months after being sold, it now has two extra holes ready for use.

S4d
Squid

Due to how large the holes are, texture plates have been added to the inside of its nipples, held in place by piercings.

What these holes lack in tightness, they will make up for it with the soft texture combo of the skin and plates. It's also constantly oozing milk, which functions as lube.

Because it's carrying two demon babies, its belly grew quite a lot. Don't worry, it can safely give birth even on this position, we just need to take out the feeding and cleaning devices once labor starts!

However, if it's your first time assisting a pet give birth, we recommend you seek the assistance of a licensed veterinary professional.

Anyway, we hope this made you see how much easy taking care of a Fleshlight Pet is!

Not only is it much less hassle than a more traditional one, it will give you much more pleasure in many different ways, while still being able to give you as many children as you desire!
